John White never "tires" of playing with Cynthia Espinoza on the field.

Felita King puts the finishing touches on her skirt in Ms. Evans' seventh period homemaking class.

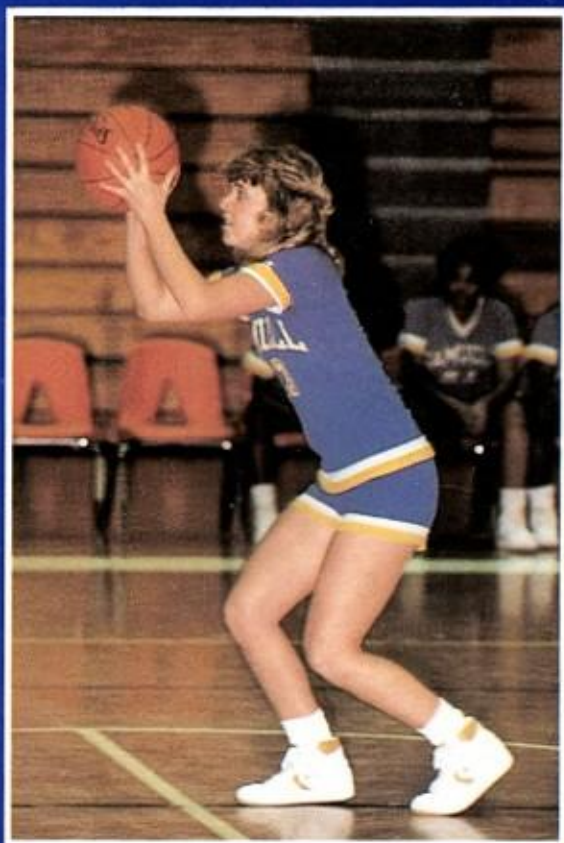

Carrie Quinn is interested in the action on the court at the Skyline game while Christi Tucker, Deanna Welch, and Leanna Worley are more interested in the latest gossip.

At the fair Mike Carlisle persuades Susan McAnally and Anthony Tabaniag to loan him just one more quarter for the arcade.

Melissa Carol is "For Your Eyes Only" at Razz-Ma-Tazz.

Stacy Wagner shoots for two at the West Mesquite game which the Spartans won 56-27.

"No pass, no play" really hurt the Spartan band with the exception of Russell Ansley, Todd Elkins, John White, and a few others.

The spirit of you

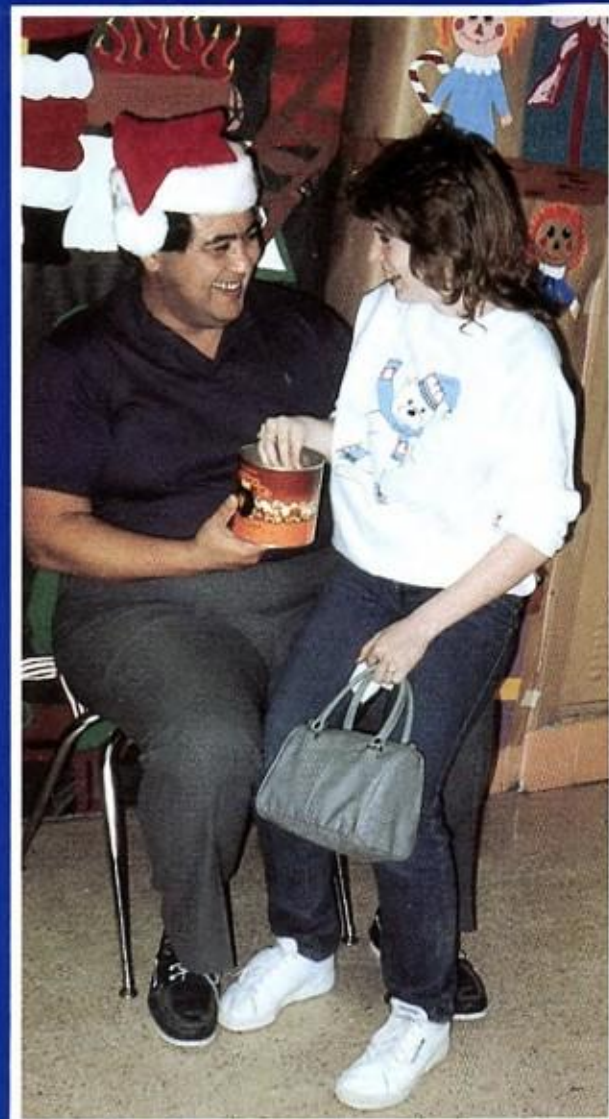

Students and teachers at Samuell had many different interests and goals. Yet for a brief period, the 1985-1986 school year, all were united as part of Samuell High School and the Pleasant Grove community. All had the common goal of wishing to succeed whether it was on the football field, tennis court, or in the classroom. The TEAMS and TAP tests were very important to Spartans. The varsity cheerleaders made up a yell to encourage ninth graders to do well on the TEAMS test. Anthony Richardson also wrote a song to stress the importance of passing the test.

Many students had specific goals and interests. "My interest was powerlifting, although I was interested in photography and other things. I hoped to get a powerlifting scholarship and one day become a Dallas policeman," stated, senior, Chris Henderson. Freshman, Dana Morgan said, "My interest was soccer, and I planned to become an accountant later in life."

Other students knew what they were interested in, but they had no specific goal or career at that point. Freshman, Jorge Saucedo said, "My interest was soccer, but I had not chosen a specific career." Junior, Jason Penland said, "My interest was learning and preparing for college."

The students and faculty shared in the accomplishments and failures that occurred in the 1985-1986 school year. Some were concerned with only the school while others reached out to the world. Coach Scott commented, "I was sorry we did not make the playoffs in basketball." Ms. McCollum said, "When the Challenger exploded right before my eyes, I could not believe it. That was something that made me feel how fragile life was. We all need to help each other." That was just what the Spartans did.

Chris Henderson leads the Spartans in the alma mater at the BA pep assembly.

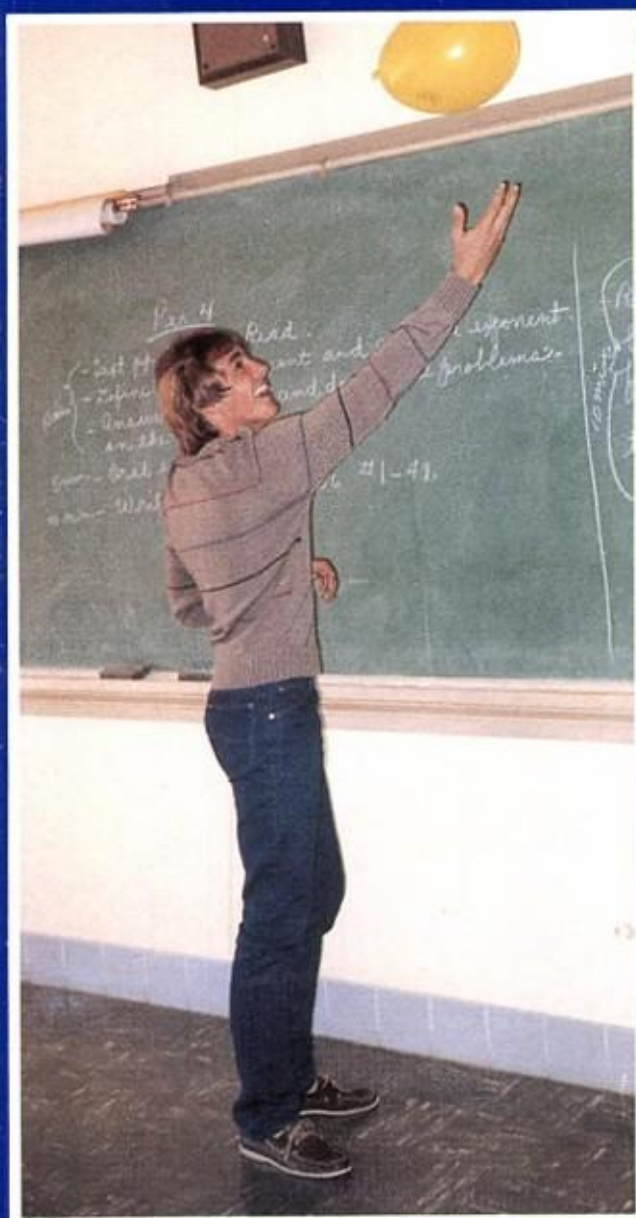

Tony Rhodes concentrates on bringing up his grade in Algebra II class.

Justin Hocker works on his research paper in the library.

Tanya Smith, Janet King, and Greta Jackson enjoy exchanging gossip during "B" lunch period.

In Ms. Pipkins fourth period class Terry Withrow proves the theory that what goes up must come down eventually.

In the Skyline pep assembly Dr. Hughey cartwheels the varsity football team to a victory.

Spirited school days

Spirited school days were spent at Samuell from eight-thirty to four o'clock, Monday through Friday. Davin Davis said, "I thought Samuell was a nice place to spend my days."

The spirited Spartans took academic classes such as English, math, science, and history. They also spent time doing homework, research papers, and studying for tests and exams. Patricia Johnson said, "I enjoyed my school days by going to Ms. Gambrell's English class." Carlette Armstrong said, "I enjoyed my United States government class." Angie Pennie said, "I enjoyed going to Coach Scott's health class."

The spirited Spartans also took electives. They did not mind taking electives because they could take whatever courses they wanted. Patrice Sutton said, "I enjoyed running track." Ruth Smitty said, "I liked Homemaking II because I learned how to cook and take care of a family."

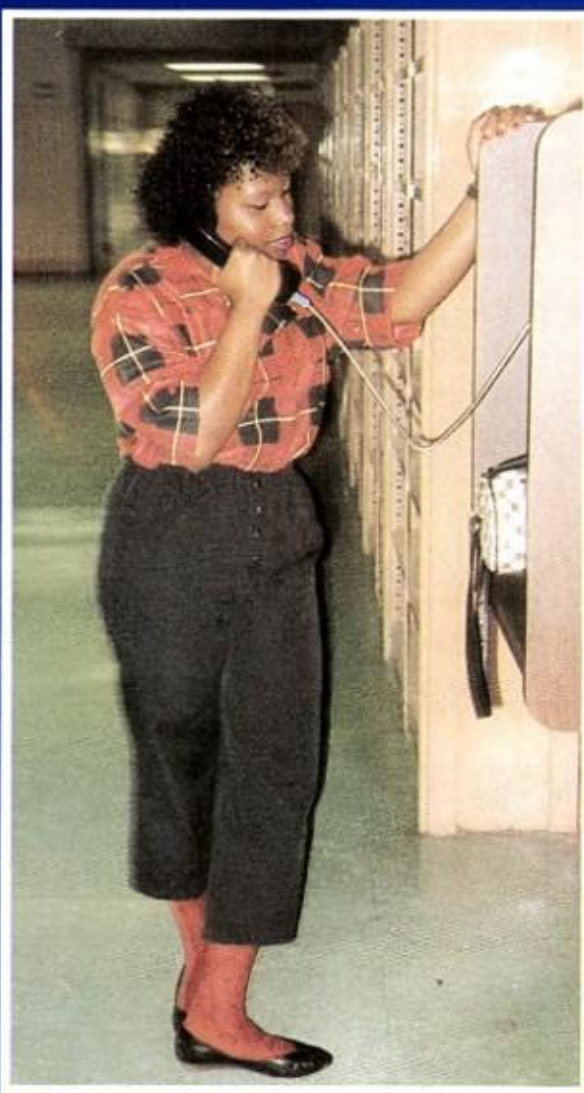

Students also spent school days at UIL competitions, choir contests, and Allied Youth meetings. Susan McAnally said, "I enjoyed participating in Allied Youth because I had a chance to go to middle schools and tell students about drugs." With the interest and participation of students, the Spartans enjoyed their days at school.

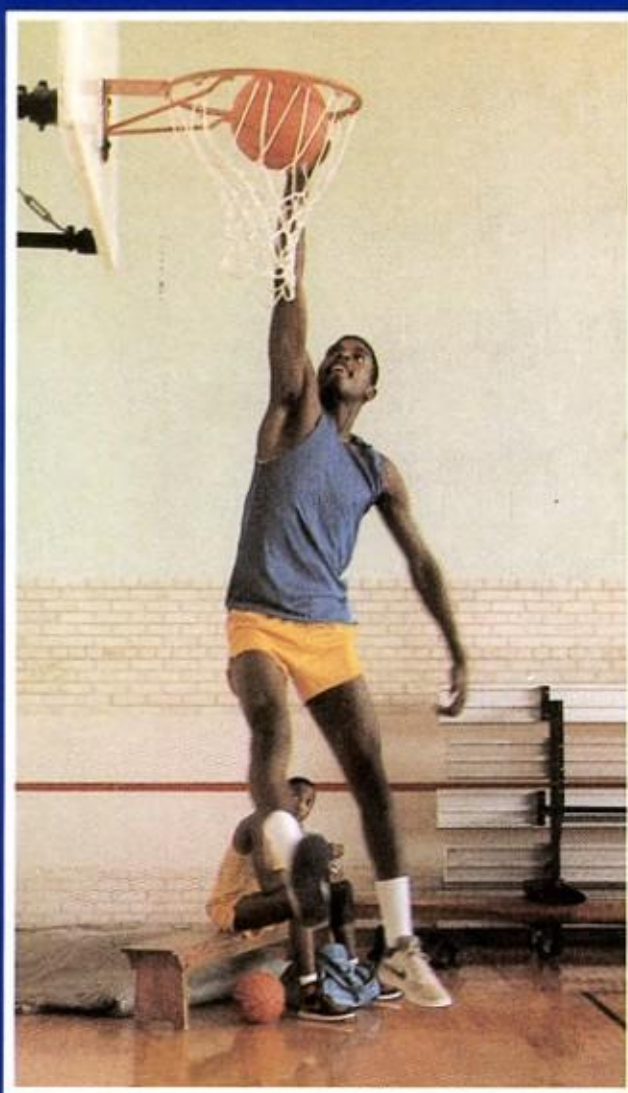

Sherri Wafford and Lance Phillips practice the "Dream Ballet" at Oklahoma dress rehearsal.

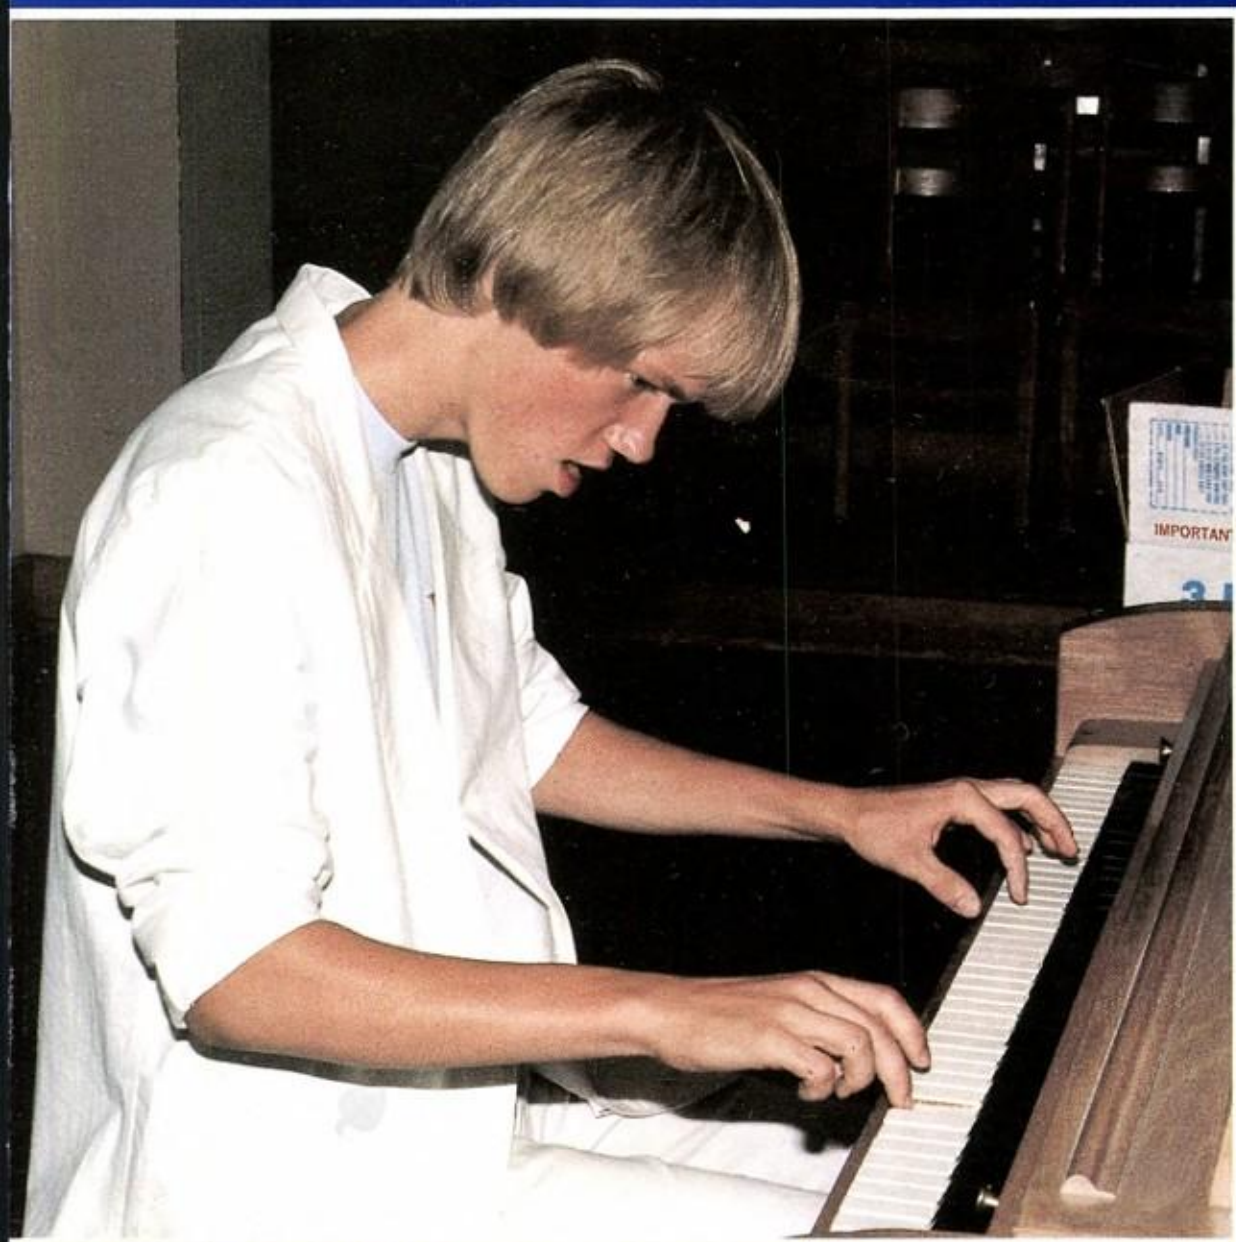

At Razz-Ma-Tazz Molly Yandell and Chris Henderson show that the senior dance really has style.

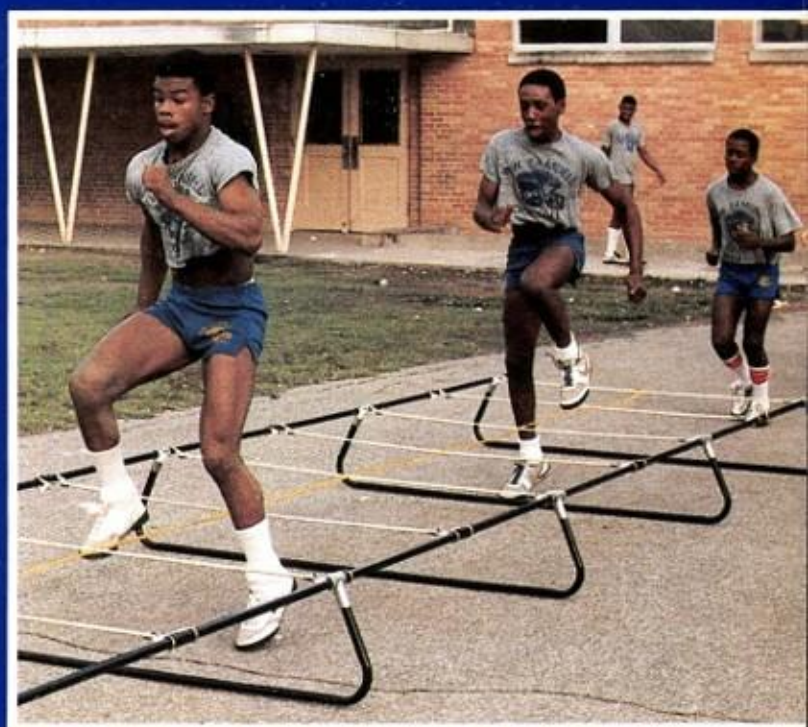

Iva Hamilton calls her boyfriend on the new pay phones during "B" lunch.

Roderick Williams slams for two during seventh period basketball practice.

In concert choir Paul Fredrick practices and hopes to have Mr. Cannon's job some day.

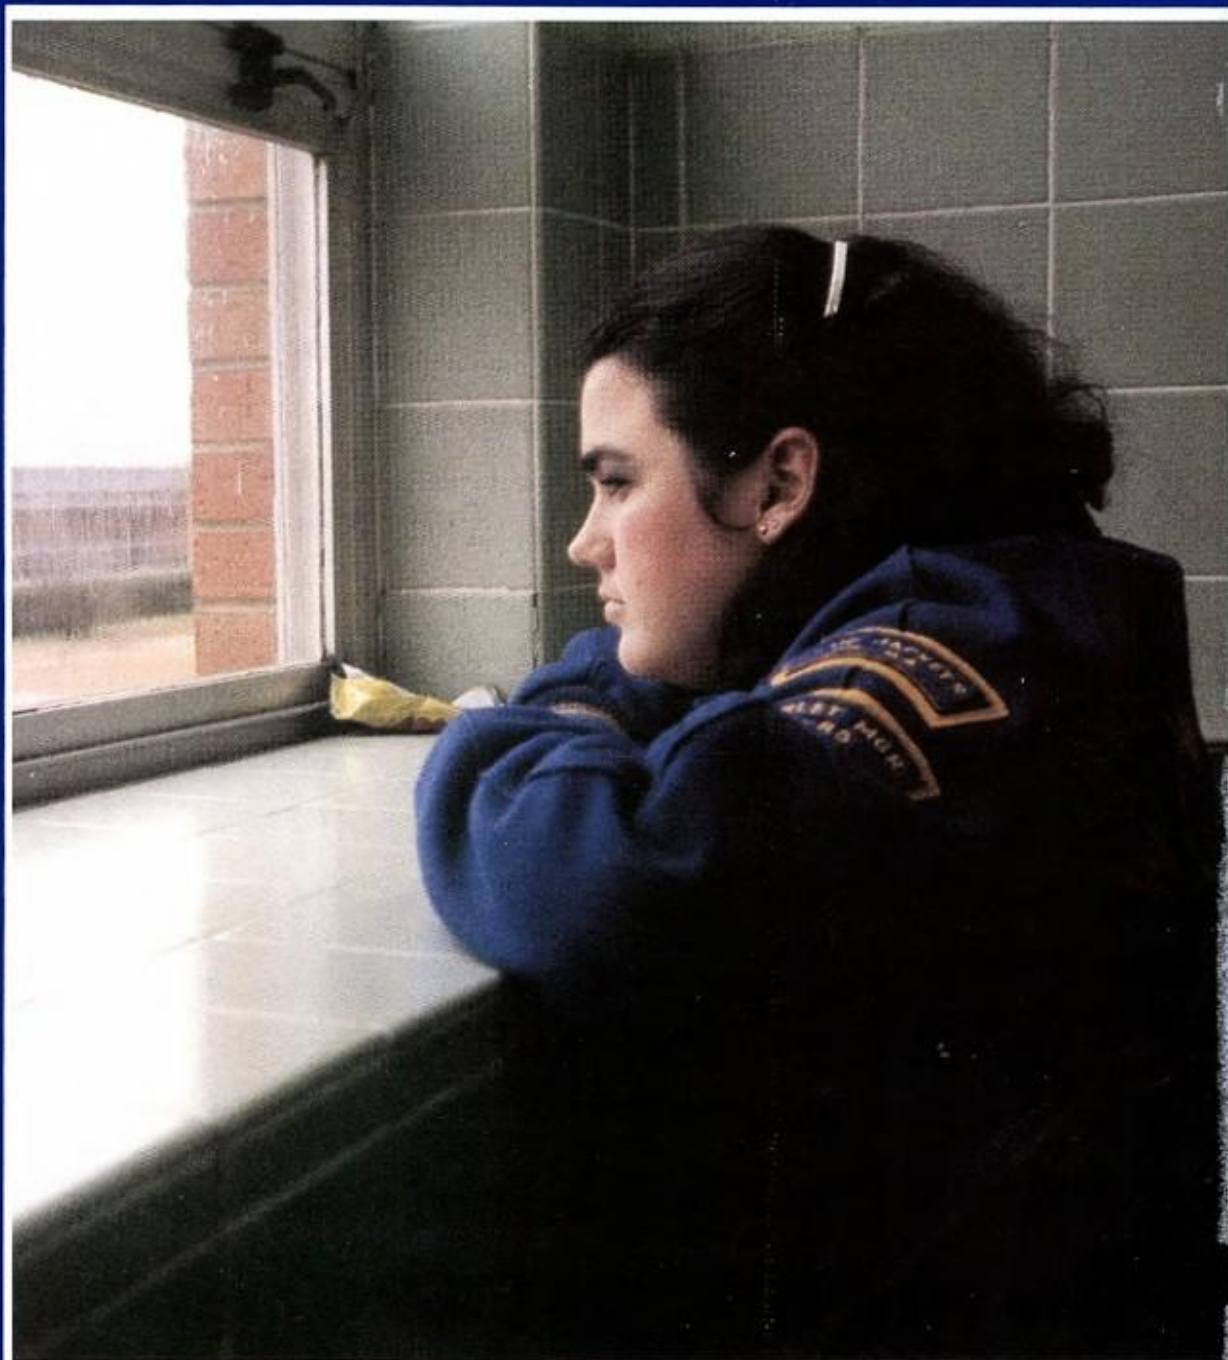

Marcel Davis, Curfey Goldman, and Johnnie Johnson master the skill of running ropes during seventh period football practice.

Traci Fitch finds art class to be challenging during the blind contour drawing exercise.

On a rainy day Dottie Bellah contemplates her future.

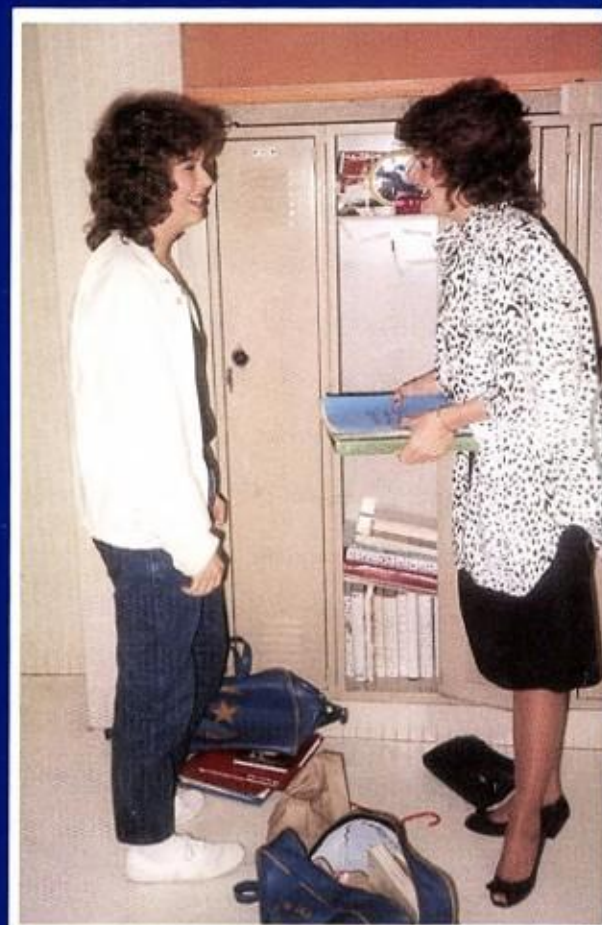

Spirited school nights

School nights were spent several ways by students at Samuell. One way students spent their school nights was attending various activities and events such as football, basketball, and soccer games. Daniel Vasquez said, "I spent my school nights going to different games."

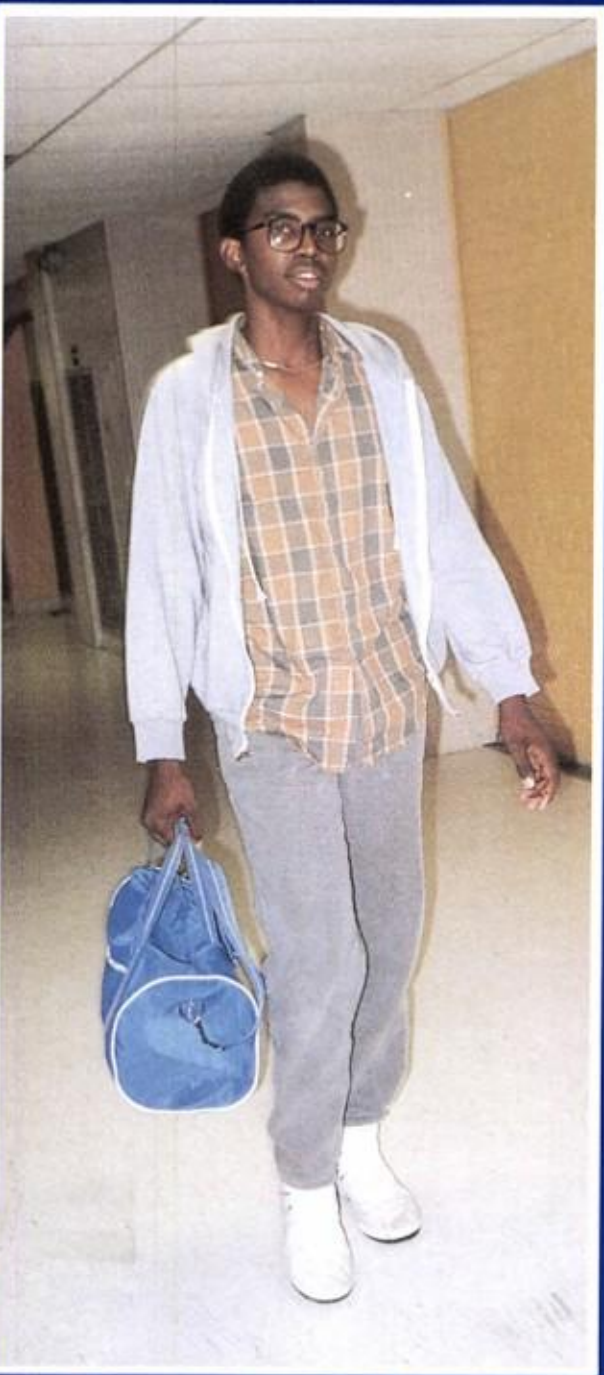

Spartans found other ways to spend their nights also. Some went to work while others studied or socialized with friends. Karen Boyce said, "I cooked dinner or went to work at Arby's on school nights." Janice Ward said, "Some nights I went to work at Kentucky Fried Chicken and other nights I talked on the phone." Sherri Crouch said, "I spent my school nights talking on the phone and listening to the radio." Albert Paredes said, "I spent my school nights doing homework, studying, or looking at television." Laura Aguirre said, "I talked on the phone and sometimes I studied." Rosalie York added, "I watched television. My favorite show was the Bill Cosby Show."

Few Spartans seemed to spend time on homework. Tonya May said, "I did not spend time on homework because there were too many extracurricular activities." Kenny Rogers said, "I did not spend much time on homework because I needed to catch up on my sleep."

After first period Starlets Tracie Hampton and Marcy Smith figure out a way to get all their "stuff" in their locker.

Cheles Rhynes doesn't mind that he is tardy to Mr. Nicholson's third period class.

Ricky Phillips, Ronald Morgan, and Craig Stout wait for Mr. Sosa's Spanish club meeting to begin.

Lori Hoppert, Jenifer May, and Christy May present the Blue Jacket float at the Homecoming assembly.

Varsity cheerleaders are "working for a victory" at the half time of the Skyline basketball game.

Cherry Brown is no clown when it comes to playing soccer against the Apaches.

Spirited weekends

Weekends were spent numerous ways by the Spartans. Some were involved in school related activities while others stayed at home or went out with friends. These school related activities on the weekends included math contests, football and basketball games, and musical presentations. Misti Ransom said, "I spent my weekends going to football games."

Others were more interested in staying at home. Jisun Campbell said, "I enjoyed spending my weekend at home babysitting." Patreecia Brown said, "I usually invited company over on the weekends."

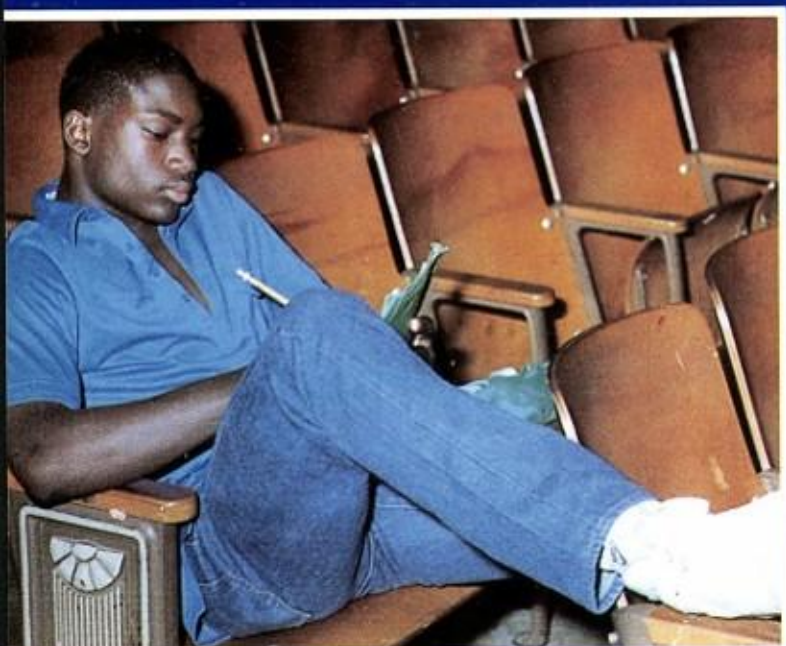

Still others wanted to spend time with friends or just get out of the house.

Veronica Williams said, "I enjoyed my weekends by going to the Bruton Theater or Pizzazz." Hae-Sun Lee said, "I spent my weekends going to Town East Cinema and riding around on Galloway." Shannon Floyd said, "I usually spent my weekends with friends at AMC Cinema, J. J. Muggs, Dunston Steakhouse, Chili's, or shopping at Town East Mall." Janet King said, "I spent my weekends hanging out with the 'Crunch Bunch' and Mr. M.D."

Wherever they were, the Spartans enjoyed their weekends. Braun Porter said, "Everyone deserved to get out and have fun on the weekends after working hard all week at school."

Teresa Wright eavesdrops on Mr. Nicholson's chemistry class.

Kelley Westbrook wishes she were with Mark Sullins instead of in the library.

JV cheerleaders lead the freshman team on to the field at the Mesquite game.

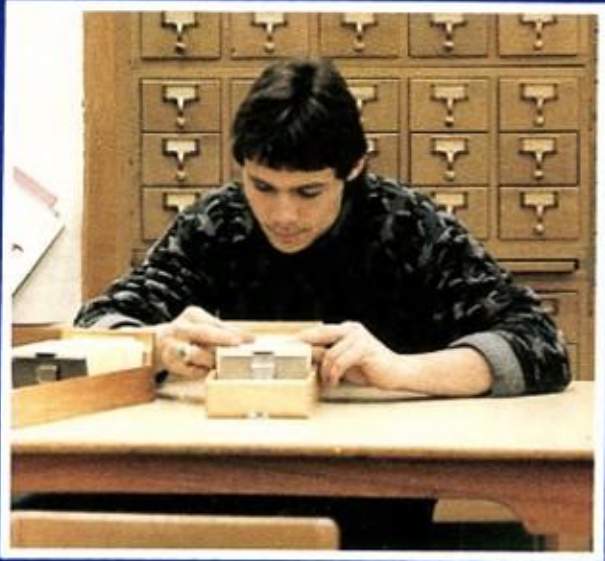

The Spartan football team celebrates a 31 to 18 victory over Roosevelt at Pleasant Grove.

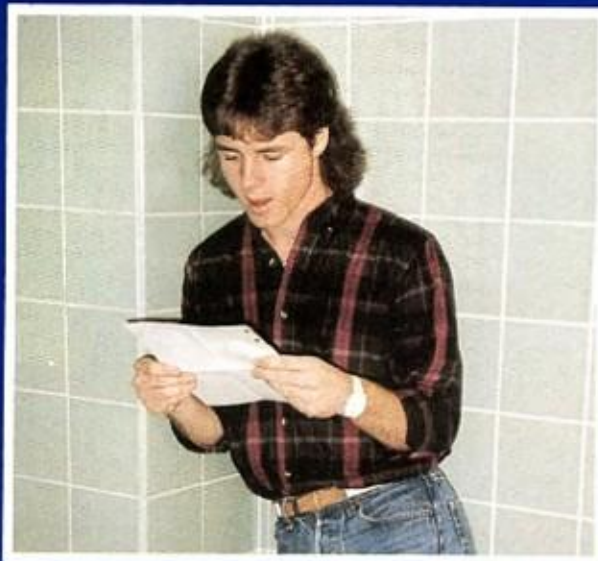

Sean Mendez, Michael White, and Marla Allman arrive at school just in time for first period.

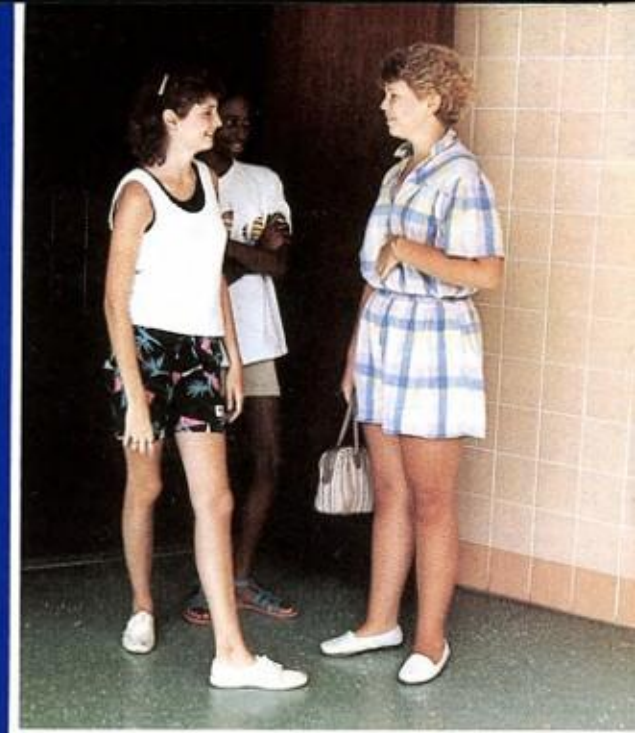

Michelle Lipscomb, Mary Williams, Lance Phillips, and Shaynor Newsome watch the Spartans lose to BA 29 to 24.

David Current looks up information on dating in the card catalog.

James Kelly reads a note from his secret admirer.

Monica Reeves, Kate Chambers, and Tonya Vait wait for a Blue Jacket meeting that was cancelled.

ALMA MATER

Hail, Samuell High!
Hail, Samuell High!
This song to thee
we sing.
We pledge to thee
our loyalty

As loud our praises
ring.

For always to the Gold and Blue
Our hearts will still be true.

As fighting Spartans
we will cry

Our love for Samuell
High.

Challis Boyd celebrates the volleyball team's victory over BA 15 to 11.

Gina McCoppin tries to convince Allen Christian to try out for drum major.

FIGHT SONG

Fight Spartans, right
down the field
Until we score that victory.
FIGHT! FIGHT!
Fight Spartans, and
never yield
Our pledge of pride
and loyalty.
RAH! RAH!
To our colors of Gold
and Blue
We ever shall be true.
GO, SPARTANS, GO!
Go crashing through
that line
And we will cheer
you all the time!

THE Spirit of YOU

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, and faculty members all contributed to the Spartan spirit and made Samuell a good place to learn and work. Most of the student body and faculty were involved and interested in the activities and academics at Samuell.

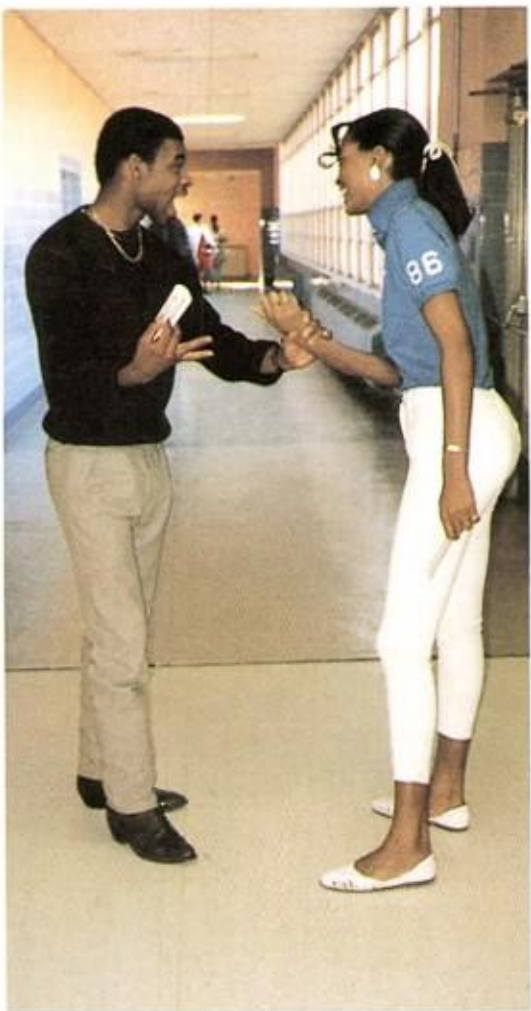

Students discussed what they liked and enjoyed at Samuell. Senior, Darren Land said, "I enjoyed being a major part of the athletic program. That really meant a lot to me." Junior, Vanda Edwards said, "I enjoyed participating in organizations at Samuell such as TORCH, Allied Youth, and FHA. Sophomore, David Mata said, "I enjoyed participating in soccer and track. I also enjoyed math because that is my favorite subject." Freshman, Davin Davis said, "There was nothing particular that I liked about Samuell. I liked the school and the atmosphere in general. I thought it was a great place to spend my days."

The faculty also discussed what they liked and enjoyed at Samuell. Ms. McCollum said, "I enjoyed teaching at Samuell. I liked the students and wanted to help each student reach his or her personal goal. I also enjoyed working with the students, teachers, parents, principals, and the community in the production of the yearbook." Another faculty member, Mr. Chenevert said, "I enjoyed supporting school activities and academics because when I taught school in Detroit the teachers did not give the students enough support. I also enjoy supporting the students at Samuell because I have never seen students as spirited as the Spartans."

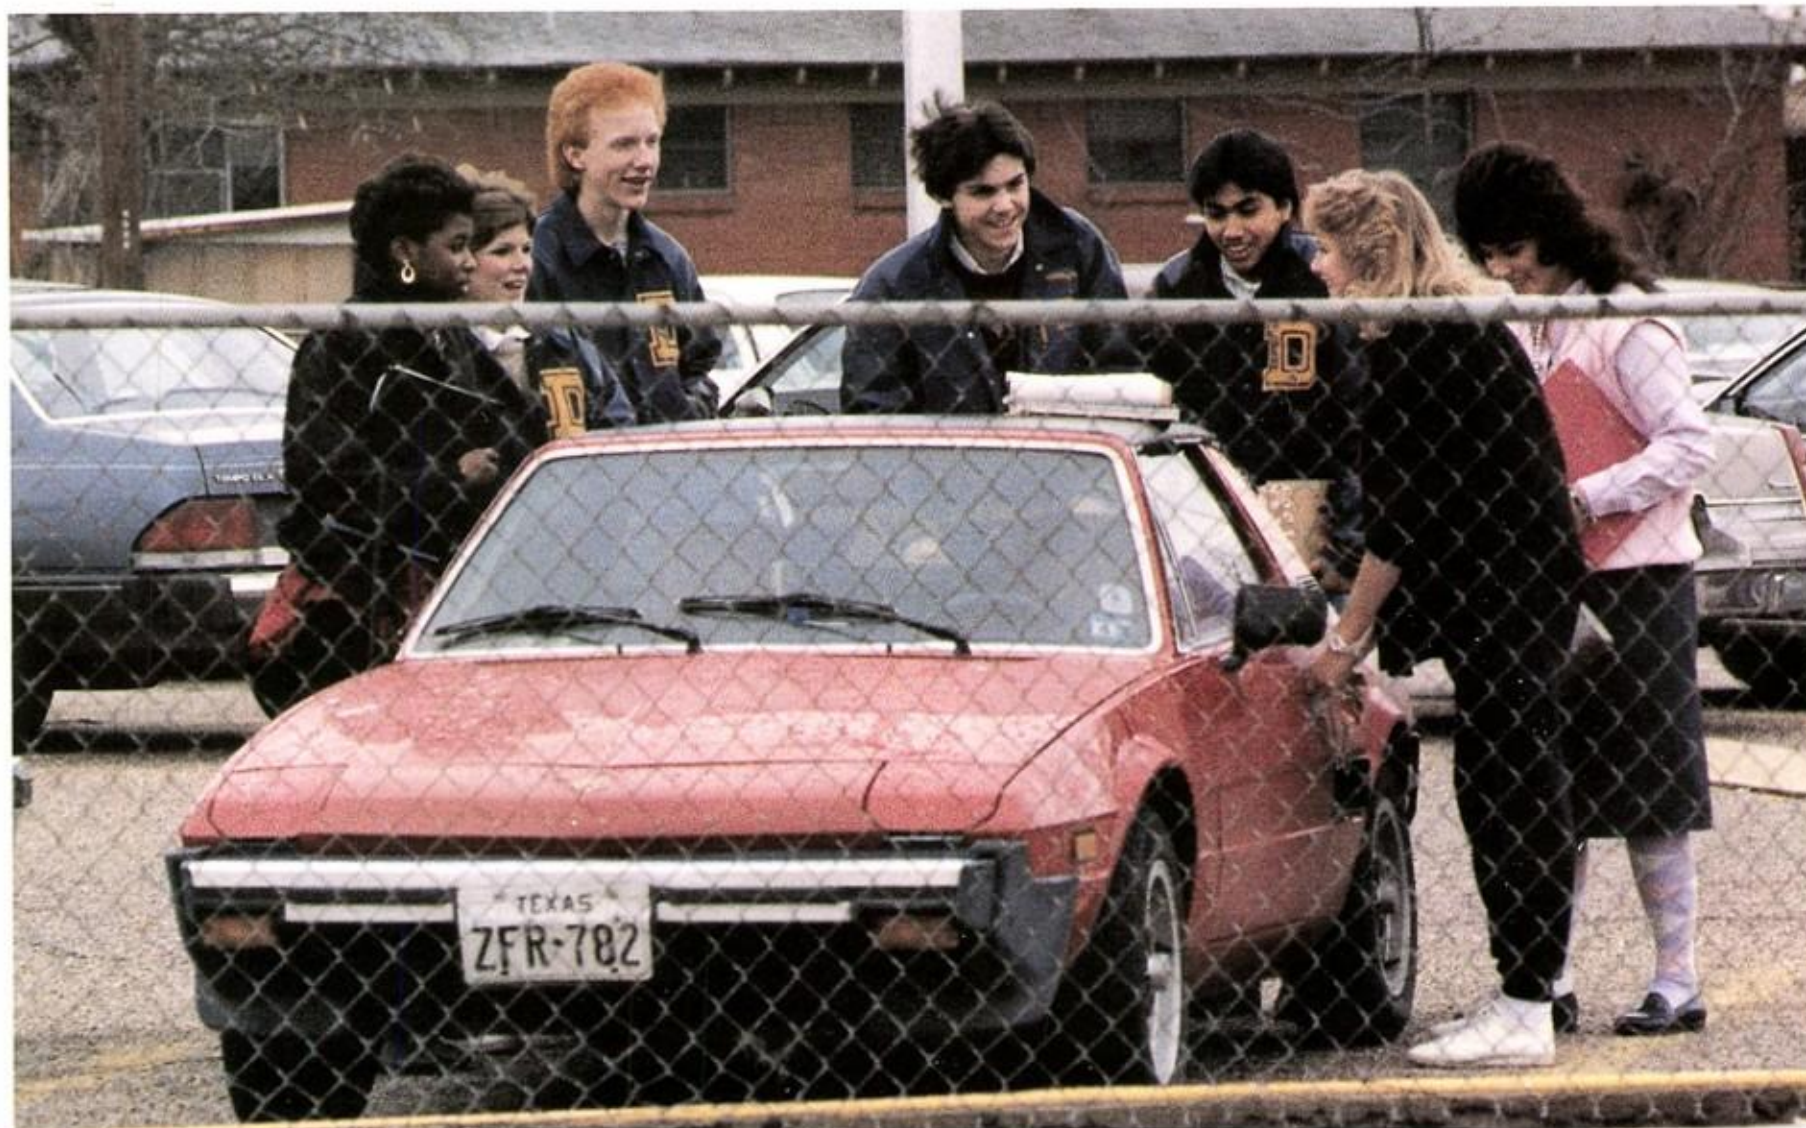

Marina Alfaro finds being a freshman can be lonely at times.

Tracey Smith practically has to twist Tonya Culton's arm for a date.

Amy Smelser never misses a shot for the 1986 TORCH staff.

Mary Williams, Kelley Westbrook, Mitch Rogers, Billy Robinson, Albert Paredes, and Robin Dean wonder if they can all really fit in Melissa Carol's Fiat X19.

THE Spirit of SENIORS

Being a senior of 1986 was difficult, as students faced many adversities, but it was also special. All seniors faced some of the same problems. They did not get out a week before the underclassmen to enjoy a week of senior activities but instead took their finals the last day of school along with the underclassmen.

Some seniors felt that their privileges were being taken away. Inetta Lott said, "The worst thing about my senior year was that there were no activities for us."

The location of graduation was also changed. Instead of the convention center or Moody Coliseum, it was held at Loos Fieldhouse.

The seniors of 1986 overcame these obstacles by striving for success and working toward their individual goals. Sabrina Thompson said, "My goal is to go to Texas A&M University and major in business." Kenny Rogers added, "My goal is to go to college and be a robotical engineer."

Seniors made their own good time. Bryon Parker discussed what made his senior year the best. He said, "The best thing about my senior year was that teachers were really trying to help us pass."

Through happiness and sadness the senior class of 1986 knew what Spartan spirit was about.

Anna Martinez poses for her senior portrait on retake day in room 127.

The senior class officers are treasurer Tammy McHone, secretary Molly Yandell, president Cherry Brown, and vice-president Kenny Rogers.

Freddie Martinez, Stacey Ridge, Robin Dean, Kathy Tulley, and Bill Gordon make plans for the up-coming senior activities.

THE Spirit of JUNIORS

The juniors were affected by House Bill 72 and other changes. They had to pass the TEAMS test before graduation. They were given four chances to pass the test. If they did not pass, then they did not graduate. Wanda Crear stated, "I was proud of being a junior, but I was not proud of the DISD rules and regulations."

The most important part of being a junior was the traditional junior dance and receiving a class ring according to John White.

Some of the juniors discussed the advantages and disadvantages about being a junior. Keidra Moore said, "The best thing about my junior year was that I had more privileges at home and at school. A lot of academic opportunities also opened up." Cynthia Espinoza added, "The best thing about my junior year was that I accomplished most of my goals, but the worst thing was knowing that I only had a year until graduation and then I would have to take on real responsibilities." Shannon Shaw said, "The worst thing about my junior year was knowing that I had a year left to be with my friends." Ladonna Norris and Elvira Otis felt differently about being juniors. They said, "Being a junior was really no different than any other grade because we did not have any privileges." Misti Ransom said, "I enjoyed being a junior because I felt more mature and could tell the freshmen what to do."

Anticipating the future and achieving their goals made 1986 a good year for most juniors.

THE Spirit of SOPHOMORES

"Being a sophomore was much more exciting than being a freshman because I no longer had to put up with harrassment, and there were only two years until graduation," stated Corey Dickerson. The sophomores of 1985-1986 learned to take on responsibilities as well as set examples for the freshmen.

Three hundred and twenty-six students made up the sophomore class. Being a sophomore required a lot of studying. The load included English, Algebra II, chemistry, and American government. Keri Shackelford stated, "Being a sophomore was very demanding because of all the homework." Although studies were sometimes hard, students found time to take part in a variety of activities that were offered to them.

Students were asked what they considered good and bad about this year. Joann Tabaniag said, "The best thing about my sophomore year was that I'm halfway through high school." Ricky Phillips said, "The worst thing about my sophomore year was the grading system. It was hard for me and other sophomores too."

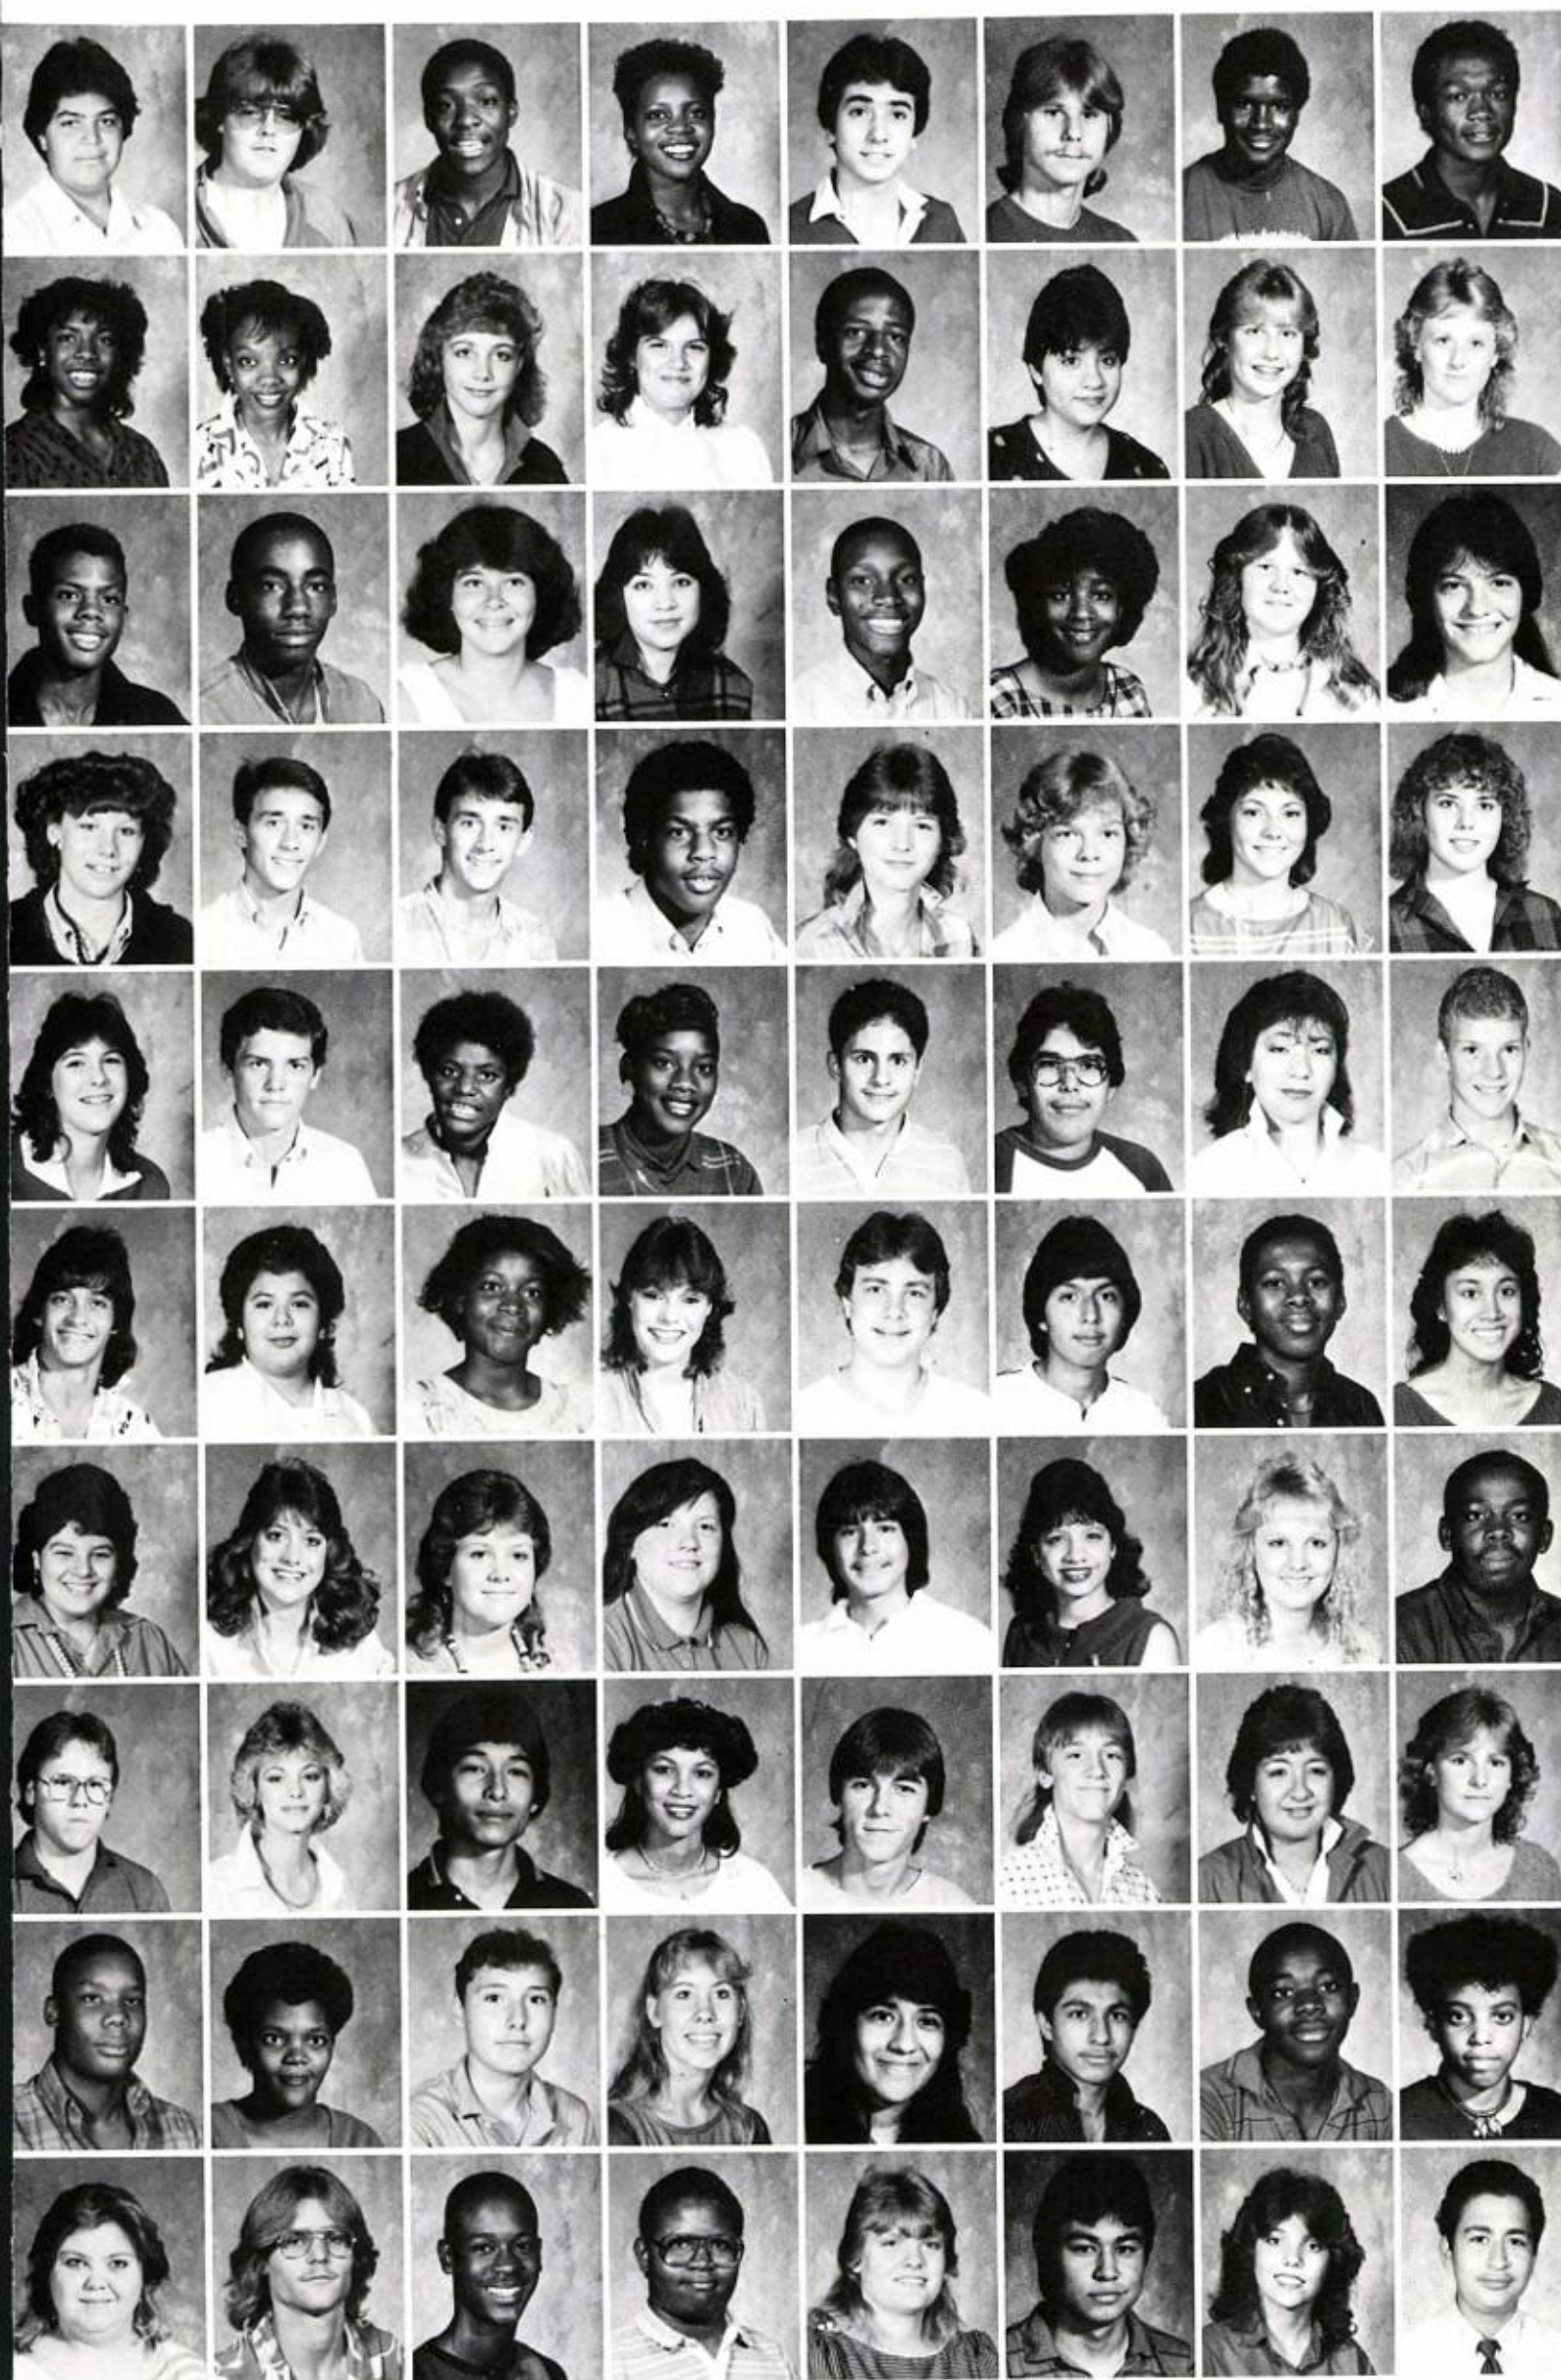

During seventh period Douglas Foster practices his backhand.

THE Spirit of FRESHMEN

Freshmen got their first look at life in high school when some two hundred of the five hundred and ten freshmen attended orientation on August 30th. They met the principals, counselors, and student body leaders including student council members, Starlet officers, varsity cheerleaders, banner team, and Spartan Image. Julie Granberry commented, "My first impression of Samuell was that it was big compared to junior high, but I knew I was going to like it."

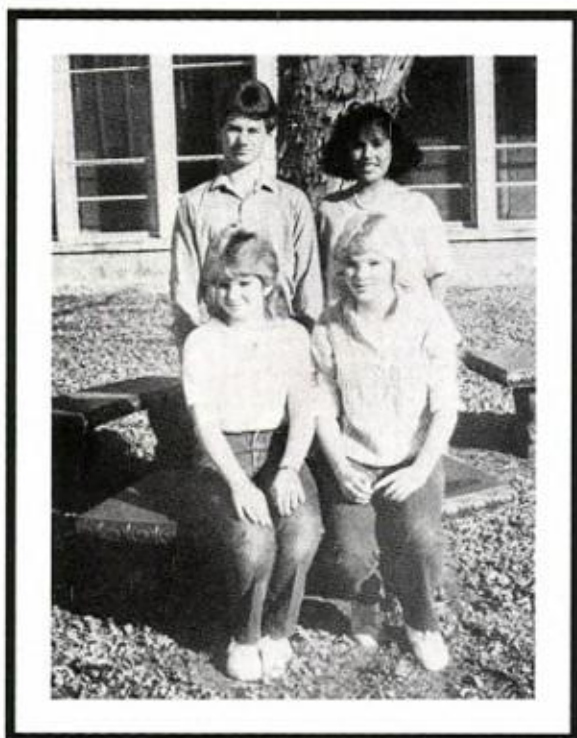

Freshmen had definite opinions about finally becoming Spartans. Stacey Yates and Elizabeth Ayala said, "We enjoyed attending Samuell and becoming Spartans. We thought it was a fun experience for our first year in high school." Some freshmen discussed what was the best and worst things about their freshman year. Alice Medina said, "The best part of my freshman year was going to all the football games," but Lisa Ayala said, "The worst part was adjusting to high school at the beginning of the year."

The freshman class of 1986 accepted the changes that awaited them and adapted to the rules, people, and atmosphere.

THE Spirit of TEACHING

Tutoring during conference periods, attending workshops for career ladder credit, preparing for the TECAT, making lesson plans, grading papers, and sponsoring clubs and extra-curricular activities kept the faculty busy during the school year. The faculty guided students and helped them learn in and outside the classroom. They helped students who wanted to be helped reach their goals.

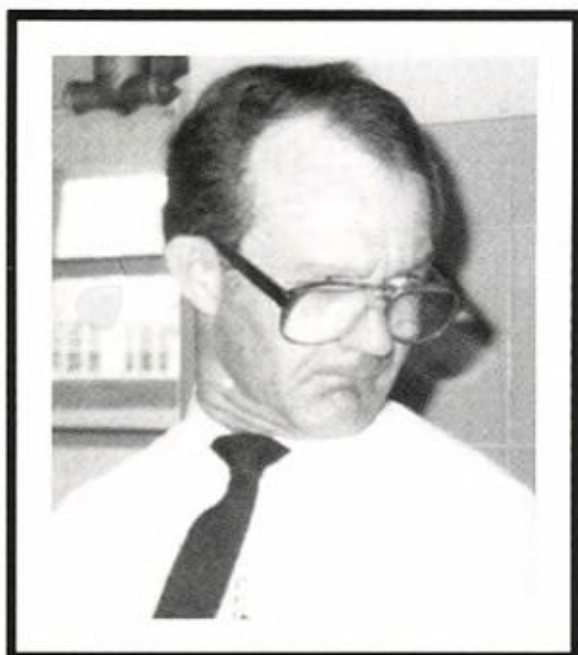

Faculty members were usually at school at seven a.m. preparing for the daily activities, and some stayed as late as five or six working with students. Ms. Bell commented, "I usually spent two hours a week doing my lesson plans and ten to twelve hours a week grading papers." Ms.

Serpas said, "I love teaching and working with young people, but the paperwork and other responsibilities that were required of us took away the joys and pleasures of teaching."

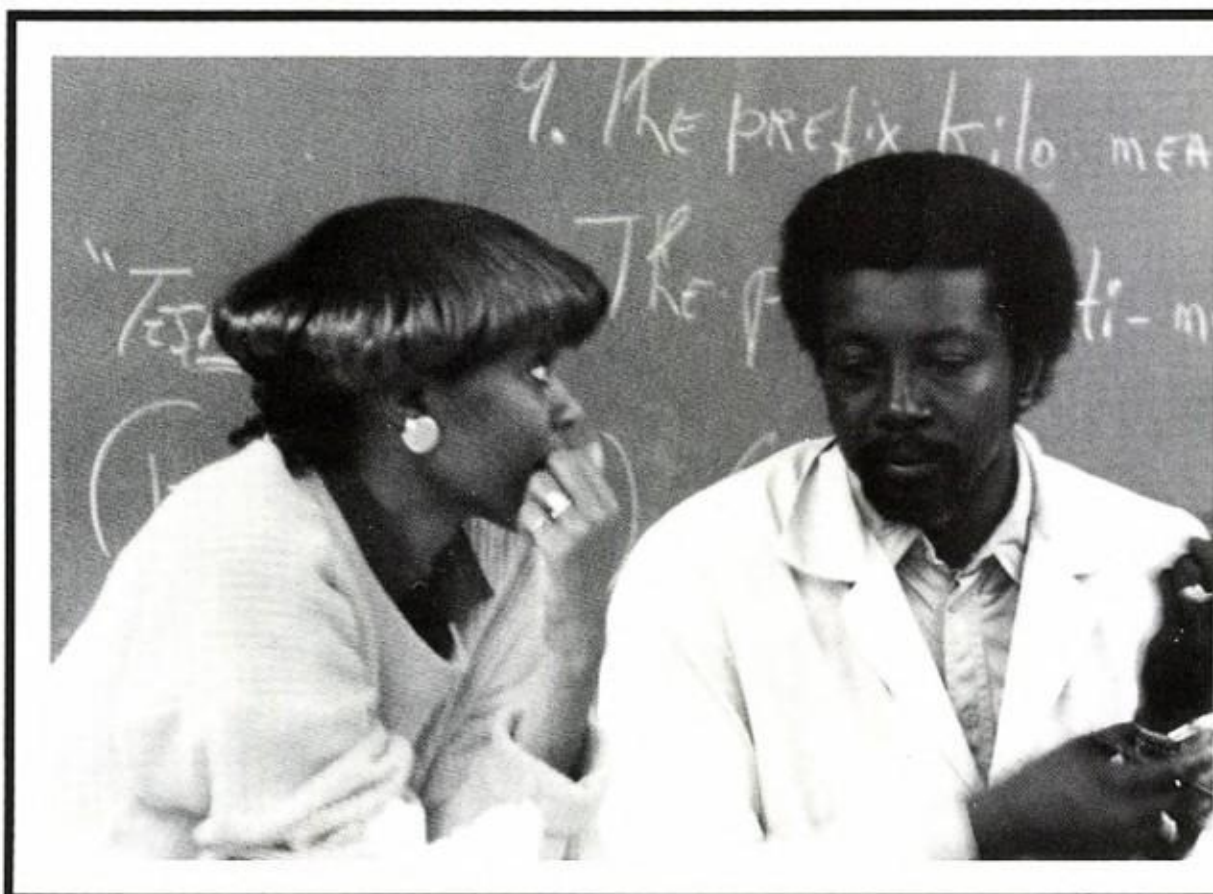

This year the teachers were affected by a new rule. They had to take the TECAT test to prove their teaching ability. Ms. Shavers said, "I thought it was awful after going to school for four or five years for teachers to have to take a test such as the TECAT." Ms. Daniels added, "I thought taking the TECAT was very time consuming, insignificant, and useless. I felt that if there were any incompetent teachers, then it was the duty of the principal to dismiss them."

Ms. Adams shows her cheerleaders what she wore when she went to school.

LETTER FROM THE PRINCIPAL:

1985-1986 has been one of the most exciting years in education. We have had so many changes in our schools due to the recent legislation. The Spartans have been leaders in adapting to change.

Tradition and loyalty are two very important areas of any school program. W. W. Samuell High School has always had the reputation of high academic standards, loyal and true to our extra-curricular activities. We have a school spirit second to none. This year when the educational reform conflicted with tradition, our Spartans began new traditions, new methods, and as a result are pace setters and leaders.

Thank you to all of the Spartans for all of your support and encouragement. Our future in the country is in good hands. You will be able to meet life's challenges and enjoy success.

TO THE TORCH STAFF:

You continue to amaze me. You work so very hard on the staff and participate in other campus activities, yet you continue to make excellent grades.

Ms. McCollum is such an inspiration to all of us at W. W. Samuel High School. She demands quality and as a result we have the best yearbook in the area. The demands on her teaching load have increased, and yet she continues to work with you to be the best.

Thank you for your hard work and leadership around our school. Typical of Spartans '86!!! You are the best!!!

Sincerely,

James H. Hughey

James Hughey

Ms. Epps and Mr. Baker discuss teacher attendance.

Leading the pack

Leading and assisting the faculty and students and attending extracurricular activities, the principals set the mood at Samuell. Their positive attitude was reflected by the positive attitude of the staff and student body.

In a year of change, Dr. Hughey, the principal, did an outstanding job of uniting the school. Dr. Hughey said, "I thought Samuell was the greatest school in the world to work because it had the finest student body, the best teachers, and concerned parents. Everything you needed for success was here at W. W. Samuell."

Dr. Hughey's three assistants were Dr. Baca, Mr. Baker, and Mr. Blair. Dr. Baca, the Dean of Instructional programs, was in charge of counseling services, evaluation of programs, and classroom activities.

Mr. Baker, who came to Samuell from Skyline, was in charge of student safety and welfare, underclassman activities, and discipline. Mr. Baker commented, "I did not enjoy disciplining students, although I did not have any bad experiences disciplining a student because I was usually able to control the child before the problem got out of hand."

Mr. Blair, who was new to Samuell also, came from H. Grady Spruce. He was in charge of discipline, student safety and welfare, and senior activities. He stated, "I enjoyed being at Samuell. The 1985-1986 school year was great, fine, super!"

In dedication to Ms. Pam Arthur and Mr. Doug Scott

Ms. Pam Arthur and Mr. Doug Scott were selected by the senior class and the TORCH staff as the dedicatees of the 1986 TORCH.

Ms. Arthur came to W. W. Samuell in 1975. During her years at Samuell she has sponsored the Blue Jackets and Keywanettes. She also coached the tennis team. During the 1985-86 school year, Ms. Arthur was the student council sponsor. She was also involved in senior activities.

Ms. Arthur taught geometry and consumer math during her years at Samuell. She was well known for her concern for students and her positive attitude. Students knew if they had a problem, Ms. Arthur would listen. Janice Ward said, "Ms. Arthur was a nice teacher. She made learning fun."

Coach Scott a 1960 graduate of Samuell, returned to Samuell as a teacher and a coach in 1967. He was the varsity basketball coach and the junior varsity baseball coach. Under his leadership, the basketball team made it to the play-offs numerous times. Many of his players have gone on to play ball for major universities.

Coach Scott taught health, history, and was one of the sponsors of the Woods and Waters Club. He was well known for his friendliness. He always had a smile on his face and was ready with a joke. Coach Scott's favorite one was "Have you heard the one about ...?" Mike Carlisle said, "Coach Scott was a great teacher because he was involved with his students and his work."

The support, encouragement, and friendship of both Ms. Arthur and Coach Scott have enriched the lives of all the students at Samuell.

Ms. Pam Arthur

At the winter sport pep assembly, Coach Scott introduces the varsity basketball team.

Anthony Smith and Ms. Arthur discuss the circumferences of circles in third period geometry.

Coach Scott explains the winning strategy for the Spruce basketball game to Stephen Miles.

Coach Scott is proud of the good grades his fifth period health students make.

Ms. Arthur signs her day away at eight a.m.

Ms. Arthur and Ms. Serpas tell the Spartan football team how they really feel about them at the Spruce assembly.

At the Welcome Back Bash, Ms. Arthur, Ms. Serpas, Denise Tribe, and Molly Yandell take tickets and watch as the Spartans arrive in the latest summer wear.

THE Spirit of PARTICIPATING

Attending dances, going to the fair on Fair Day, going to the games with friends, and watching shows such as Razz-Ma-Tazz, Oklahoma, and We Are the World were activities attended by students at Samuell. Kim Baskin said, "I enjoyed going to the fair on Fair Day, even though it rained, because I met a lot of interesting people."

Students spent many hours practicing and preparing for shows or events that were expected by fans. Cassandra Knight said, "I enjoyed go ing to almost every activity and event that Samuell sponsored such as We Are the World and the Homecoming assembly because it gave me a chance to see what was going on."

Seniors enjoyed such activities as the senior luncheon, the senior picnic, the prom, and the senior assembly. Janet King said, "I enjoyed the senior assembly. It was a very exciting experience."

Sabrina Thompson commented, "I had a great time at the prom, and I thought the room was beautiful."

Spartans welcome new year

Getting acquainted with new Spartans and visiting with old friends at the Welcome Back Bash eased students' transition from summer into the 1985-1986 school year. The student council sponsored dance was held on September 6, 1985 from 10:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. in the lunchroom after the North Mesquite game.

A large crowd turned out to hear the music of D.J. Bryron Parker, a Samuell student. Students danced to "The Show," "Shout," "Flygirl," "Summer 69," and "One Night Love Affair." Many students took advantage of the refreshments and drank Coke, Dr. Pepper, and Sprite and ate popcorn, which was sold by the varsity basketball team.

Mrs. Arthur thought the dance was a huge success even though the student council members had only a short time to plan it. She was also pleased with the variety of students that attended the dance.

Mary Williams said, "I feel that this is the best dance Samuell has ever had because more people participated in it." Fonda Boyd added, "I think the dance was total coolness." JoAnn Tabaniag said, "I enjoyed the Welcome Back Bash because a lot of people were there."

Fair Day If you like umbrellas

Threatening skies and rain, as well as having to use coupons to purchase food, faced Spartans who chose to go to the Fair on Friday, October 18th, Dallas High School Fair Day. Despite this, some Spartans attended the fair and rode such rides as the Pirate, Spider, and roller coaster.

Chappell Grant commented, "I enjoyed riding the new giant ferris wheel, the Texas Star." "I enjoyed the Texas Star also," added Mike Turner, "but I really enjoyed the free food."

Edward Garcia enjoyed the haunted house most while Mike Carlisle enjoyed visiting the automobile building and playing games.

The rain prevented many Spartans from attending the Fair. Those who did not attend the Fair found other things to entertain them. Anthony Smith said, "I did not go to the Fair because of the rain. Some friends and I rode around." Donna Davis commented, "I stayed at home and watched television."

Play that rag for me

"I thought Razz-Ma-Tazz was well prepared," stated Tonya Culton. The night of September 27th the concert choir put on their annual variety show, Razz-Ma-Tazz. Razz-Ma-Tazz was filled with entertainment for its audience.

The emcee's for this year's show were Melissa Carol, Sabrina Thompson, and Mary Williams. The student directors were Robin Dean and David Current. Robin Dean stated, "We worked long hours along with Mr. Cannon to make the show a success."

Dances were presented by the seniors, varsity cheerleaders, and Starlet officers. Cynthia Espinoza commented, "I thought it was unfair that some of the seniors could not participate in the senior dance."

Melissa Carol, Robin Dean, Chris Webb, and Terry Carol performed solos while Mary Williams and Chris Webb performed a duet.

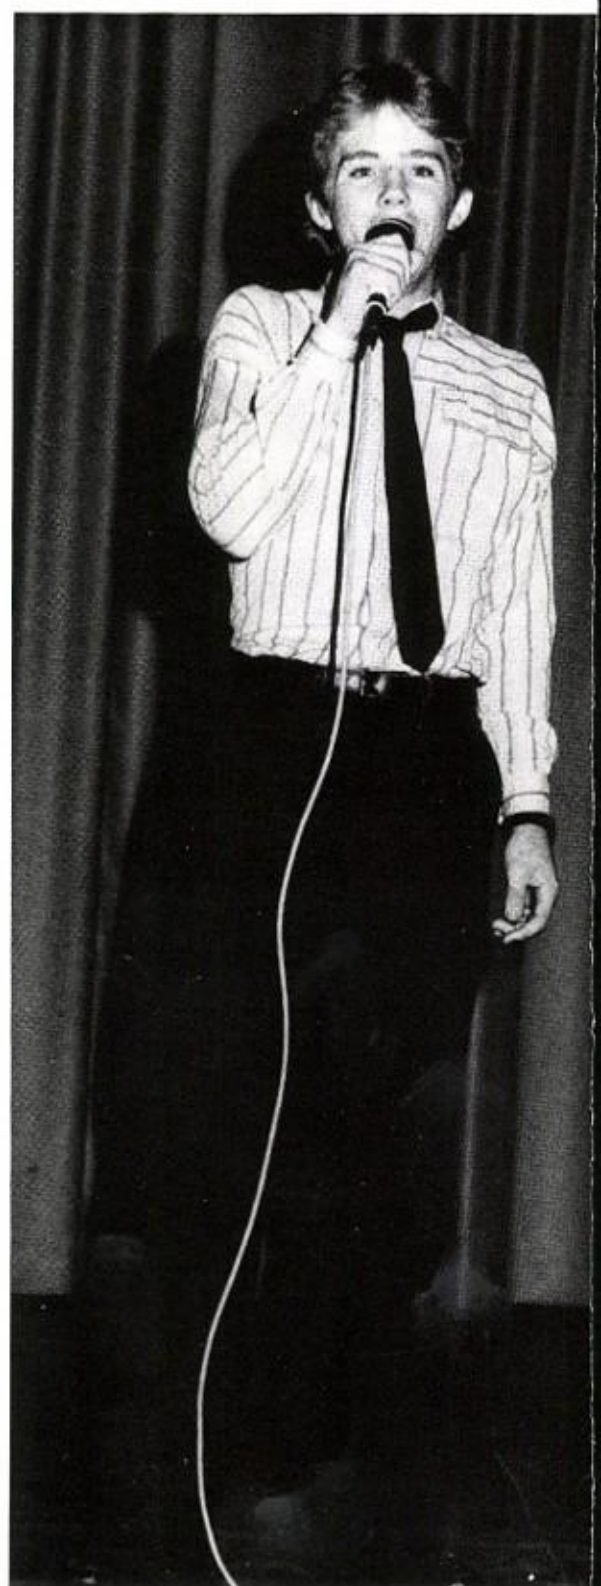

The show opened with the concert choir singing "Razz-Ma-Tazz" and closed with the JESTERS! singing "Memory." Kenny Rogers said "The senior dance was the best part of Razz-Ma-Tazz because I had fun preparing it and only seniors could participate." Sandy Gibson added, "The worst part of Razz-Ma-Tazz was having to put it together at the last minute."

Concert Choir has that "Razz Ma Tazz" as they open the show.

Homecoming '85

Welcome back

The Spartans showed their spirit at the Homecoming pep assembly before defeating their arch rivals, the Spruce Apaches, while the varsity cheerleaders, Starlets, banner team, and band performed.

Since the pep assembly was held at 9:00 a.m., it gave all Spartans a chance to attend. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with streamers, crepe paper, posters, and banners. Floyd Johnson said, "There was no best part about the pep assembly because the entire thing was good and everybody was spirited."

The Homecoming pep assembly was different from past pep assemblies because the 1976 alumni were honored, and there was also a float competition sponsored by the student council. Different organizations made floats and entered them in the contest. The basis for winning was creativity. The Starlets were the winners with their theme "Flush the Apaches."

The spirit of the students and fans paid off as the Spartans defeated the Spruce Apaches 13-6. Darla McCurdy said, "I enjoyed the Homecoming pep assembly, but I did not like all the screaming that was going on."

The halls were beautifully decorated by the Blue Jackets, and the bells on the mums could be heard as people walked down the hall. The Spartans' spirit continued throughout the day.

Spartans go a courting

Before the Spartans defeated the Spruce Apaches, a pre-game show was held to present the Homecoming Queen and her court. The members of the court, escorted by their fathers, were presented on the field. The queen, Bridget Donahue, was announced and crowned by the 1985 Homecoming Queen, Kim Pitts, who was escorted by Kenny Rogers. The queen and her court were also presented and honored at the dance.

Each grade chose two candidates to represent their class except for the senior class who chose five. These five girls were Cherry Brown, Melissa Carol, Tonya Culton, Bridget Donahue, and Priscilla Ramirez. Cherry Brown said, "Being nominated for the Homecoming Court was an experience that I will never forget."

After being nominated by the class, the queen and her senior court were then selected by the entire student body. Bridget Donahue said, "I was excited, happy, and shocked to be crowned Homecoming Queen. It was a great honor and it made me feel good to represent my school."

“If Only for One Night”

“The scene of the Homecoming dance was lovely,” stated Tonya May. The room was nicely decorated as couples danced around in their tuxedos and party dresses.

The Homecoming dance was held at the Sheraton off of LBJ and Jupiter in Garland from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight. Admission price was seven dollars per person. The student council sponsored the Homecoming dance and chose Dr. Tunes as the DJ.

The theme for this year’s Homecoming was “If Only for One Night.” “Say You, Say Me,” “Purple Rain,” and “Fat Boys are Back,” were only a part of the entertainment. Jamie Hukill said, “The music was the best thing about the Homecoming dance.”

The presentation of the Homecoming Court was another attraction. Marla Allman said, “The only thing I disliked about the Homecoming dance was that not many people were dancing, but otherwise it was really a nice dance.”

Spartans go to Oklahoma

Why was Oklahoma such a big topic at W. W. Samuell? Everyone that attended the musical production knew the answer to that question. This year the musical, Oklahoma, was held December 13th and 14th.

It took eight weeks of hard work to memorize every line, song, and dance, but all the effort paid off. Lance Phillips who played Jud Fry said, "The practices were fun and a good experience for me because I was able to put my talents on stage."

The musical had something for everyone: love for the romantics as well as conflict and violence. The happy ending made the evening enjoyable.

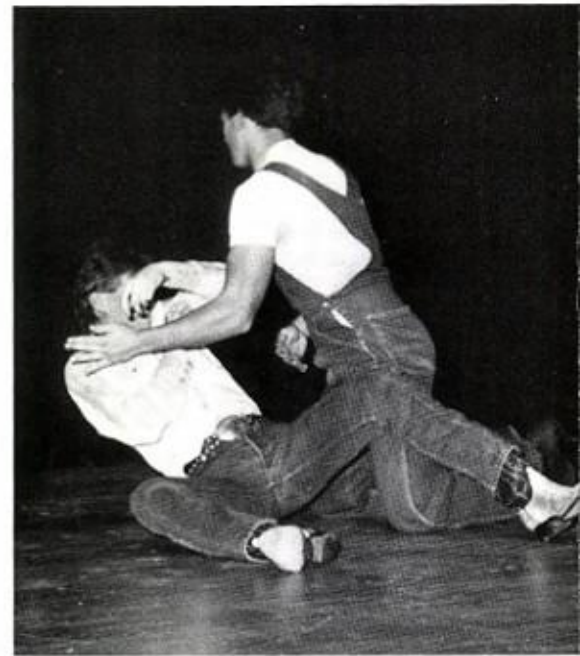

The musical director was Mr. Cannon. The stage director and choreographer was Ms. McFarland. The student director was Billy Robinson, and the stage manager was Ricky Martin. Molly Yandell said, "I enjoyed participating in Oklahoma because I love musicals and being involved."

Silent Spartans welcome winter

Before celebrating Christmas at home, the Silent Spartans held a celebration of their own in the lunchroom. The dance was held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. and the admission price was $2.50. The theme was "Winter Wonderland." Ms. Hatch and Ms. Dunbar sponsored the dance. Ms. Hatch said, "I think everybody had a great time because everyone participated."

One of the highlights of the evening was the music played by disc jockey, Calvin Nagy. Another highlight was the dance contest. The winners were Michelle Welch, Melissa Welch, Cathy Murray, and Karrie Miller.

After the dance contest, the court was presented. The freshman court was Derrick Murphey and D'Lisa Preston. The sophomore court was Chris Brown, Kevin Simpson, and Trina Hawthorne. The junior court was Matthew Martinez and Chantay Durham. The senior court was Tres Vaughan and Melissa Welch.

The king and queen were Doug Hathorn and Diana Martinez. Melissa Welch said, "I felt that I was chosen to represent my class because I am a nice person, and I have many friends." Chantay Durham added, "I was excited about being on the court. I really enjoyed representing the other students."

Spartans make winter fun

A white Christmas would have been nice for the spirited Spartans, but all they received were forty and fifty degrees weather.

The last day before the holidays, December 20th, students enjoyed many spirited activities. The JESTERS! sang Christmas songs during lunch to entertain those who came to the lunchroom. During seventh period, the choir went through the halls singing carols. Deborah Wrye said, "I enjoyed caroling in the halls because it brought out the Christmas joy in the student body."

Student council decorated a Christmas tree by the office and sponsored a door decorating contest. The door decorating contest brought out the Christmas spirit in many teachers and students because everyone wanted to be a winner. Unfortunately there could be only one winner, and that was Ms. Davila and her classes. They received a case of Coke. Ms. Davila commented, "I participated in the door decorating contest to show my Christmas spirit."

A Visitor from Forest Hills arrives at Samuell

A Visitor from Forest Hills, Act III of Plaza Suite, arrived on the Samuell stage on Thursday, March 13, 1986. The story concerned a twenty-one year old girl named Mimsey who was supposed to get married but locked herself up in the bathroom minutes before her wedding because she does not want her marriage to end up like her mother and father's. Robin Klimpel said, "I enjoyed playing the part of Norma. It took a lot of time, but it was well worth it."

The theater artists set as their goal for the production: to bring to the audience the revelation of the failings and aspirations, the dreams and desires, and the negative and the positive aspects of human beings.

Ms. McFarland said, "I thought the play was a success because it gave the actors, actresses, and crew a more realistic picture about what performing was like. I thought it gave the students that attended a nice opportunity to see a good play performance."

Cupid strikes twice

Cupid struck twice at Samuell on February 14th. The Valentine spirit began as student council sponsored an assembly during fifth period which gave the history of Valentines. The court was presented at the assembly. Only students who were passing were allowed to attend the assembly.

Each grade was represented by two guys and two girls, except for the seniors who were represented with three guys and three girls. Princess, Tonya Culton said, "I was very honored to be on the court."

That night the dance was held from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. At the dance Melissa Carol and David Current were crowned Queen and King. Not many people attended the dance because it was held in the lunchroom.

The d.j., Dr. Tunes, provided entertainment with music and a video screen. He played such tunes as "How Will I Know," "Rock Me Amadeus," and "What About Me." John White said, "I liked the music, but I really enjoyed the video screen."

Practicing mornings and after school paid off for the Starlets as they performed in the Starlet Revue.

The annual spring show was held on March 28th in the auditorium at 7:30. The cost for tickets was $3.00 in advance and $3.50 at the door. Shannon Floyd said, "The show went well because we made approximately six hundred dollars."

The sophomore, junior, and senior routines, solo dances, the Starlet officers dance, and the seniors' traditional Hokey Pokey were all a part of the Starlet Revue. Sheree Davis said, "I enjoyed doing the Hokey Pokey most of all."

The emcees of the show were the Starlets themselves. Sherri Crouch said, "Since no one else tried out for emcees, we had to do it ourselves, but it was fun." Ms. Phelps added, "I thought the girls worked very hard to put on a great show."

Faculty slips by students

The male teachers had a chance to show their talent on April 11th during seventh period when the faculty challenged the students to a basketball game. Mr. Brown, the high point man, said, "I enjoyed playing in the student versus faculty game because students had a tendency to think a teacher could not play better than themselves because they were older."

The faculty team consisted of Coach Johnson, Coach Peterson, Coach Hicks, Mr. Brown, Mr. Wallace, Dr. Baca, Mr. Allen, and Mr.

Mitchell. The student team consisted of Sheldon Kilgore, Tracey Smith, John Boleware, Kenneth Walton, Ronald Evans, Jamal Walden, Anthony Smith, Kenneth Sayles, and Michael Stewart. Ronald Evans said, "I was upset because we lost."

There were approximately three hundred people at the game to see the faculty defeat the students fifty-six to fifty-two. Jamal Walden said, "I enjoyed playing in the game. It was fun."

Happy Birthday Texas

In celebration of one hundred and fifty years of independence for Texas, the Dallas Independent School District was closed on April 21st.

San Jacinto Day, as it was called, was celebrated throughout Texas. For example, fireworks were displayed at the Cotton Bowl and a parade was held.

At Samuell a sesquicentennial flag was displayed at the front entrance of the building.

Many people spent San Jacinto Day in various ways. Some enjoyed doing their hobbies. Ms. Aicklen said,

"I stayed home and rested." Ms. Arthur said, "I went to Garland City Park." Shannon Cooley said, "I went and tanned." Sonya Smart said, "I went shopping." Regina Love said, "I just rode around with friends."

Others celebrated the holiday. Ms. Ballard said, "I went to an original log cabin in Wills Point, Texas where local craftsmen showed how horses were shod, soap was made, and quilts were made." Ms. Davila said, "I drove to Houston and observed the sesquicentennial at the San Jacinto Monument, and later I picnicked."

Juniors go Irish

In order to raise money for their senior year, the junior class planned ahead by sponsoring a dance, The Shamrock, for the student body.

The dance was held March 21st in the lunchroom from 7:30 to 10:30. The tickets were sold $2.00 in advance and $3.00 at the door. Cynthia Espinoza, the junior class president, said, "We made six hundred and forty three dollars which will go toward our senior prom and activities."

The disc jockey for the junior dance was a senior from the student body, Bryron Parker. This saved the juniors some money. The people that attended the dance were entertained by such songs as "Computer Love," "Rock Me Amadeus," and "Rumors." Dottie Bellah said, "The Lip Sync Contest was the best part of the junior dance." Monica Hamilton added, "I had fun organizing the dance." Robert Bailey, Carl Campbell, and Brian Jones were the winners of the Lip Sync Contest with their song "Lay it Down" by Ratt.

The underclass favorites were announced on May 9th during the awards assembly. Melissa Carol and Chris Henderson presented these students with certificates.

Underclass favorites were selected from the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes. Each student voted for one boy and girl to represent his class.

The six students presented as underclass favorites were both excited and somewhat shocked. Sheila Arrington said, "I was surprised because I did not know I had that many friends." Samantha Worley added, "I did not expect to be chosen as an underclass favorite." Keidra Moore said, "I did not think it was fair that the same person was selected as a favorite each year." Vanda Edwards said, "I thought the underclass favorites were chosen fairly because they were the ones who were leaders at school."

We Are the World

The night of February 27th various groups of people got together and presented their talents in We Are the World, the black history month program. The program not only honored the black heritage, but it also honored the French and Spanish heritages.

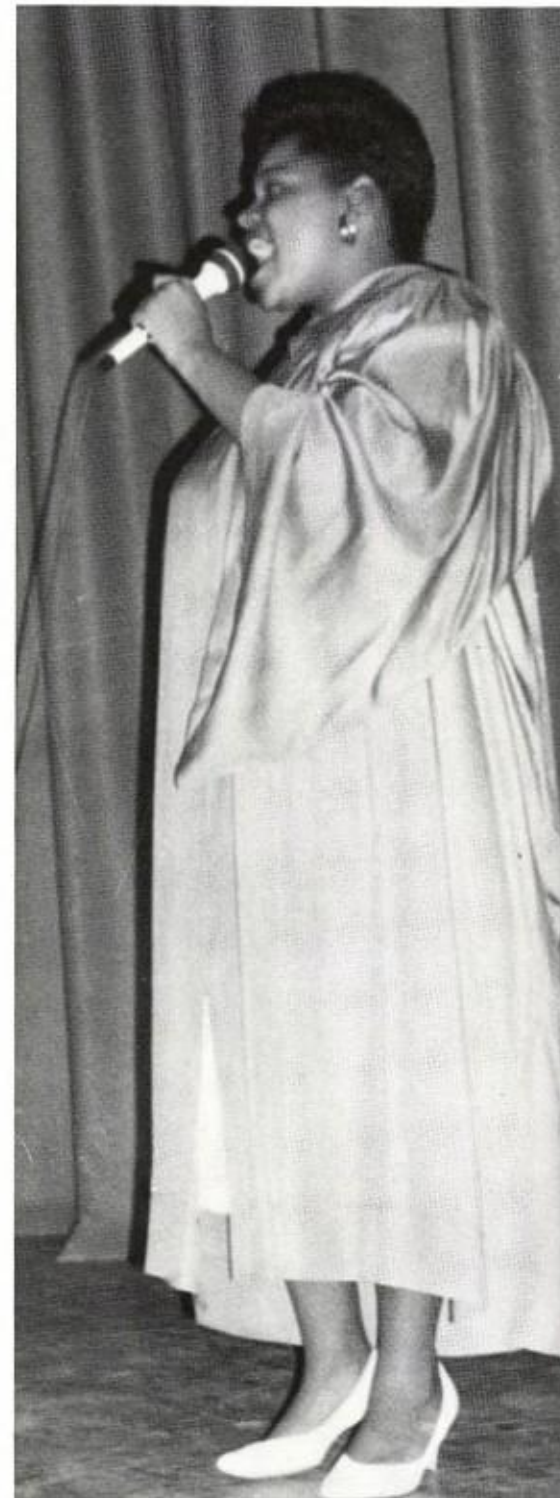

The program, under the direction of Ms. Russell and Ms. Daniels, was filled with acts including skits, dances, readings, raps, speeches and songs. The songs included "Celebrate Youth" and "We are the World." Arithia Smith said, "I thought it was great being in We Are the World because I had never danced on the stage by myself before." Chappell Grant added, "It was a great experience for me to get on stage and perform in front of a group of people."

Organizations that participated in the show were concert choir, the deaf education drama department, theatre arts, French and Spanish clubs, band, FHA, and JESTERS!. Chris Webb said, "My favorite part of We Are the World was singing my original songs."

Wedding bells ring

Thursday, April 10th, at 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. the auditorium was filled with excitement. Ms. Fanner said, "The purpose of the mock wedding was to help students understand what was involved in a wedding ceremony."

Two mock weddings were presented to those who attended. The wedding held at 2:00 p.m. was a double wedding. The brides were Cherry Brown and LaTanya McMillan. The grooms were Mario Alvarado and Howard Moore.

The second wedding consisted of LaRonda Reeves, the bride, and Mark

Still, the groom. LaRonda Reeves said, "I liked being the bride." Mark Still said, "I felt bad because everyone was calling me a bigamist, but other than that it was a well prepared wedding." Tim Dula, who was an escort, said, "I thought it was a funny experience." John Paul Jones, who played the part of the father said, "It was a great experience." Donna Davis said, "I learned that getting married takes a lot of hard work." Letisia Vasquez added, "I learned that getting married includes a lot of responsibilities."

In a double ceremony Reverend Sharp unites Howard Moore and LaTanya McMillan and Cherry Brown and Mario Alvarado in a mock wedding.

Thespians go international

The drama department put on various plays throughout the year, two of which included the "The Brute" and "How He Lied to Her Husband."

"How He Lied to Her Husband" was a humorous British play about a husband, his wife, and her lover. Christian Young said, "I enjoyed playing a major role. It was a great experience."

"The Brute" was a Russian play about a landowner's widow named Mrs. Popova who had vowed to never remarry or accompany men. Then Smirnof, one of her late husband's creditors forced himself into her presence. Smirnof had some bad experiences with women. He and Mrs. Popova quarreled. Then he proposed to her and she accepted. The two continued to quarrel only until they found out that they were highly attracted to each other. Lori Guerra said, "Playing Luka took a lot of time, but it was fun because it was the first play that I had a major role in."

A sweet success

"It was a great dance. I was glad that people in special education classes were recognized," stated James Venters.

The Peppermint Ball, with the help of Ms. Shavers, was held on April 18th in the senior lunchroom from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. The price of the tickets were one dollar. Ms. Shavers said, "I thought the dance was a success. I sold thirty tickets."

Latoya Bowman dances to "In My Dreams."

Refreshments such as chips, cookies, and drinks were served. There was also dancing while music was played by Marcus Woodard, the disc jockey. The highlight of the evening was the drawing and crowning of the king, queen, and their court. Fred Williams was selected as king, and Yolanda McCrary was selected as queen. Fred Williams said, "It was fun being crowned king."

Life's a beach

On April 11th the deaf education department, under the supervision of Ms. Hill, sponsored a spring dance. The event lasted from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. The tickets were sold for $1.50 in advance and $2.00 at the door.

Refreshments were served. Robert Grimmet, the disc jockey, provided music.

The highlight of the evening was announcing the new deaf cheerleaders for the 1986-1987 school year. Those chosen were Chantay Durham, D'Lisa Preston, Debresha Walls, Karrie Miller, and Crystal Woods. D'Lisa

Preston said, "I thought being named cheerleader was the best part of the dance. Crystal Woods added, "Being named cheerleader was the most exciting part of the dance, also." Chantay Durham said, "I thought the entire dance was fun. It was all great."

Other big events were skits and games that were played. Ms. Lopez, Ms. Pogoda, Ms. Dailey, Ms. McDermott, Ms. Miller, Ms. Hill, Ms. Williams, Ms. Tobola, and Ms. Hatch all did a rap about their classes. Ms. Miller said, "I enjoyed doing the skit. It was really fun."

Spartans go Hawaiian

Friday, April 25th, was an exciting evening for those who attended the Hawaiian Luau, the annual spring dance sponsored by the student council, according to Molly Yandell. Susan McAnally said, "I thought the dance was a blast because a lot of people came in a partying mood."

Admission price to the dance was $2.00 in advance and $3.00 at the door. The Hawaiian Luau was different from other dances because it was held in the courtyard rather than the lunchroom. The atmosphere was much better than the lunchroom because people could feel the night breeze while they danced.

A special attraction at the dance was the Pina Coladas which were sold for $1.00. The music was provided by Bryron Parker. At the Hawaiian Luau, students danced to songs such as "We're Only Buggin'," "Pee Wee Herman's Dance," and "Jailbait." Fonda Boyd said, "The dance was great. It was really something to drink to." Janet King added, "I thought the dance was great and so was the music."

JESTERS! Strike lightning

Dances, skits, medleys, duets, and solos were all included in the JESTERS! Show which was held on May 22nd at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The traditional spring concert, which included the entire choral department, opened with "Fill the World With Music." Deborah Wyre said "I enjoyed being in the JESTERS! Show. It was fun because it was my last performance."

Melissa Carol said, "I thought the show was well organized." Before the finale, everyone who had been in concert choir in the past came on stage and sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

The 1986-1987 JESTERS! were introduced before the finale of the spring concert. The show closed with the 1985-1986 JESTERS! singing "How Do You Keep the Music Playing."

Annette Kent said, "I thought being in the JESTERS! Show was fun."

Military has a ball

The night of April 18th was filled with excitement for the ROTC. They had their annual Military Ball at the Sheraton on Jupiter in Garland from seven-thirty to twelve.

The dress was formal attire. The menu consisted of tossed salad, shrimp, roast beef, strawberry tart, rolls, and biscuits. Stacy Nerhood said, "The food was okay, but certain things were terrible."

The highlights of the evening were the crowning of the queen and her court and distributing various awards. The queen was Tanya Smith and the princess was Lucretia Taylor. Tanya Smith said, "I felt it was an honor to be crowned military ball queen."

Awards were given to Daniel Vasquez for Sons of American Revolution and Deborah Wilson for Daughters of American Revolution. Gayla Knowles, Lucretia Taylor, Inetta Lott, and Bryron Parker received the awards for Superior Cadets. Bryron Parker said, "I was very surprised at winning the award."

Super Spartans compete

UIL competition gave students a chance to show their talents in various areas. There were numerous students that competed on March 22nd at Skyline High School. Those who placed first, second, or third in their district went to regionals at Dallas Baptist University on April 25th and 26th. Misty Lybrand, Anthony Tabaniag, Hugo Perez, Earl McGibboney, Kathy Tulley, Robin Klimpel, Sharon Codillo, and Kenneth Langreder went to regionals.

Anthony Tabaniag, who placed first in number sense and third in calculators said, "I felt confident that I would win since I had participated in UIL contests for three years." Misty Lybrand, who placed first in accounting said, "It was quite a surprise to me, since this was the first year that accounting was offered in UIL contests. I did not have any idea that I would win." Inetta Lott, who participated in shorthand, said, "The shorthand competition at the UIL contest was very disorganized, but other than that I enjoyed it." Earl McGibboney, who placed second in spelling said, "I was very proud of myself. I did not think I could do it since that was my first time participating in UIL."

Outstanding students recognized

May 9th was a day of recognition for all outstanding students at Samuell. The 1986-1987 student council issued awards from various departments and organizations to many students. Students received awards in organizations such as Allied Youth, FHA, National Honor Society, The Sentinel, TORCH, DECA, the math team, theater arts, French Club, and athletics.

Students who made the "A" and "B" honor rolls were recognized. Those who won underclassmen favorites, senior superlatives, and department awards received certificates or pins. Les McFarland, chosen as senior superlative said, "I was surprised and honored."

A special citizenship award was given to Greg Cherry for witnessing and testifying in a murder trial in South Dallas. He said, "It was a great honor because my name will be remembered for the good deed I did."

Dr. Hughey closed the assembly by congratulating the 1985-1986 student body officers and welcoming the 1986-1987 student body officers. Not pictured was David Ford who was selected as outstanding industrial arts student.

Out comes the old, in comes the new

"I enjoyed playing in the Blue and Gold game because it gave people a chance to see how I will play next year," stated Eric Menefee. The Blue and Gold game was held May 23rd at Forester Field.

Many activities occurred during the Blue and Gold game. The 1986-1987 deaf cheerleaders performed at one end while the 1986-1987 junior varsity cheerleaders performed at the other end. On the sidelines the 1985-1986 varsity cheerleaders gave the fans a last performance while the 1986-1987 varsity cheerleaders showed the fans what was in store for the upcoming year.

During half time the senior Starlets performed to "Glamorous Life." The 1986-1987 Starlets and officers did a pompon routine to "I Feel For You."

The game ended as the blue team defeated the gold team twenty-one to nineteen. Earnest Monette said, "It was fun seeing one side of the school play the other." Ronald Durham added, "I thought the game was very exciting."

Looks like we made it

Mercedes, BMW's, Limousines, Seviles, and Jaguars were at the scene of the prom. Tuxedos and fancy gowns were the dress for the night. Taquita Dansby said, "Everybody looked so different because I was used to seeing them dressed casually, but I thought they looked nice."

Before the prom, many people went out to eat. They ate at places such as the Hyatt Regency, Denny's, Old San Francisco Steakhouse, and International House of Pancakes. Kenny Rogers said, "I enjoyed eating at Old San Francisco Steakhouse."

The prom was held at The Registry in the Malachite Ballroom on May 16th from 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. The centerpieces were flowers and candles in champagne glasses with "Looks Like We Made It" on the glasses. After the prom, students were allowed to take the centerpieces.

People danced to the music played by Dr. Tunes and ate hors d'oeuvres including egg rolls, ham and cheese puffs, miniature enchiladas, fruit, chocolate fondue, and punch. Tammy McHone said, "I thought the food was great."

At 10:00 p.m., the Grand March was held. This gave people a chance to see the class of 1986. After the Grand March, the senior favorites were announced by the TORCH staff.

A senior affair

The seniors' of 1986 gave parents, faculty members, and students one last look at them as they sang, danced, rapped, and gave speeches in their senior assembly which was held on Monday and Tuesday, June 2nd and 3rd.

For the first time ever because of House Bill 72, the senior assembly was supposed to last for only one hour, but it ended up lasting for two hours because no acts were cut.

The emcees were Anthony Richardson, Kenneth Tatum, and Tracey Smith. They performed skits and introduced acts such as the varsity cheerleaders, Starlets, and JESTERS! Larry Ross said, "The assembly was the finest thing that happened in 1985-1986."

The senior assembly was directed by Ms. Thomas and her committee.

As a tearful finale, the seniors came on stage to sing the class song, "It's So Hard to Say Goodbye to Yesterday," and the alma mater, "Hail Samuell High." William Roberson said, "The show was very interesting, but it was sad seeing the seniors leave."

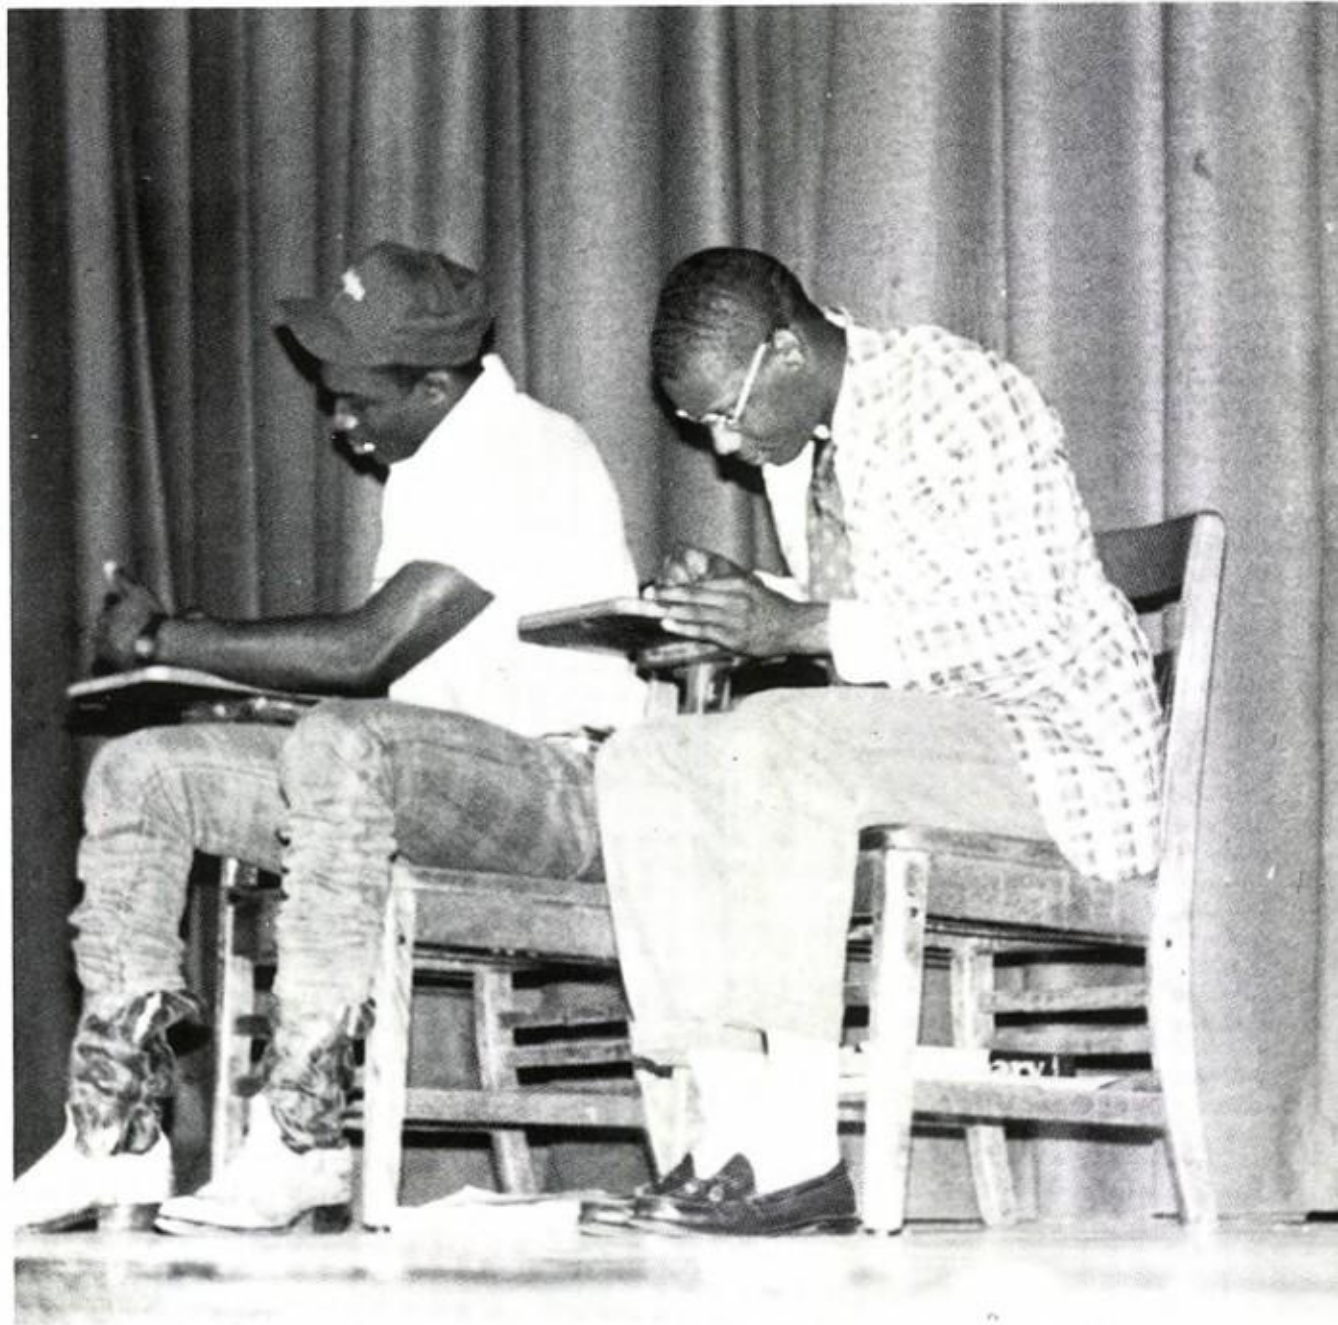

Deedra Rouvaldt is as free as "The Bird."

Tribe and Shannon Floyd bid a tearful farewell to Mel Rogers.

Rhonda Walker remembers "The Way We Were."

Anthony Webb and Anthony Taylor show the underclassmen how to cheat.

Emcees, Tracey Smith, Kenneth Tatum, and Anthony Richardson row to the show.

Seniors sing their class song "It's So Hard to Say Goodbye to Yesterday."

President Melissa Carol bids farewell to the student body.

Anthony Richardson does his "Samuell Rap."

Senior JESTERS!, Kelley Westbrook, Chris Webb, Sandy Gibson, Melissa Carol, Sabrina Thompson, and Robin Dean "Reach For a Star."

Dr. Hughey chills out on his way to the lunchroom.

Cherry Brown and Tonya Culton present the time capsule.

Melissa Welch likes to "Party All the Time."

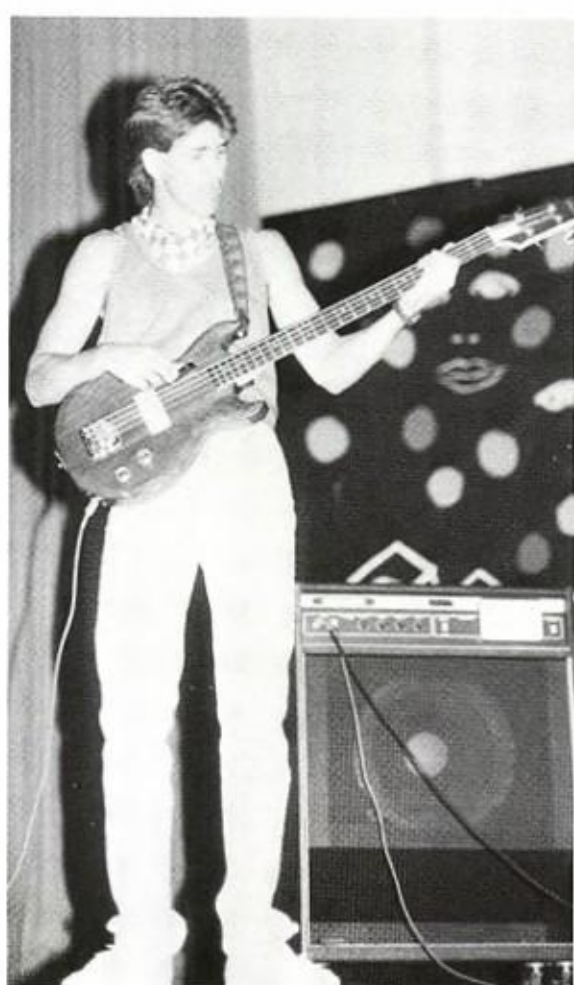

The varsity cheerleaders do the Spartan beat for the last time.

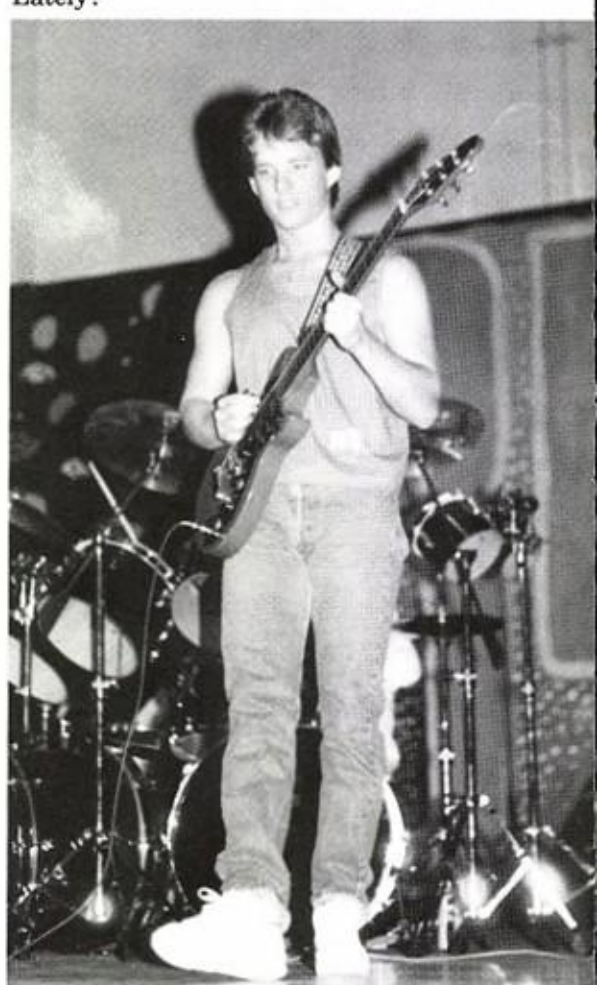

Mary Williams asks "What Have You Done for Me Lately?"

Starlet officers, Sabrina Thompson and Michelle Young have "Body and Soul."

Danny Powell plays bass . . .

. . . while Scott Chapman jams to "La Grange" with the Dirty Trix Band.

Seniors sing the alma mater for the last time.

Rif (Kenny Rogers) and Magenta (Tammy McHone) welcome Brad (Ron Smith) and Janet (Susan McAnally) into "The Time Warp."

Challis Boyd sings "Do You Still Love Me?"

Janet singing is "The Greatest Love of All" for Janet.

Pam Titus enters to the varsity cheerleaders "Square Dance."

The deaf education seniors reflect on their high school memories.

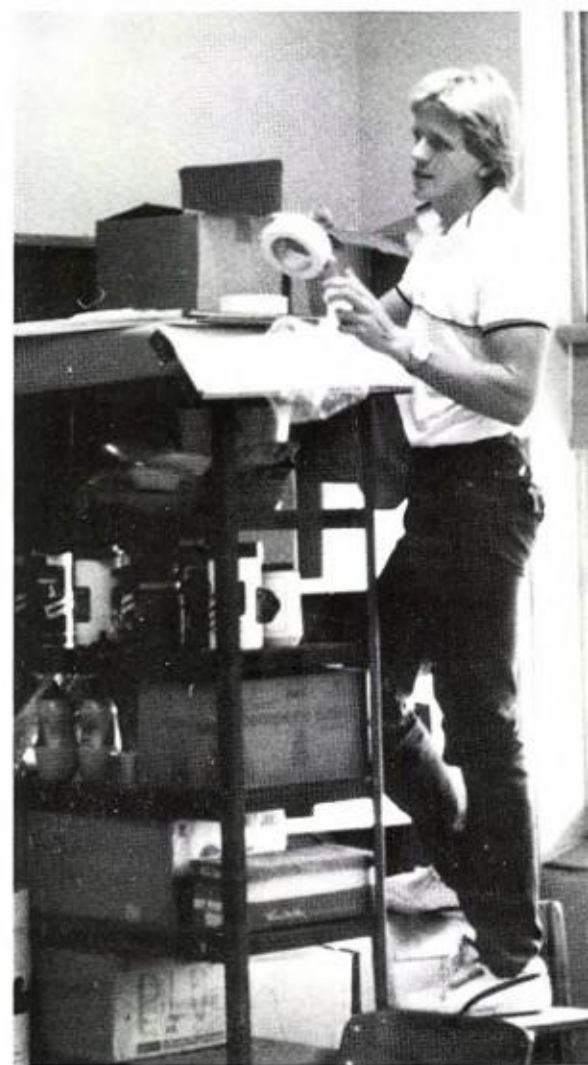

As good as the best

There were twenty-four superlatives selected out of the two-hundred and seventy-two students in the senior class. This special group of students were leaders in their senior class. They were not only outstanding students academically, but also involved in organizations and extracurricular activities.

There were forty-seven students nominated. The twenty-four students that were selected were chosen on the basis of dependability, responsibility, attitude, citizenship, and peer rapport. The superlatives were introduced in the awards assembly on May 9th and presented with certificates.

Hugo Perez said, "I was honored to be chosen as a senior superlative." Ronald Evans said, "I was so surprised and proud to be selected as a senior superlative." Kathy Tulley said, "I was speechless. It was such an honor and a shock to be selected as a senior superlative."

Baccalaureate — an inspiration

"Plan ahead before it is too late" was the message from Reverend Brian Sharp at the Baccalaureate. Rodrick Williams said, "I thought that Reverend Brian Sharp was good because he was very funny, but also inspiring."

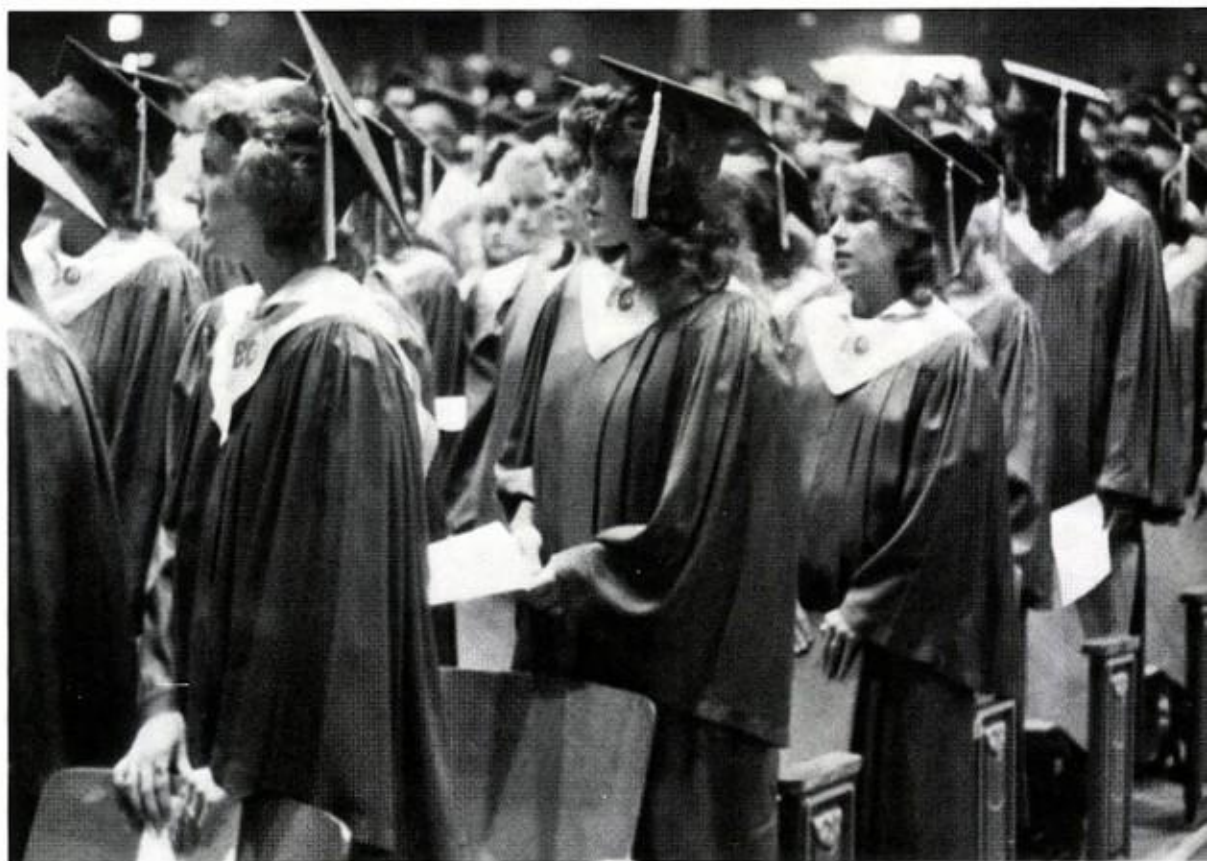

Before the sermon began, the seniors lined up in the lunchroom and later took part in the processional which gave their families a first look at the seniors in their caps and gowns.

As the seniors marched in, Mr. Cannon and his wife played "Triumphal March." The concert choir later sang "Go Out With Joy," and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains." Sandy Gibson gave the invocation, and Hugo Perez gave the benediction.

Before the seniors marched out, the concert choir sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." Kenneth Walton said, "It was a memorable experience."

Now that's entertainment

Prime rib, broccoli with bernaise sauce, salad, rolls, peach halves, and raspberry sherbet were the menu for the senior luncheon on June 4th at the Gran Crystal Palace in downtown Dallas at 2:30 p.m. Sabrina Thompson said, "The senior luncheon was nice, and the food was really good. I especially liked the raspberry sherbet."

This was the first time the luncheon was not held following the senior assembly, which was the previous day, June 3rd.

For entertainment, the employees put on a Cabaret Review. They sang risque songs and put on skits. Sandy Gibson said, "The musical review was funny. That was my favorite part of the senior luncheon." Kenny Rogers said, "I enjoyed being with all my friends one last time. The food was much better than the lunchroom food."

Maria Olivares and Rosa Garcia discuss how much they enjoyed the Cabaret Review.

Seniors are wet and wild

Tanning, eating, playing games, listening to music, and swimming were all a part of the senior picnic. The senior picnic was held at Wet n' Wild in Garland from 1:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. on June 6th. The senior picnic was originally scheduled for June 5th, but because of the extensive rain, it was postponed until June 6th. The PTA sponsored this senior activity.

While at the picnic, seniors rode such rides as Hydramaniac, Body

Flumes, White Lightning, Lazy River, Wild Blue Yonder, Wave Pool, and Dragon's Tail. Some students preferred walking around or browsing through the gift shop.

At 5:00 p.m., barbeque, potato chips, pickles, cole slaw, and iced tea were served. A volleyball game was held, also. Sheree Davis said, "The senior picnic was fun because almost all of the senior class were together."

Honors make it to the top.

To become a high honor or honor graduate each senior had to have an eighty to one hundred grade point average. In the graduating class there were thirty-two honors, fifteen high honors, and one highest honor. The grade point average for honors was 85 to 89.9. The grade point average for high honors was 90 to 94.9.

The two highest honors were valedictorian and salutatorian, the two top seniors of the graduating class. These were Hugo Perez and Anthony Tabaniag. Anthony Tabaniag said, "I was ecstatic to graduate as salutatorian."

The high honor and honor graduates were announced before the senior assembly on June 3rd. Tonya Culton said, "I was honored to graduate with high honors because it was something I had looked forward to since my freshman year. I felt that I had really worked hard for it."

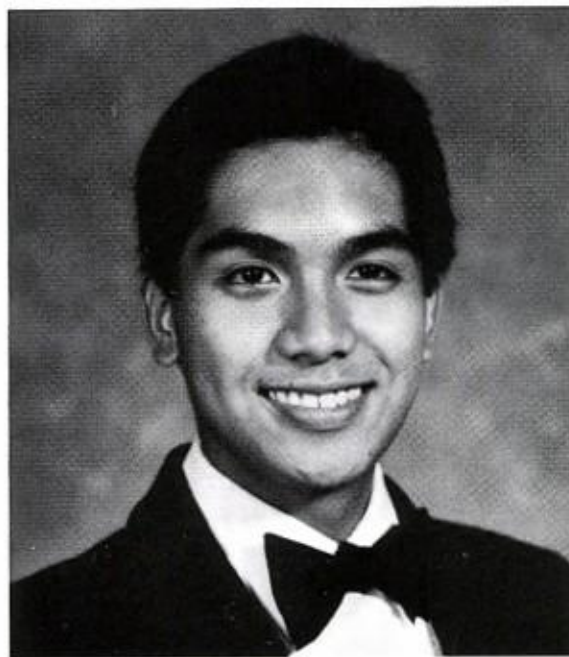

Hugo Perez and Anthony Tabaniag are proud to be valedictorian and salutatorian.

A class with class

"I was proud to graduate with the senior class of 1986 because with House Bill 72, the underclassmen really have it hard," stated Sheldon Kilgore. The class of 1986 started a new tradition. They were the first class ever to graduate at a fieldhouse. They were also the first class to graduate in the month of June.

The commencement exercises were held on June 7th at 8:00 p.m. at Loos Fieldhouse. The ceremony opened with the seniors marching in to "Pomp and Circumstance." The invocation was given by Hugo Perez, the valedictorian. The concert choir then sang "The Road Not Taken" and "The Lord Bless You and Keep

You." Dr. Hughey gave the welcome, and Ms. Hawkins introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Bob D. Harrison, a distinguished graduate of 1966. DISD Board of Education member, Mr. Richard Curry presented the diplomas. In return the seniors presented Mr. Curry with a bolt.

The seniors then sang the alma mater for the last time. Anthony Tabaniag, salutatorian, gave the benediction. Following was the recessional. Janet King said, "I was glad to graduate because I was getting tired of school." Derrick Williams added, "I was glad to graduate because I wanted to get out into the real world and make it on my own."

Anthony Richardson says, "Look Mom, I really did it!"

Lucy Chang gives Don Codillo a personal congratulations.

THE Spirit of COMPETING

The athletes, as well as the fans, were very spirited. The long hours striving for perfection during practice proved that the Spartans cared. The athletes worked hard in rain or shine. Students participated in such sports as football, basketball, baseball, soccer, golf, tennis, track, volleyball, and swimming.

Football player, Anthony Smith said, "During a game I thought about making touchdowns, executing the plays, and being noticed by everyone, mostly girls. Before a game, I thought about winning and losing. If we won, I thought about going to meet the fans, singing songs on the bus, being in the newspaper, and having a party, but if we lost, I thought about going and sleeping off my dissatisfaction." John Boleware's thoughts were a little different. He said, "I thought about pain, hitting the opponents, homework assignments that were due, and girls in the stands."

Basketball player, William Robertson stated, "I thought about what I was going to do and how I was going to accomplish that goal. I also thought about the outcome of the game and how well we played as a team."

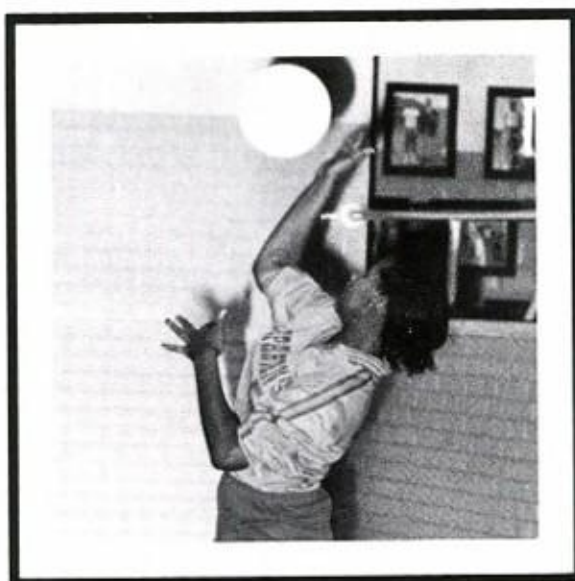

Soccer player, Cherry Brown said, "During a game I always thought about how I played as an individual and how we played as a team, but after a game I always thought about if I had played as well as I could."

Varsity fights for second

After being ranked last in district by newspapers, the Spartan varsity football team was determined to be victorious. They suffered a big disappointment when they tied for second place with South Oak Cliff and were eliminated from the playoffs because SOC's statistics were better. Cornelia Darden stated, "We started out slow but progressed as the season went on." Roy Waters added, "I felt that we could have done better, but there were too many mistakes."

"The varsity football team spent approximately ten hours a week practicing and working out," commented Kenneth Walton, "but it was well worth it." Mark Still added, "I didn't mind the practices because it made me feel bigger."

Not able to clinch district, the Spartans, however, were victorious over Skyline, Roosevelt, and Spruce. Ray Hulse stated, "I felt like taking our losses out on the opponents when we lost a game, but when we won I felt like preparing for the next win." Ronald Evans stated, "My senior year was not what I expected it to be, but I felt that we played well as a team."

Although "No-pass, No-play" affected many schools throughout the district, it was not a problem to Samuell's varsity football team. As a result, Samuell only lost two players. Carl Campbell commented, "I approved of no pass, no play because it made each individual study harder."

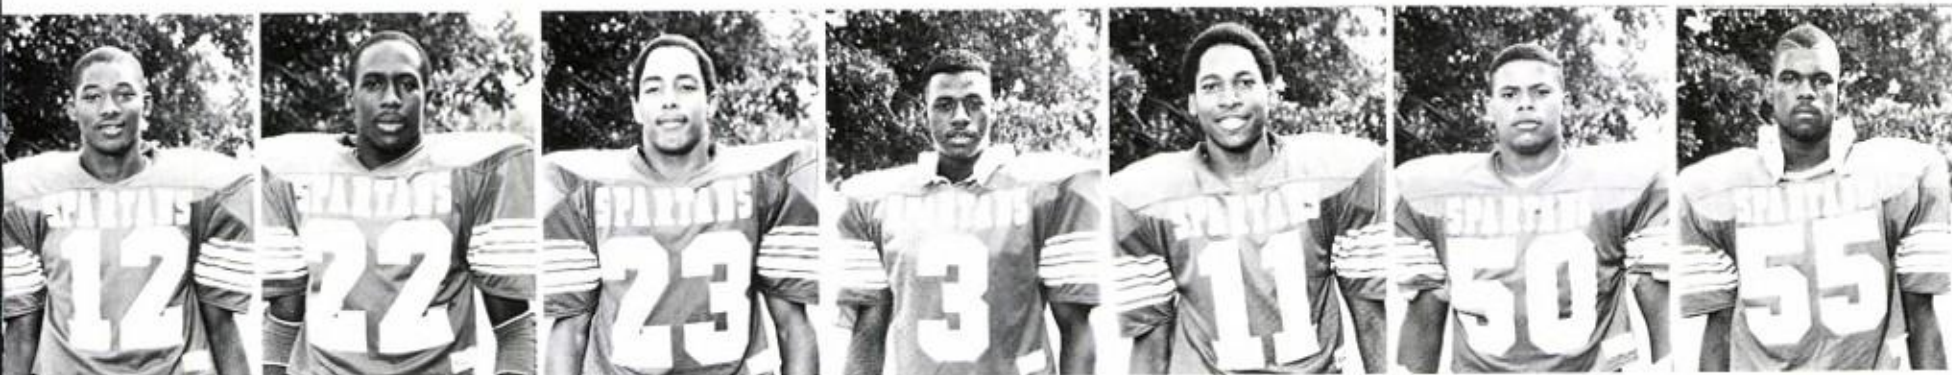

Seven varsity players were chosen to the All-District football team: First Team — Jeff Stephens; Second Team — Cornelia Darden, John Paul Jones, and Anthony Smith; Honorable Mention — Anthony Richardson, Kenneth Walton, and Darren Land. Kenneth Walton stated, "I was disappointed about getting Honorable Mention because I felt that I deserved better."

JV loses to "no-pass, no-play"

The season was very depressing for the junior varsity team. "No-pass, no-play caused us to lose over half of the team," stated Michael Moore. As a result of no-pass, no-play the junior varsity football team had to cancel their last two games. The season started with thirty-five eligible players and ended with only eighteen eligible players.

The junior varsity practiced every day during seventh period and after school. They ended the season with one win and five losses. Hubert Reese said, "Some of the players were really good, but a lot of them were inexperienced, and I felt that was our biggest handicap in winning district."

Coach Peterson stated his contributions to the junior varsity football team consisted of his coaching experience, his philosophy, his coaching program, and extra work put into practice and tutoring.

Freshmen exceed expectations

Some of the freshmen received their first chance to show their athletic ability on the freshman football team. The baby blue consisted of sixty-five members until grades came out. Coach Johnson commented, "No-pass, no-play caused us to lose half of our team."

Coach Johnson worked hard to make the team a success. He said, "I pushed them during seventh period at practice every day. My biggest contribution to the freshman football team was to promote team unity and overall provide an enjoyable playing atmosphere."

Richie Ansley stated, "We had a good team because our coaches were good." Aubrey Lee added, "I think we worked well as a team because our coaching staff gave us the extra push we needed to make us successful."

The team ended its season with a second place spot in district. Johnnie Johnson said, "I was satisfied with the season, but I felt that we should have won our last game."

The Spartans are on their mark, set, and ready to go at the Norbuck meet.

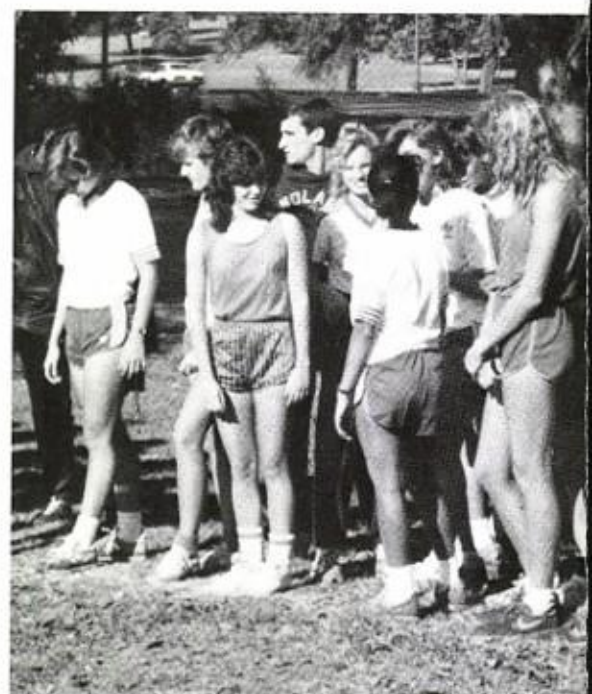

Cross country makes tracks

Long hours, a few calluses, and worn out Nike shoes characterized the members of the cross country team. The cross country team worked hard to do their best and represent Samuell. They proved that they were interested by participating in cross country track meets on Saturdays. "Even though they did not place in the top ten, they still worked hard. I think they worked well together because they were dedicated and enjoyed running," stated Ms. Ballard.

Cross country was an excellent sport because it helped the participants stay in shape and let them excel as individuals or as a team according to Deanna Buckner. There were eleven members on the cross country team.

Sheldon Kilgore stated, "I enjoyed running cross country because it let me fulfill the desire I have to run." Lonnie Stevens said, "I accomplished many things by running cross country and those included stamina and strengthened leg muscles."

Deanna Buckner visits with fellow runners before the district meet.

On the court

Coach Lopez worked with the varsity volleyball team to give them the extra push they needed. Coach Lopez said, "We worked well as a team because everyone worked together with positive attitudes and no complaints. I actually think this was their best year."

It was a disappointing season for the junior varsity volleyball team. They ended their season with third place in district. The junior varsity volleyball team consisted of twelve members. Alicia Potts commented, "I think we could have done better, but we played sloppy. We were playing against each other instead of trying to work as a team."

The girls varsity basketball team did not play well. They suffered from injuries and ineligible players.

Carlette Armstrong said, "It was discouraging when I was injured because I felt I let my team down."

The varsity basketball team lost almost all their games, but it was not because they did not practice. Coach Crafton said, "I think the reason they did not play well was because of injuries all year long."

The junior varsity team had a disappointing season, too. They ended their season with two wins and fifteen losses. Dhanheen McDowell said, "The best part about playing junior varsity basketball was that everyone was pulling together to try and make a better team." Anita Jeffery added, "The worst part was playing basketball with inexperienced freshmen."

The hoop was hot

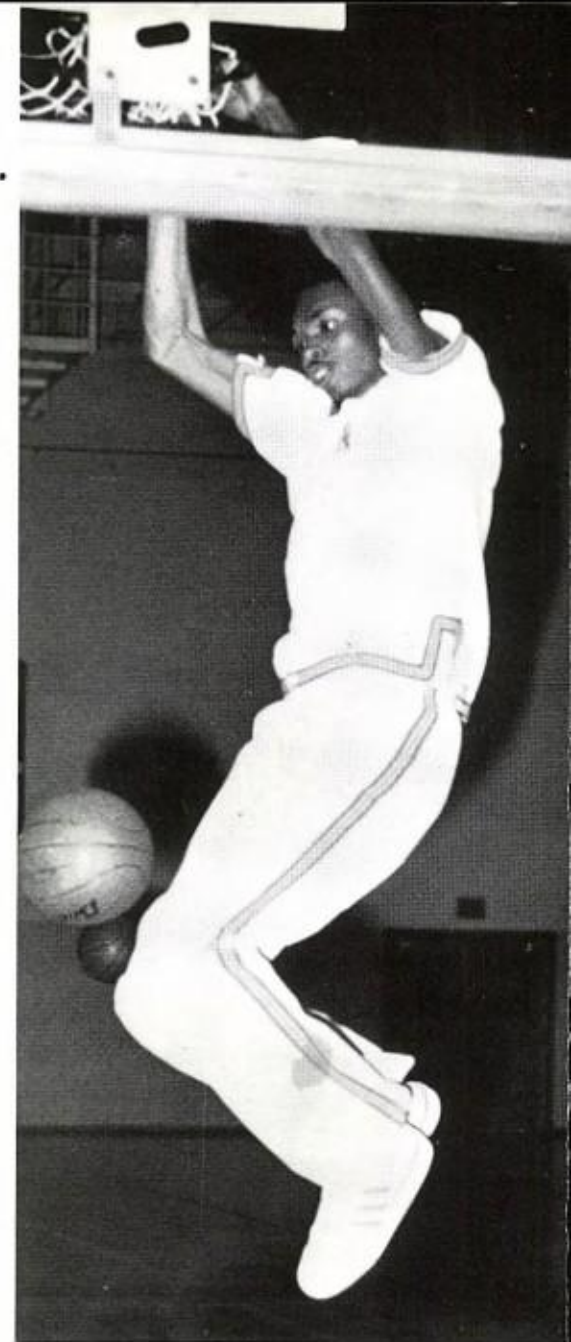

Placing third in district, the boys' varsity basketball team had much support from fans. Their athletic ability led to many wins. Larry Ross said, "I had many goals set for myself while playing varsity basketball. One of them included making myself a better person by carrying out the school's winning tradition."

The boys varsity basketball team ended its season with twenty wins and eleven losses. Coach Scott said, "I thought that the boys worked well as a team."

The junior varsity basketball team, under the direction of Coach Oliphant, ended its season with two wins and twelve losses. Derrick Cooper said, "I thought the season ended terribly because we did not win enough games."

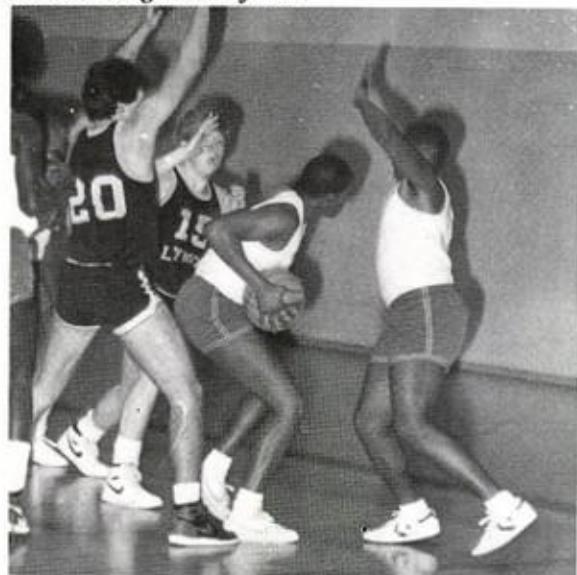

The freshman basketball team played very well. Coach Peterson said, "We ranked second in district with seventeen wins and four losses." Lakieth Ausborne said, "The best part of playing basketball was participating in the tournaments." Eric Meneffee added, "I liked representing my school."

Back in the swing of things

An eagle, a birdie, a bogie, and sand traps were familiar terms to the golf team, led by the new coach, Mr. Tallet. There were seven members on the golf team, but only two were eligible during the first match. Mr. Tallet said, "It was difficult to participate and be winners with only two eligible players."

On April 17th the golf team participated in a tournament at Keeton Municipal Golf Course.

The members of the golf team had different reasons for participating in this sport. David Jones said, "I participated in golf because it was a fun sport and I kept in good shape by walking a lot." Mitch Rogers said, "I really did not enjoy golf. I participated because it was something to keep me busy." Billy Robinson said, "I participated in golf for many reasons. I thought it was a relaxing sport, and I enjoyed being out in the sun. I also thought it was fun because I did not have to use my brain."

Mitch Rogers is in the rough.

Sink or swim

Swimming freestyle and learning backstrokes and breaststrokes during seventh period kept the swim team members busy part of the 1985-1986 school year.

The swim team had a good season with wins over Roosevelt, South Oak Cliff, and Spruce. Terry Carol said, "I enjoyed being on the swim team because it was a learning experience."

The swim team started out with thirty-five members but were left with only twelve members after the first six weeks. Karen Hansen, manager, said, "I enjoyed helping out members on the swim team because it taught me responsibility and gave me a sense of self-discipline."

At the regional swim meet, March 7th and 8th, George Soliz placed sixth in diving. Ms. Ballard said, "We did not do too well at the regional swim meet, but we had a great year."

Always on the run

Practicing daily during seventh period on the soccer field and running around the school numerous times were nothing new to the twenty-one members of the track team. Terence Lewis, who ran the 1600 meter run and the two mile run, said, "I enjoyed running track because it was good for me and was a rewarding experience."

April 17th through April 19th the boys track team went to regionals. Their best events were the one hundred and ten and the three hundred meter hurdles, the four hundred meter run, the eight hundred meter run, the sixteen hundred meter run, and the thirty-two hundred meter run. Kenneth Tatum said, "I felt great about going to the regional meet." Corey Dickerson added, "I went into the track season with the means to go to state, but injuries changed everything."

Keeping in step

Sprint, hurdles, and pace were all familiar terms to the girls' track team.

This year the girls' track team was very successful. Stephanie Benson and Valicia Lipscomb qualified for the regionals by placing first and second in the one-hundred meter hurdles. Tonya Atkins placed third in the eight-hundred meter dash. Adrian Sims placed second in the sixteen-hundred meter run. Gloria Johnson, Vickie Patt, Valicia Lipscomb, and

Stephanie Benson placed second in the four-hundred meter relay. Vickie Patt said, "I was very excited about winning."

Those that placed first, second, and third went to regionals on May 2nd and 3rd in Mesquite. Michelle Gunter said, "I thought that I worked hard and deserved to go to regionals." Coach Miller said, "I was proud of all the girls because they ran great races and put forth an effort."

Alive and kicking

Practicing daily during seventh period kept the girls soccer team sore and tired. "Despite the pain and hard work, I loved playing soccer. It was my favorite sport," stated Valicia Lipscomb.

The girls soccer team had a very good season with seven wins and three losses. They won second place in district and advanced to the playoffs.

Some members of the soccer team were chosen for the All District Team. Chosen for the first team were Angela Martel, Laura Powell, and Cherry Brown. Vanessa Spencer was selected for second team. Deanna Brown, Valicia Lipscomb, and Kim Williams were chosen for honorable mention. Cherry Brown said, "It was an honor being chosen as a first team member considering there were only a few girls chosen out of district 12-5A."

Heading for the playoffs

Some confusion about the eligibility requirements for players made for an unhappy ending to an otherwise good season. A player was declared ineligible after it was discovered he also played on a league team.

The twenty member team placed third in district with eight wins and five losses. They were to advance in the playoffs until the ineligible player was discovered. Despite the disappointment, the team had a successful season. Lonnie Stevens said, "I thought we had a good chance to go to playoffs, maybe even state."

Many hours were spent by the members practicing after school at Samuell and at Forester. Kenneth Athey said, "I enjoyed playing soccer because we got along well as a team."

Tennis team tumbles

Love, fault, and deuce were familiar terms to the tennis team. The seventeen members practiced daily during seventh period. Nike or Reebok tennis shoes and Wilson or Prince tennis equipment were a must on the tennis court. Robert Bailey said, "Practicing and playing tennis was fun."

This year the tennis team was under new direction. Ms. Branch led the team to four wins and six losses.

She said, "Our toughest competition was Skyline, but otherwise the rest were easy."

Most of the tennis matches were held at Samuell Grand Park. Samantha Worley said, "I enjoyed tennis because it kept me in shape, and it gave me something to do." Khristina Lefils said, "I thought tennis was a fun sport." This year the tennis team tied for fourth place in the district.

Spring is in the air

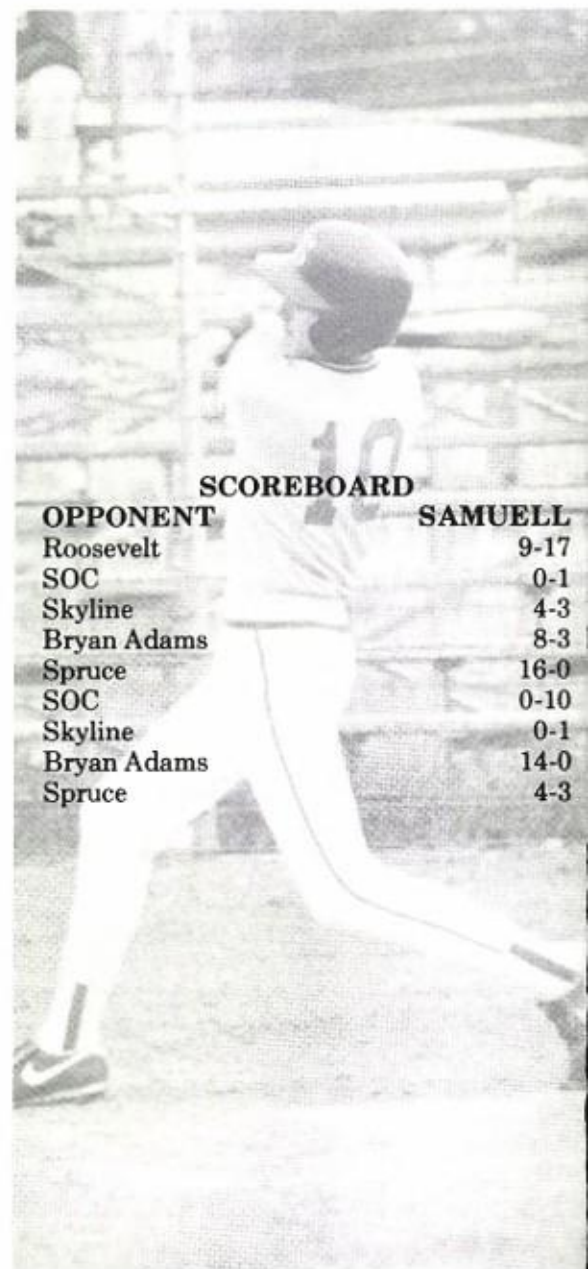

"Baseball was my life. I had three older brothers who were good in sports but never did anything with their ability. Their support behind me kept me striving for nothing less than trying to be good," stated Lance Phillips.

Most of the varsity baseball players felt the same. Some of the members on the baseball team even wanted to make a career out of the sport.

The season ended with twelve wins and eight losses and fourth place in district, behind Bryan Adams, Skyline, and Spruce. The season was somewhat disappointing to them.

Most of the games were played at Pleasant Grove, while the practices were held at Samuell from 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Mike Carlisle said, "I had fun playing baseball because the competition was tough. I also enjoyed playing baseball because everyone had a chance to be a winner. It took team work." Coach Johnson added, "We had many inexperienced players, but we still played well. I felt that we will benefit from it in the future."

Batter up

"I was very disappointed about the way the season ended. I think the major factor was that a lot of my good players flunked classes," stated Coach Scott.

The season was not too good for the junior varsity baseball team because they won only five games and lost five. Craig Blair said, "I was disappointed about the way we played as a team and about all those guys who failed."

The sixteen members practiced during seventh period. Most of their games were held on the baseball diamond at Samuell. This gave many Spartan fans a chance to attend. Jay Spears said, "We could have won a lot of games, if we had not lost so many players." Cary Blair said, "We will probably have a better team during the 1986-1987 school year."

THE Spirit of LEARNING

Reading MacBeth and Beowulf, writing research papers, studying about the history of our country, learning the value of numbers, and dissecting animals were all a part of the academic world at Samuell.

Academic changes occurred during the school year. A new requirement for juniors was that they must pass the TEAMS test before graduating. Another change that affected everyone was the use of numerical grades. This hurt many students. Under the old system an "F" and an "A" would average out to be a "C." This year a "0" and a "100" averaged out to a "50," which was not passing.

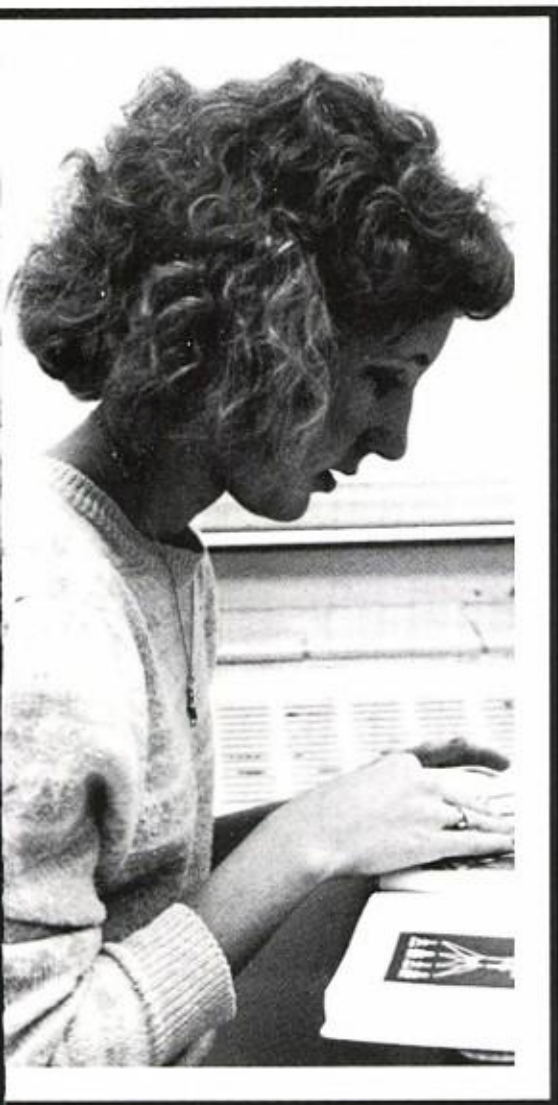

The teachers worked extremely hard to make the students learn more and to emphasize what was expected. All teachers provided course outlines.

Senior, Tracey Smith said, "The teachers at Samuell lived up to their standard because the grading system had changed and more students were realizing that there were no longer "D's" in the grading system; therefore, students were having to study harder and make an effort to work to pass courses."

Other students felt different about the academic program. Robin Dean said, "I did not feel that the students at Samuell were living up to their fullest capabilities. Some students were not really trying." Alonzo Zachery added, "I thought the students at Samuell were doing only what they wanted. They were not trying to succeed in life and become someone."

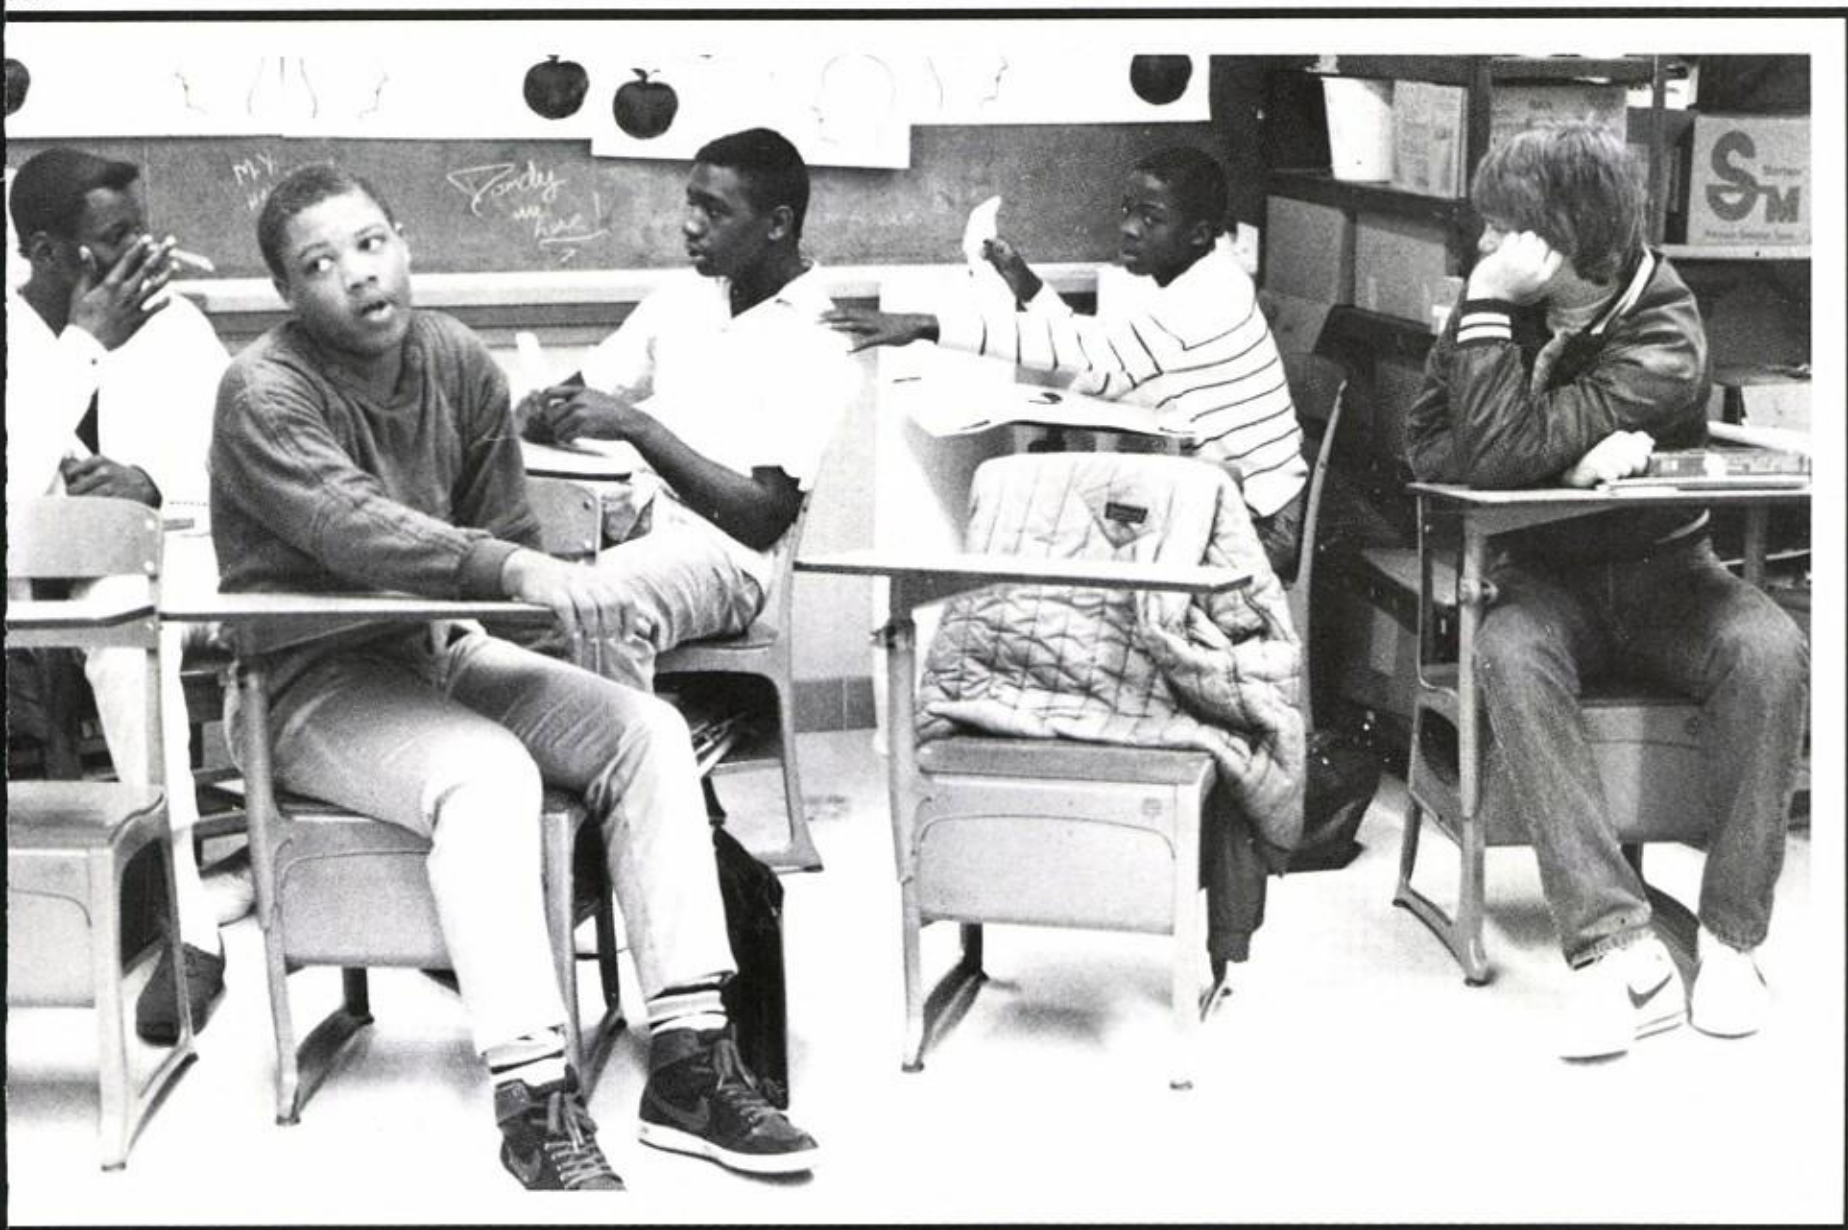

Tyren Lang takes a breath of fresh air during Ms. Dabney's seventh period F.O.M. class.

In homeroom Gentish Anderson, Fredrick Anderson, Richie Ansley, Raymond Baty, and David Arredondo wait for Ms. Adams to pass out report cards.

The spirit of math

Learning number sense and the sides of quadrilateral triangles, solving equations, and working out computer problems were all part of the math program at Samuell. Leonard Thompson said, "I enjoyed pre-algebra. It was my favorite subject, so I made better grades in that subject than any other."

Algebra I and II, geometry, pre-calculus, and trigonometry were all mathematics courses that were available at Samuell. Larry Fields said, "I enjoyed algebra. I felt that everyone would need to know math later in life." Patrice Pettigrew said, "I enjoyed algebra I although I sometimes did not understand it."

Fundamentals of math classes were also offered at Samuell for students who needed extra help. Robert Utley said, "I did not like math because I thought it was too hard."

Iris Steward admires the plane curves of her c in geometry.

The spirit of English

Reading Hamlet, MacBeth, Beowulf, and Romeo and Juliet were all a part of being in an English class offered at Samuell. In English, students had to write research papers, study literature, analyze poetry and prose, and read short stories. Edwin Lara said, "English I was my favorite subject. I had Ms. Groggs, and I thought she was really nice." Vanda Edwards added, "I had Ms. Adams for English IVA, and she made learning fun."

For students who had problems in English, reading improvement and correlative language arts were offered. Patrice Sutton said, "I like Ms. Adams' reading improvement class because everyone worked together." Curfey Goldman added, "I liked Ms. Braden's reading improvement class because she helped us a lot, and she was not bossy."

Other courses that were offered included practical writing and advanced reading. Students received enrichment credit for those courses. Tracey Smith said, "I enjoyed Ms. McCollum's practical writing; it taught me correct English."

In homeroom, Karen Boyce anticipates a good report card.

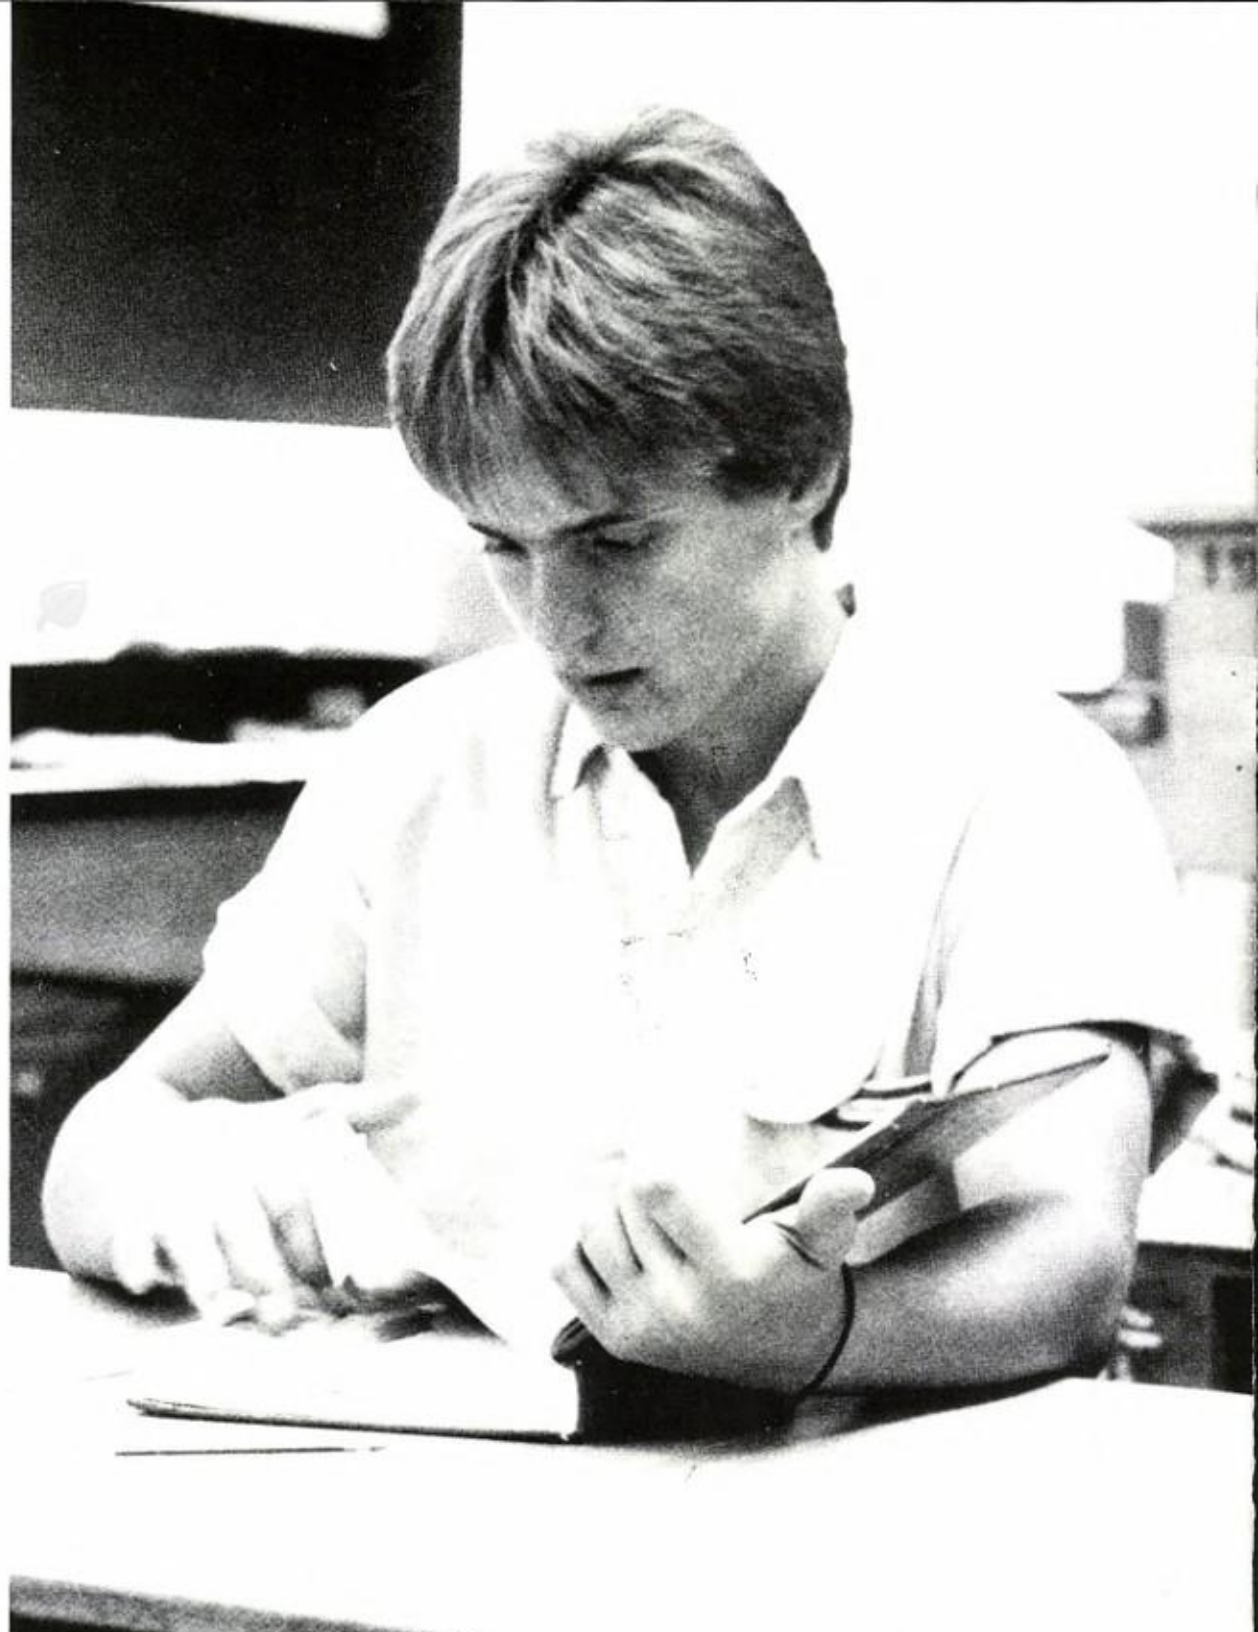

Melissa Carol, Susan McAnally, Anthony Tabaniag, and Maria Olivares anxiously await for Ms. McCollum to give the signal to open presents.

The spirit of science

Studying the laws of gravity and nature, animal and plant life, chemicals, the human anatomy, and dissecting animals were all a part of the science program at Samuell.

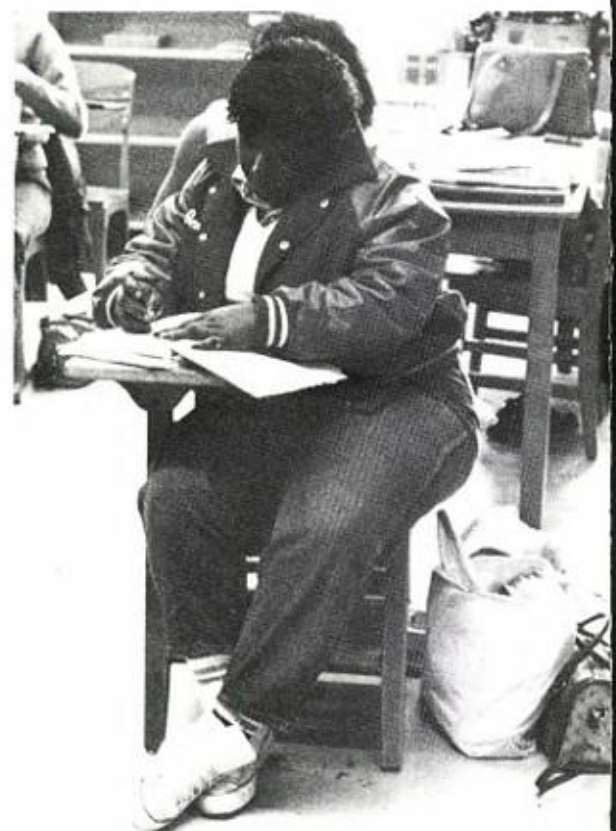

There were many science courses offered at Samuell; some of which included biology and advanced placement biology, physics, chemistry and physical science. Tania Benavidez said, "I liked biology because some things were interesting."

Students had many different science classes to choose from since only two years of science were required for graduation. Donnis Boston said, "I did not like any science because it was a boring subject." Shelly Hooker said, "Physical science was okay at times, but sometimes it was boring."

The spirit of history

Learning about the Revolutionary War, the Chang Dynasty, how countries were governed, the United States government, and the Spartans were all a part of the social studies curriculum at Samuell. Morris Simmons said, "I liked American history because I learned many different things from it."

American history, American government, and world history were all required before a student could graduate. Samuel Wilson said, "I enjoyed Coach Miller's American history class because he made the work easy." Wendy Green added, "I enjoyed Ms. Ballard's world history class because she was a good teacher, and she knew how to deal with students my age."

As enrichment, sociology and psychology were also offered. Scott Warner said, "I loved American history because it was an easy subject."

The spirit of electives

Metal shop, child development, homemaking, wood shop, typing, home management, accounting, general business, and drafting were only a few of the electives that students had to choose from.

Students had to have seven electives to graduate. Electives were offered to give students the opportunity to learn more than the basic subjects. It also gave students a chance to decide what career or field they would choose after graduation. Lonnie Stevens said, "I liked Mr. Allen's advanced architecture class because he made it interesting and fun."

French, Spanish, and computer math were electives, but were also considered enrichments. Sotora Cleveland said, "I liked Ms. Robinson's Computer Math I class because it was fun."

Other electives included the work programs such as HECE, CVAE, DE, and ICT. Donovan Tanner said, "I enjoyed being in the DECA work program because I liked going to school half a day then going to work."

The spirit of rules

New rules and regulations were brought about this year by House Bill 72. The new rules were that the underclassmen had to take the TEAMS test before graduating. They were given several chances to pass it, but if they did not pass it, then they could not graduate. Tim Dula said, "I hated House Bill 72 because it took away many of the privileges that we had, and it is getting tougher each year."

A similar rule was that the teachers had to take the TECAT test to prove that they were qualified to teach.

They, too, were given two chances, and if they did not pass, they could no longer teach.

Anthony Richardson said, "I thought that House Bill 72 had some good and bad points. The good points were that it made students study harder, but the bad point was that the teachers had to take a test to prove that they were eligible to teach after going to school for so many years." Tonya May said, "I felt that House Bill 72 had some good and bad points, also. I thought people just took it the wrong way."

In the clinic, Michelle Kirksey wonders if anyone ever gets sick anymore.

Benetta Gaston waits patiently as Mr. Wartes changes the marching formation again.

The spirit of fine arts

Choir, art, drama, and theater arts were all offered at Samuell as elective credit in the fine arts department. Students who were interested signed up for these courses and developed their talents.

In choir students learned to sight read and sang new songs. Molly Yandell said, "I enjoyed being in choir because I liked singing."

In art, students used water colors, oils, pastels, tempera paint, and colored pencils. They learned how to paint and sketch. Terri McNally said, "I enjoyed art because it was different from all my other classes. It was really fun." Chris Cornelius added, "I enjoyed being in art because I liked drawing."

In drama and deaf theater arts, students memorized lines for plays, acted in improvisation and pantomime, danced to modern and jazz music, and performed sign language to the music. Dottie Bellah said, "I liked drama because it taught me responsibility."

Robin Klimpel types up another script for Ms. McFarland in theater arts.

Jennifer Graham turns in a business letter in VOE.

Rosalie York does the "tequila dance" in first period band.

THE Spirit of BELONGING

Participation was the key to success for students at Samuell. Students who were involved usually made better grades and enjoyed the year more than those who did not participate according to Ms. Butler. Students took part in various activities. They participated in the German Club, the drill team, the cheerleading squad, the student council, Blue Jackets, National Honor Society, Red Cross, and ROTC.

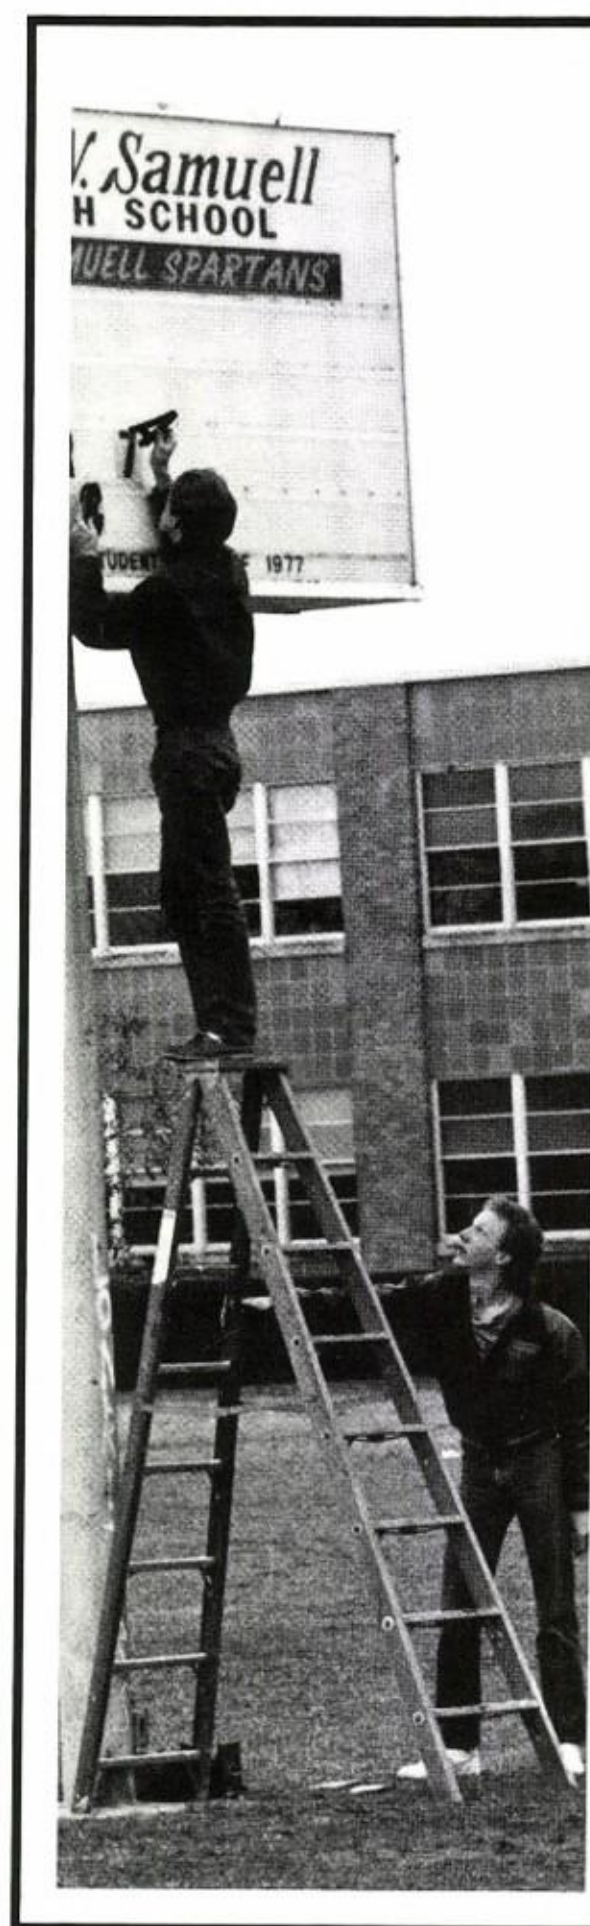

A part of participation in organizations was practice. Many hours were spent before and after school on number sense for the Math Club, rehearsing lines for the one act play, singing songs for UIL choir competition, practicing routines for the half time show, and learning new stunts for pep assemblies.

Priscilla Ramirez said, "Sometimes we practiced before and after school for varsity cheerleading. It took many hours, but it was worth it because it gave me the chance to show my school spirit."

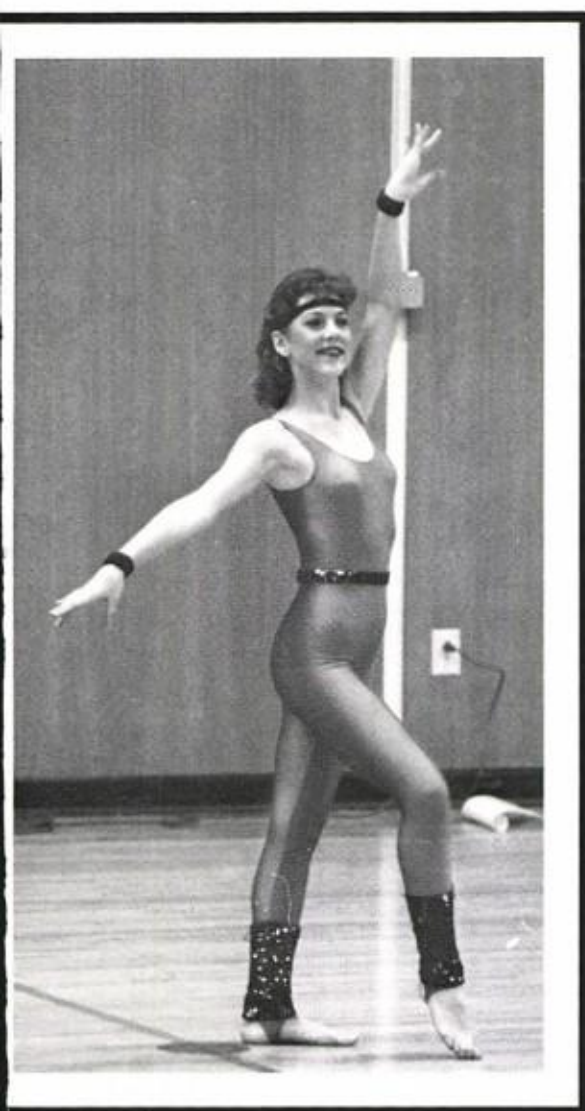

Bridget Donahue said, "I thought it was a fun experience to participate in FHA because I really enjoyed the activities that we did, such as the ceremonies and the adoption of a family at Christmas."

Leanna Worley and Christian Young said, "We thought it was fun participating in the student council and Blue Jackets because it gave us a chance to meet people our freshman year."

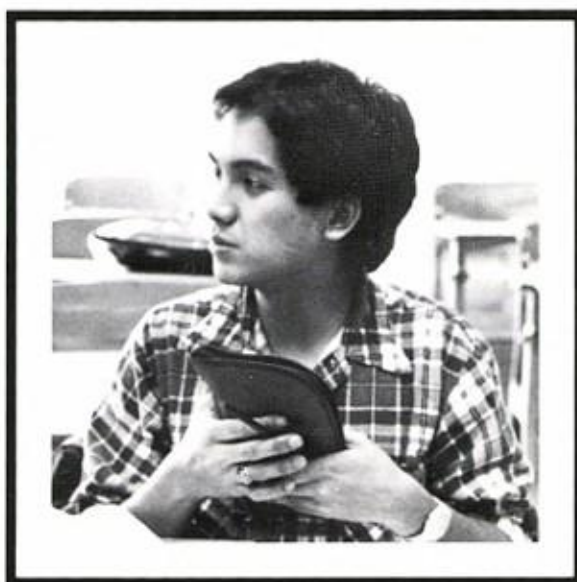

Student participation made the 1985-1986 school year a good one for most Spartans.

Starlets reach for the stars

Monica Hamilton said, "I felt that we were really spirited because we put our all into every event we participated in." The award winning Starlets were very active and involved.

The thirty drill team members attended camp during the summer at SMU. They won several awards including the Sweepstakes Award and Choreographic Award for "best home routine." There were also many individual awards and ribbons won. Sabrina Thompson received an award for outstanding marching. She said, "I was excited when I won the award. It made me proud to represent my school."

The officers attended camp during the summer also. They received a division "1" rating. Sherri Wafford and Junior Lieutenant Cynthia Espinoza were chosen as members of Who's Who in American Drill Teams. Cynthia Espinoza said, "I was proud when I won the award because a lot of effort was put into it, and it paid off."

The Starlets entertained fans during half time at football games and performed at pep assemblies which required daily practice at 7:00 a.m.

This year the Starlets went to competition in New Orleans along with their sponsor, Ms. Debbie Lynd. At competition the Starlets won the Sweepstakes Award and Judges Award for best military routine. The officers received a division "2" rating. Sheree Davis said, "I was excited about the trip to New Orleans as well as the results of competition because Ms. Lynd did not think we could do it. New Orleans was interesting, especially Bourbon Street."

Varsity cheerleaders have Spartan spirit

The varsity cheerleaders had a very spirited year. They spent many hours practicing cheers, chants, and pyramids for games and pep assemblies. They attended all varsity sporting events including football games, basketball games, soccer games, swim meets, and baseball games. They also assisted with spring tryouts for cheerleader elections.

The nine varsity cheerleaders were selected by the student body last year. Before trying out they had to learn thirty-five cheers, one of which was an original cheer made up in small groups. Anthony Tabaniag said, "I was proud to be a varsity cheerleader because it was a great way to show my spirit."

The varsity cheerleaders' year began soon after spring tryouts. They cheered at the Blue and Gold game along with the 1984-85 cheerleaders.

The varsity cheerleaders attended camp at SMU during the summer along with their sponsor, Ms. Adams. They won two superior ribbons, two outstanding ribbons, and a spirit stick. Michelle Lipscomb said, "I thought that going to camp was profitable and competitive because it taught us how to be spirited, how to work as a group, and how to make our motions sharper."

The five banner team members were part of the cheerleader family. They attended varsity events along with the cheerleaders. They also hung posters and decorated the auditorium for pep assemblies. Don Codillo stated, "I enjoyed being on the banner team because it was fun, and it gave me the chance to support my school."

This year the varsity cheerleaders participated in a new event. They entered the cheerleader competition on March 1st at W. T. White High School.

JV cheerleaders have spirit too

"Promoting school spirit and cheering at various freshman and junior varsity sporting events were the junior varsity cheerleaders' duties," according to Shannon Shaw. Donna Davis said, "I enjoyed being a junior varsity cheerleader because it was my first experience being involved in high school activities."

The thirteen member squad attended camp at Southern Methodist University during the summer. At camp they won several ribbons and brought home a spirit stick. Joni Arnold said, "I was excited about going to camp and winning awards. I also had fun meeting different people at camp."

The junior varsity cheerleaders had their annual pep assembly during football season to recognize the freshman and junior varsity football teams and to introduce their new sponsor, Ms. Tobola. Carol Kristof said, "I enjoyed being a junior varsity cheerleader because it gave me something to do, and it was a great way to show my school spirit."

The band played on and on and on

The no-pass, no-play rule sidelined twenty-six members of the band after the first six weeks. With only twenty members eligible, the band did not play at the Roosevelt game. They finally regrouped and played on the sideline according to John White.

Under the leadership of Mr. Wartes, the Spartan band participated in many activities and events. The forty-six members performed at pep assemblies and football games. They also participated in such activities and events as UIL competition, the Veterans Day Ceremony, the Christmas concert, the Solo and Ensemble contest, and the DISD Band Contest at Seagoville.

Kevin Brisendine said, "I enjoyed being in the band because I liked the people and the activities we participated in." "The band improved as the year progressed," stated Mr. Wartes. Their last two performances were the Blue and Gold game and graduation.

Watch out for the Blue Jackets

Making posters every week, choosing a football player and Blue Jacket member of the week, decorating the halls during Homecoming, performing hand routines, and helping the cheerleaders cheer in the pep assemblies and at football games kept the one hundred and twenty-eight Blue Jackets busy part of the year.

Later during the year, the Blue Jackets held their annual spring banquet and officer elections. Belinda

Mays said, "I enjoyed going to the games and teaching the others cheers."

This year the officers were president — Jana Langston, vice-presidents — Belinda Mays and Marla Jackson, secretary — Priscilla Hope, treasurer — Lori Guerra, and reporter — Lori Hoppert. Jana Langston said, "I enjoyed going to the games and participating in cheering on the team."

Art Club paints the town red

Under the direction of Ms. Robertson, the art club went on many field trips. They went to the Dallas Museum of Art to see the Reeve's Collection and the Mayan Exhibit. They also went to the Gateway Gallery and took a sketching field trip to the zoo and the National Museum. Terrence Lewis said, "I enjoyed being in the art club because I enjoyed going on the field trips."

Besides going on field trips, the art club invited great artist speakers to speak to the art classes. The members participated in the Hands-On Workshop. Sandra Doughty said, "I enjoyed being in the art club because I liked to draw, and I enjoyed the trips that we went on." Maria Olivares added, "I liked being in the art club because I learned a great deal about art."

Vive la France

Learning the French language and culture and tasting and cooking French cuisine was the main emphasis of Le Cercle Français or French Club. Members enjoyed learning "the language of love."

The French Club participated in many activities. During Christmas, they had their annual Le Revellion, or Midnight Supper, during each class period. They also made French Christmas cards, posters, and tabletop scenes.

On Valentines Day, they made French Valentine Cards. They also held a float contest to help celebrate Mardi Gras. During this celebration, they wore costumes to add to the festivities. John White said, "I enjoyed being in the French Club and experiencing the French culture."

On February 24 the French Club held its annual French banquet at the Magic Pan, a French restaurant in North Park Mall. They also participated in We are the World.

What's happening in Spanish?

Enjoying the Spanish culture was part of being a member of the Spanish Club. Molly Yandell said, "It was fun being in the Spanish Club because I got a chance to learn about the Spanish culture."

This year the Spanish Club was under the new direction of Mr. Sosa. He said, I enjoyed sponsoring the Spanish club, but we did not participate in many activities because it was all new to me." They participated in We Are the World where a dance was presented, and they participated in Cinco de Mayo in May.

The Spanish club sold candy and nachos as a fundraiser for their trip to San Antonio during Spring break.

The officers were Robert Bailey — president, Molly Yandell — vice president, Maria Olivares — secretary, and Sabrina Thompson — treasurer. Robert Bailey said, "Being in the Spanish club was as much fun as being president. I felt great being a part of the Spanish club."

Something new

German was offered at Samuell for the first time. The sponsor of the German club was Dr. Hankins. He said, "We did not do much during the 1985-1986 school year because our group consisted of only thirteen members and everything was new to them. I think it will be better next year because I am hoping for a large group."

The German club did buy sweat-shirts, t-shirts, pens, and caps with German slogans on them. They also sold candy as a fund raiser to have dinner at Kuby's, a German restaurant near SMU. Debbye Seifert said, "I liked being in the German club even though we did not do much."

Student achievers

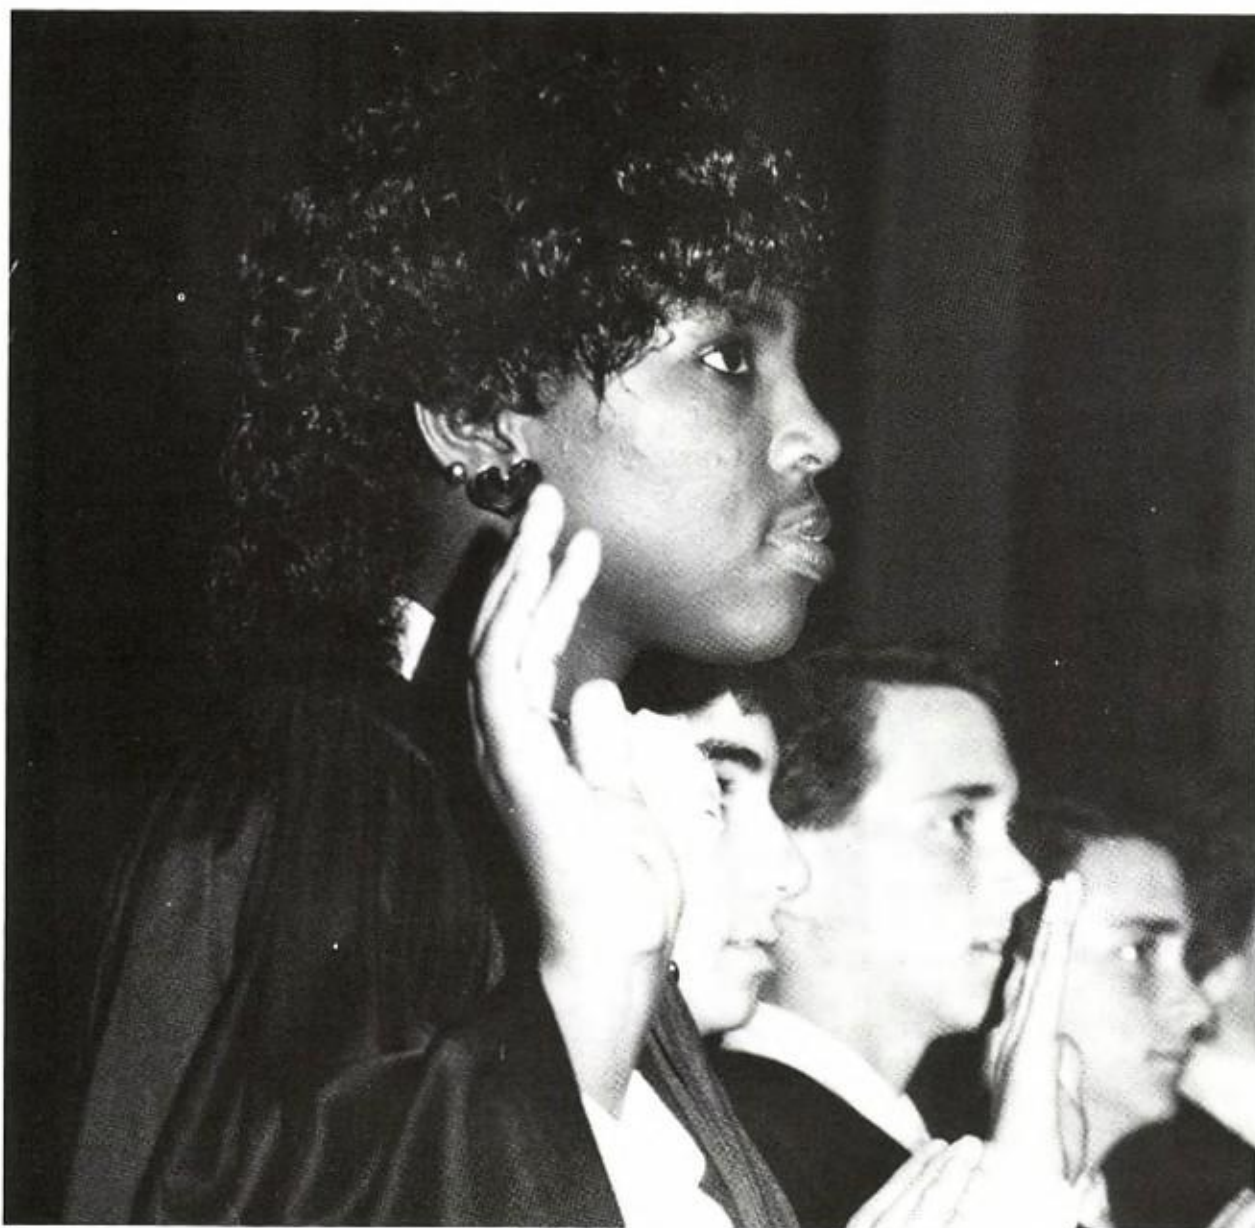

The National Honor Society was responsible for many things at Samuell. They sold Samuell Spartan pens, published the student directory, and stuffed the graduation diplomas.

They also held an induction ceremony on April 24th at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. There were twenty-four new members inducted into National Honor Society. There were four seniors, five juniors and fifteen sophomores. Maria Olivares said, "I was excited about being inducted because it was something I had dreamed about since my freshman year."

The guest speaker was Mr. John Evans, City Councilman Place 7, who spoke about leadership, grades, and the future. Susan McAnally said, "I thought the speaker was good because he was very encouraging."

Dr. Hughey made the closing remarks and congratulated each old and new member. Sandy Gibson said, "I thought the induction was a success even though we did not practice much."

Breaking away

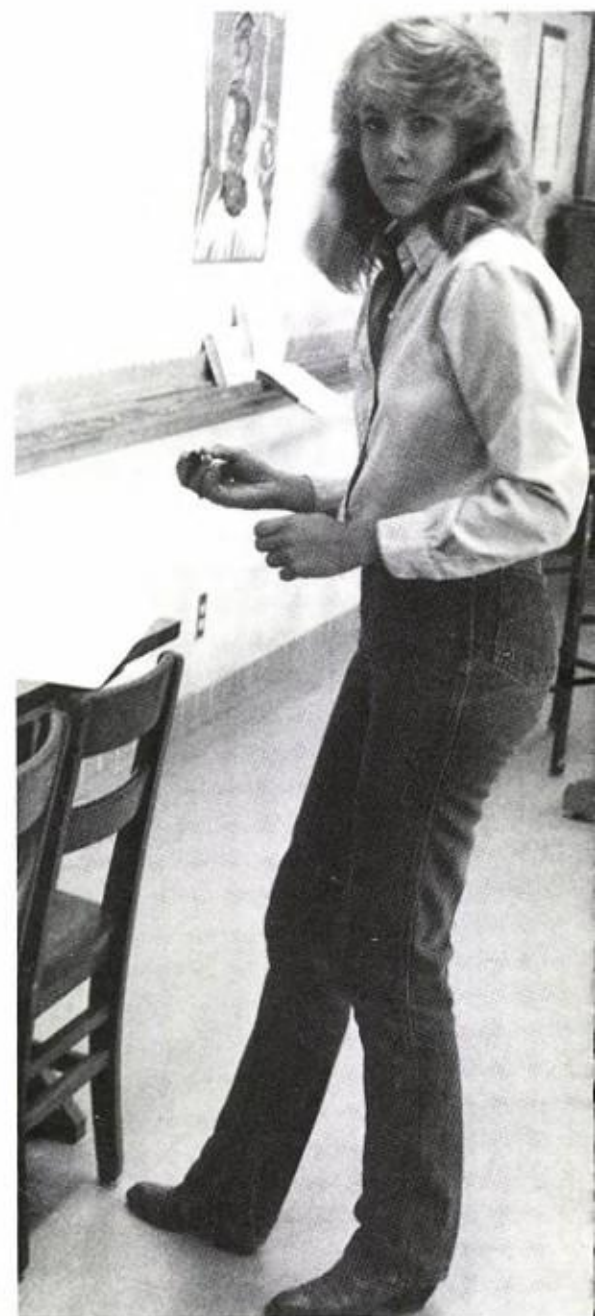

The student council was known as the leaders of the pack because they sponsored many activities for the student body. Monica Hamilton said, "I enjoyed being in student council because it helped me develop the qualities of a good leader."

The student council sponsored many dances including the Welcome Back Bash in September. They also sponsored the Homecoming Dance in November, the Valentine Dance in February, and the Spring Dance in May.

During Thanksgiving the student council held a can drive. Food and clothing were collected for needy people. At Christmas they sponsored a door-decorating contest where the teacher with the best door decorations won. They also sponsored their annual leg and feet contest. A new addition to the contest list was Mr. Levi's. The person with the best fitting Levi's was the winner. Denise Tribe said, "Being in student council was fun because I was always involved with a lot of different activities."

In April members attended the annual spring banquet where the new officers were installed. Finally, in May some of the members went to camp in Austin. Shannon Julsen said, "I thought it was great to be a member because I enjoyed representing the senior class and getting their opinions and ideas."

It's a real trip

Service oriented Allied Youth provided much information on drug and alcohol abuse to middle school students. Students went to Hood and Comstock. Bridget Donahue said, "I enjoyed going to the junior high schools and talking to students about drugs. I feel that they were made aware of the problems drugs cause."

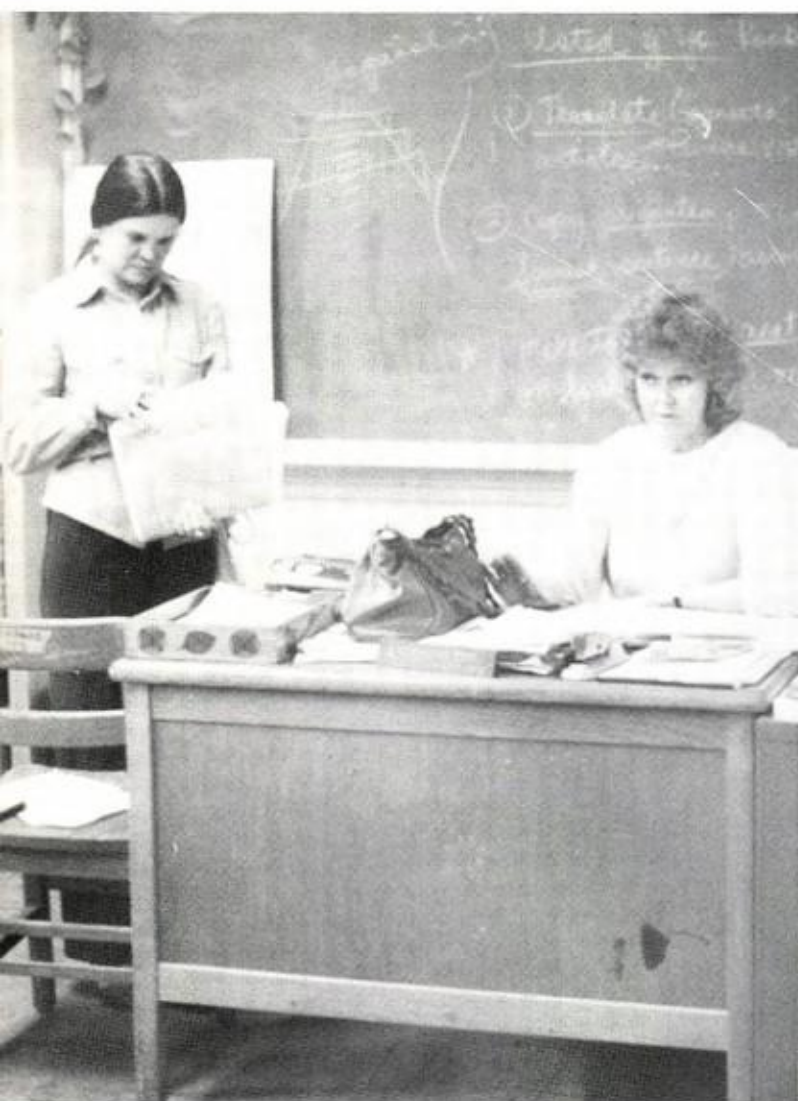

The Allied Youth also participated in other activities. At Thanksgiving, they adopted an elderly lady and provided her with Thanksgiving dinner. At Christmas, they adopted a family and provided them with food, gifts, a tree, and decorations for the tree. Ten members also attended the Southwest Allied Youth Conference in Lake Bridgeport.

As their fund raiser this year they sold candy to raise money for their banquet. Ricky Montalvo said, "This year our banquet was at Crystal's. I really enjoyed it."

They're really cooking

Making outfits, preparing meals, learning how to manage homes, and learning the care of babies were all a part of Future Homemakers of America. There were four chapters at Samuell. Each chapter had its own sponsor. The sponsors were Ms. Fanner, Ms. Yater, Ms. Evans, and Ms. Armstrong.

All chapters participated in many activities. In October FHA members collected money for the relief aid to Mexico. They also held a reception for paid members and held their own Future Homemakers of America Fair Day. In November members participated in the Homecoming float competition and the Great American Smoke Out. They elected a Mr. and Miss FHA, Ulysses Griffin and Yolanda Smith. They also installed officers at the installation ceremony. Shannon Killebrew said, "I enjoyed the installation ceremonies."

In January and April, they attended regional meetings and state meetings in Tyler and Dallas, Texas. Felitia King said, "I really enjoyed FHA because it taught me to be dependable and responsible. It was very rewarding."

ROTC — all that they can be

Wearing uniforms every Tuesday, ushering at football games, participating in the annual former inspection, and having a military ball were all a part of ROTC.

The one hundred and sixty members participated in many activities including ushering at the Cotton Bowl Classic and the Texas vs. Oklahoma game. They also marched in the Texas vs. OU and Martin Luther King parades. They attended North Zone Drill and Rifle Competition and the Colorguard Competition at Sunset.

Most members had very positive attitudes about ROTC. Four year member Bryron Parker said, "I enjoyed ROTC because it made me feel responsible and people looked up to me." Two year member, Stacy Nerhood said, "I enjoyed ROTC because it taught me a lot of things such as discipline and leadership." Four year member, Les McFarland said, "I enjoyed ROTC because I liked the military experience."

Concert Choir

A "notable" group

Razz-Ma-Tazz, Oklahoma, the winter and spring concerts, and UIL and DISD choir contests were all activities of the concert choir. Laura Woody said, "Being in concert choir was hard work, but it was well worth it."

The concert choir practiced and learned new songs during fourth period. They sang songs such as "E'en so Lord Jesus", "I Will Arise", "Ice Castles", "Remember", and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." Members also practiced on Tuesday nights from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00. The girls practiced at six. Both boys and girls practiced at seven, and the boys practiced at eight.

The concert choir's last performances were at baccalaureate and commencement which were held in June. Shawn Webb said, "It was a lot of fun being in concert choir."

Singers sing a song

Practicing music for contest, learning new songs, and sight reading were all a part of being a member of the Samuell Singers. Karen McDade said, "I enjoyed sight reading because it improved my reading ability."

Under the direction of Mr. Cannon, the Samuell Singers participated in Razz-Ma-Tazz, the winter and spring concerts, and DISD choir contest.

The Samuell Singers practiced daily during second and third periods while learning new songs such as "All Things Bright and Beautiful," "Velvet Shoes," "Sing Softly World," and "The Rose". Lori Guerra said, "It was fun being a part of the Samuell Singers, and Mr. Cannon was really nice."

The ultimate solution

The Math Club improved their math skills. They also participated in many tournaments, including a tournament at Samuell. They participated in math tournaments at Cedar Hill and East Texas State University. They also went to the UIL tournaments.

The highlight of the year was a trip to San Antonio. Only eight members with the highest points were allowed to go to the math tournament in San Antonio. These included two people from each grade. Anthony Tabaniag said, "I enjoyed being in the math club because it improved my math skills and social skills."

As a fund raiser, the math club had a small concession stand where they sold pickles, blow-pops, and popcorn to raise money for the tournaments. Ms. Russell said, "We made a big profit off of the concession stand."

Sitting and standing on their lettered boxes and singing in alto and soprano voices led the premier show group, known as the JESTERS! to many contests. Chris Webb said, "I enjoyed being a part of the JESTERS! because I loved to sing, and I thought standing on the boxes was fun, too."

Besides going to UIL solo and ensemble contest the JESTERS! participated in other activities. They provided entertainment for clubs, churches, and community organizations. They participated in concerts at various elementary schools, and they also performed at the Blanton Elementary School PTA Carnival.

The JESTERS! also participated in various activities at Samuell including Razz-Ma-Tazz, We Are The World, and the annual winter and spring concerts. Sabrina Thompson said, "I enjoyed being in JESTERS! because I loved performing in front of people." Mr. Cannon said, "I thought the JESTERS! did a wonderful job. Thespians — a tough act to follow

Lights, camera, and action were familiar terms to the Thespians. The Thespians acted in various plays throughout the year. They presented creative dramatics to the special education classes. Angela Holloway said, "I enjoyed being in Thespians because it gave me a sense of creativity."

They presented such plays as "The Brute", "Job Security", "How He Lied to Her Husband", A Visitor from Forest Hills, and Splendor in the Grass. Angela Tate said, "My favorite play was Job Security because I played the lead role."

The Thespians have served as ushers for such plays as Infidelities and Little Shop of Horrors. They have attended the Broadway touring company production of 42nd Street and the Dallas Theatre Center production of The Skin of Our Teeth and Kith and Kin. They have also attended master classes taught by guest artists at the Arts Magnet High School. Robin Klimpel said, "Being in Thespians was a rewarding experience, and I felt that it would help me later in life."

The Thespians also helped out many other organizations by serving as the technical crew for pep assemblies, guest artists, Razz-Ma-Tazz, the Christmas Programs, We Are the World, and Oklahoma. Mike Carlisle said, "Being in Thespians is fun because we were always doing something exciting."

Everyone needs a HERO

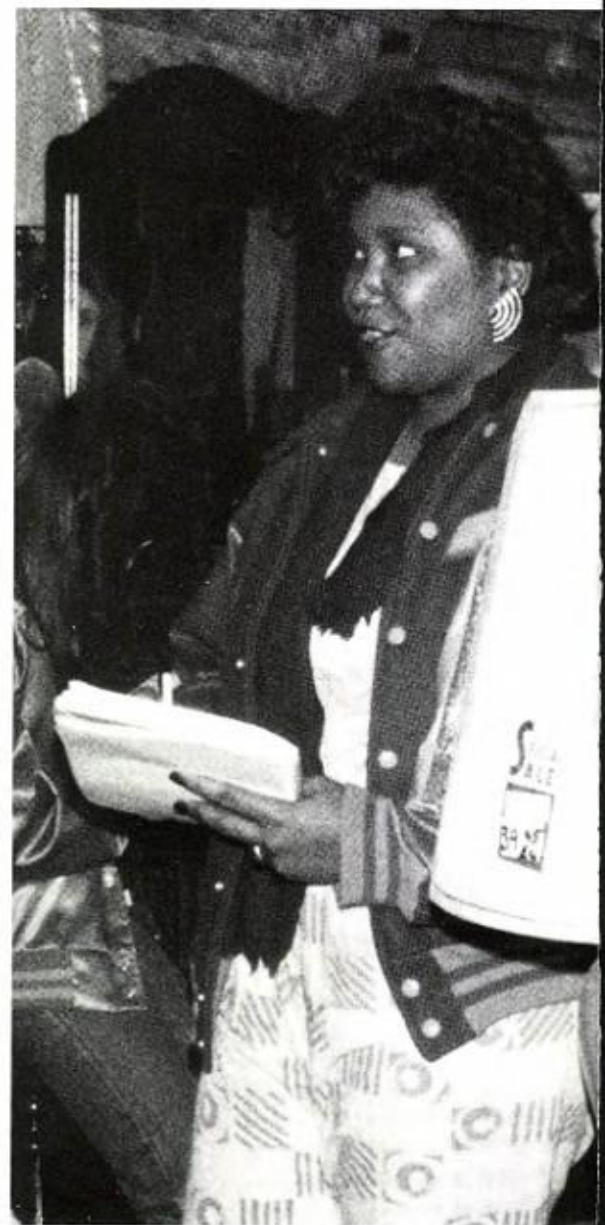

Being in the Home Economics Cooperative Education program and the HERO Club gave students a chance to go to school half a day and work half a day.

The students in Home Economics Cooperative Education held jobs in such areas as food service, child care, home furnishing, and fashion. Dana Caylor said, "I joined HERO because it taught me many things I'll need to know about working when I graduate."

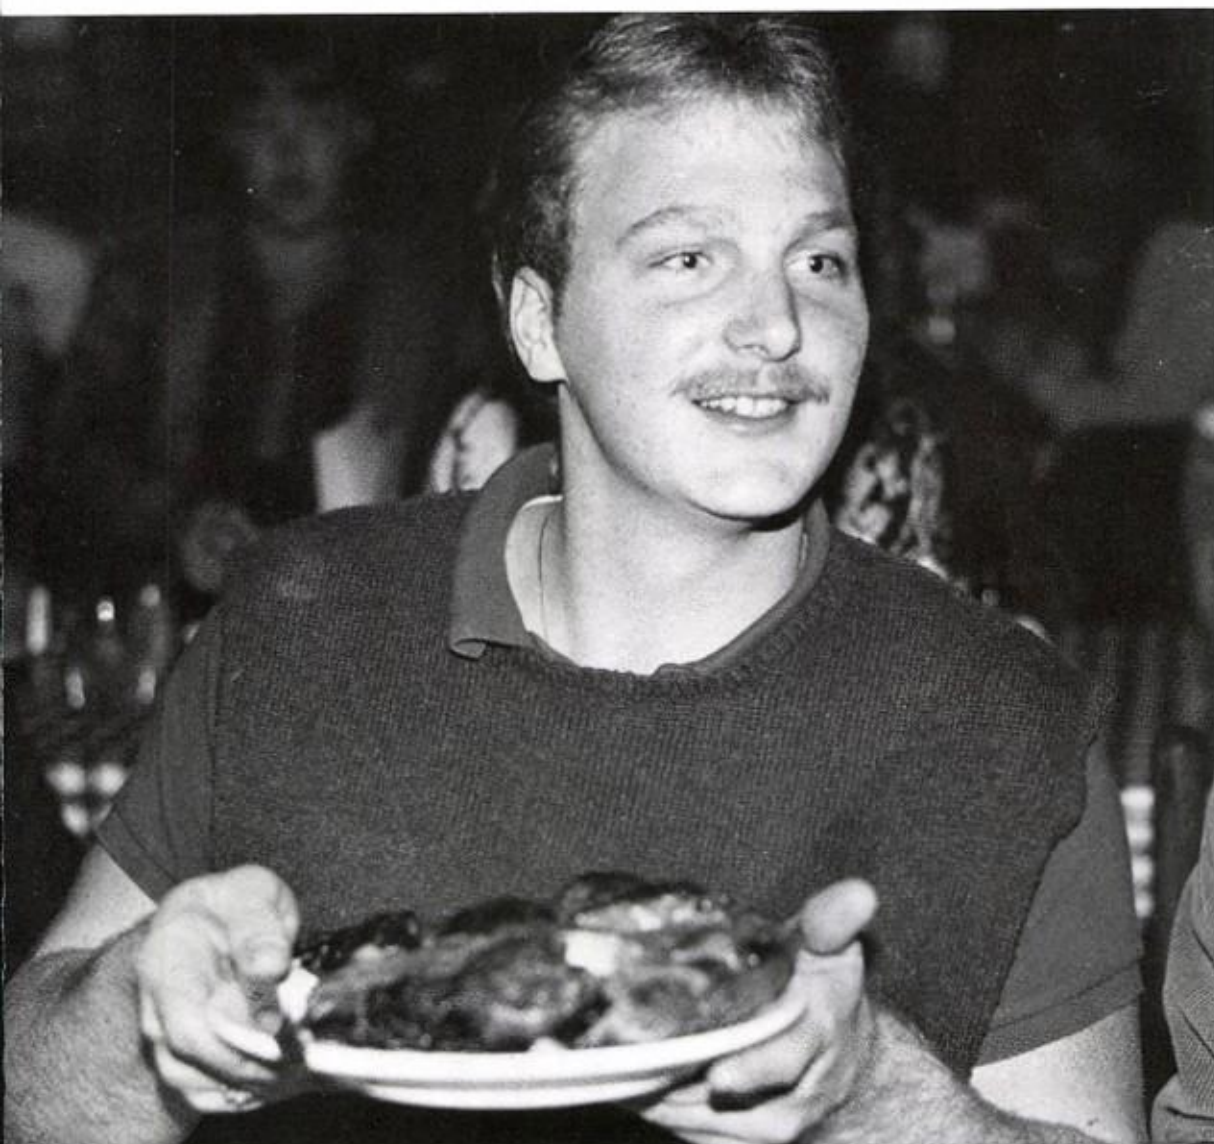

During Christmas HERO visited the Neiman Marcus Fortnight and held a Christmas dance at Trail Dust. As fund raisers, they sold personalized Valentine hearts, pens, candy, and graduation mugs to pay for Torch pages.

The first and third periods HECE classes learned such things as filling out income tax forms, balancing a checking account, renting an apartment, buying cars and homes, and furnishing homes. Shell Cooley said, "I joined HECE because it prepared me for the future." Greta Jackson added, "I joined HECE to be active in school."

Time is money

In the Distributive Education Clubs of America, students participated in activities related to the marketing curriculum. Students trained for jobs in marketing, merchandising, management, and service selling. Donovan Tanner said, "DECA was a very good experience in marketing education, and Ms. Stratton was a very ingenious teacher. She really knew what she was talking about."

In class students studied the free enterprise system, marketing, distribution of goods and services, business mathematics, human relations in business, and advertising and display techniques. Mike Haney said, "DECA was the best learning experience about marketing and distribution one could have on the high school level. Ms. Stratton was the best possible one to teach it, also." David Vance added, "I enjoyed being able to go to school half a day and work half a day."

DECA students attended the Field Study Center of New York. They also sponsored many other activities which included an installation dinner at Samuell in October. At Christmas they adopted a family. They also attended area conferences in Houston and national conventions in Georgia.

Working with VOCT

Working after school was not a problem for members of the Vocational Opportunities Clubs of Texas, a youth leadership organization for Coordinated Vocational Academic Education students. Terry Presley said, "I enjoyed being in VOCT because I liked working and making money."

This year the sponsor of VOCT was Mr. McRae. The members of VOCT attended their annual employer's banquet. They sold candy to raise money for the banquet.

The second period officers were Kenetha Lewis — president, Golden Foreman — vice president, Terry Presley — secretary, James Butler — treasurer, Lequisa Johnson — parliamentarian, and Vevetta Wright — reporter. The third period officers were Ron Godbey — president, Tasha Stinson — vice president, Viviana Prieur — secretary, Matthew Castillo — treasurer, and Greg Stegall — reporter.

Bart Alexander said, "I joined VOCT because it provided me with the experience I need." Lequisa Johnson said, "I joined VOCT because it helped me make more money and I could get out of school earlier."

Earn and learn

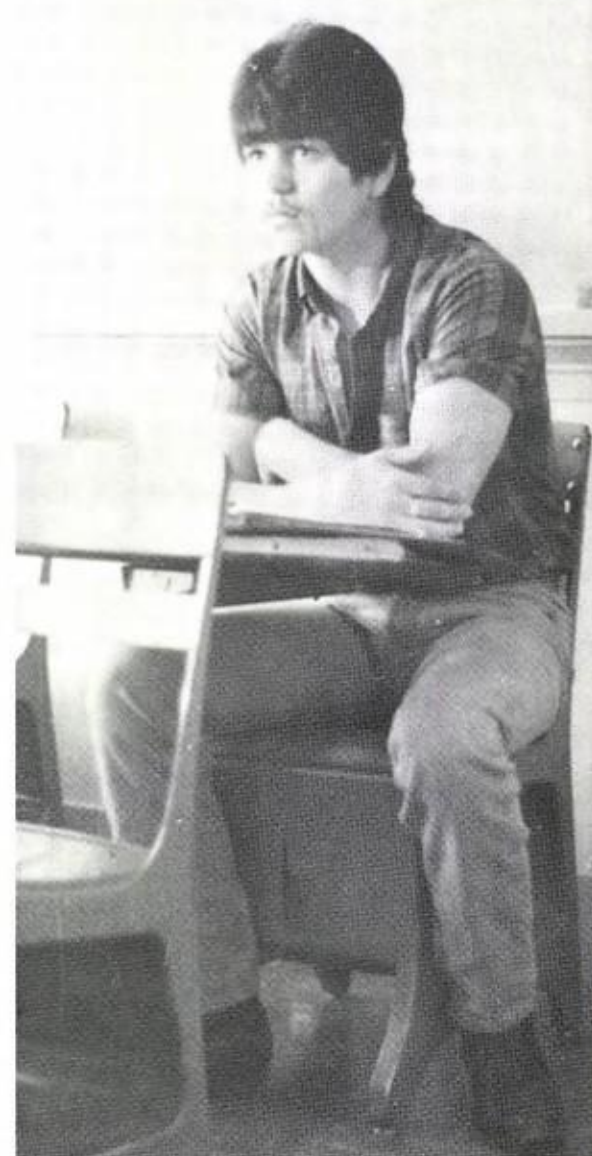

The members in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America went to work for many different types of employers. They were dental assistants, repairmen, plumbers, and stockers. Eliud Alfaro said, "I liked being in VICA because I had a chance to work and learn at the same time."

The sponsor of VICA was Mr. McRae. He said, "We did not get to participate in many activities because many of the students were failing." They did get to participate in a trip to General Motors and their annual employers banquet.

The officers of VICA were George

Welch — president, Harold Couch — vice-president, Mike Paschall — secretary, Chris Casebolt — reporter, James Ashcraft — treasurer, Cletis Johnson and Tommy Mills — sergeant-at-arms.

Harold Couch said, "I joined VICA to get out of school and to get on the job training." Hernandez Van Zandt commented, "I joined VICA to get on the job training too." Michael Paschall said, "I joined VICA to get on the job training, but I also joined because it prepared me for the future."

Typing drills and business letters, learning ten-key touch, how to write checks, and budgeting money were all a part of the Office of Education Association. David Swinney, the only male in OEA said, "I liked OEA because it was an easy class and credit. I did not mind being the only male."

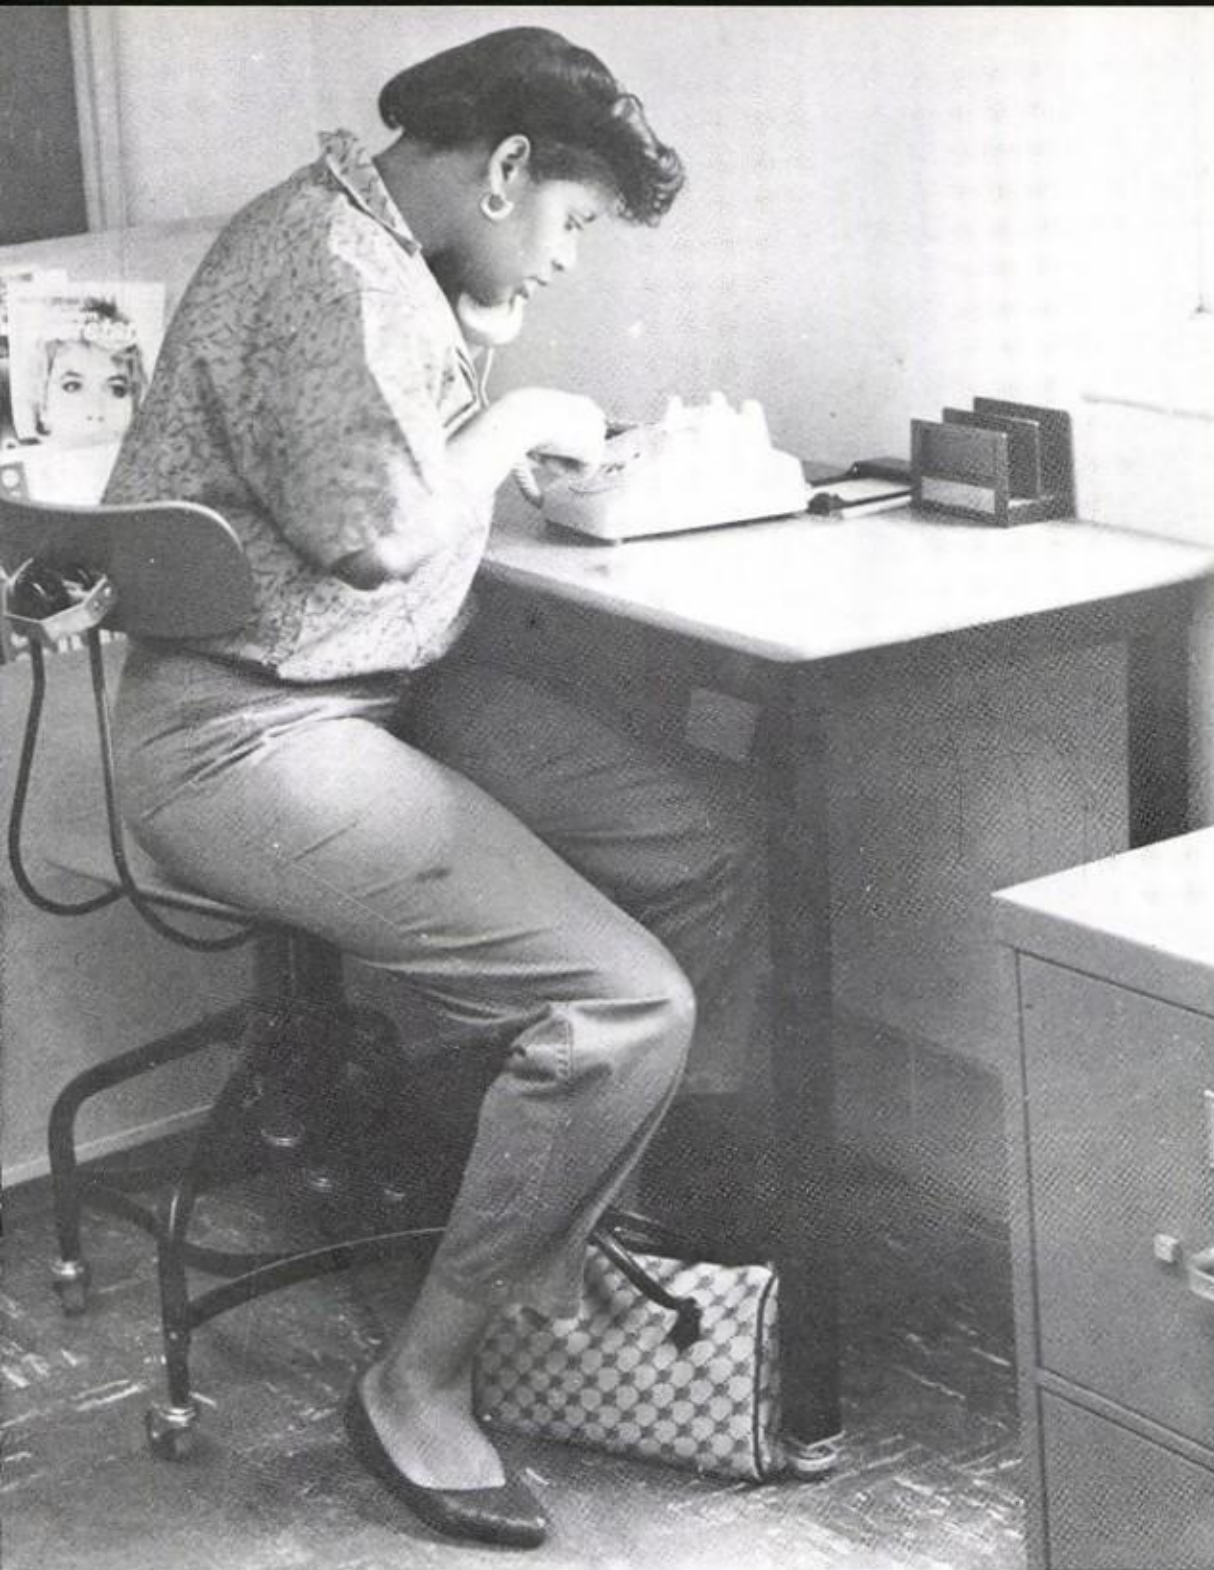

On November 5th a reception was held at the Hyatt Regency to induct all new members. Pam Titus said, "It was fun going to the Hyatt Regency."

This year OEA was combined into one organization instead of two as it had been in the past. All members prepared for a career in the business world. Some members attended school half a day. Jennifer Graham said, "I joined OEA because it was fun, and it prepared me for business type jobs." Elvira Otis added, "I joined OEA because it taught me the office skills that I needed."

A place for everyone

Students participated in various activities that centered around service and leadership. These activities included the NAD, deaf pep club, deaf theater arts, Red Cross, and PAC.

Students also worked in the attendance office, library, and clinic. Tonya May said, "Working in the attendance office allowed me to see the organization possessed by our attendance clerks." Earl McGibboney said, "I enjoyed working in the library because I had some free time, and I could play on the computer that was there."

Red Cross was also a service organization. Denise Tribe said, "I enjoyed being in the Red Cross because I liked helping people help themselves."

The deaf pep club attended pep assemblies and football games. D'Lisa Preston said, "I joined the deaf pep club because my friends persuaded me to." Karrie Miller added, "I joined the deaf pep club because I wanted to become a cheerleader."

The Sentinel staff “presses on”

The Sentinel staff participated in many activities during the 1985-1986 school year. They went to a UIL workshop in Austin, an invitational meet in Plano, and a UIL convention in Austin. Members also attended the Dallas Times Herald Day where the most valuable staffer was chosen.

Besides going to workshops and a convention, The Sentinel staff provided six papers for the student body with the help of the sponsor, Ms. Bell.

Hernandez Van Zandt said, “Ms. Bell was an excellent teacher. She gave us the support we needed.”

Two of the members discussed being on The Sentinel staff. Kathy Tulley said, “I enjoyed being on The Sentinel staff because I enjoyed writing stories and seeing my name in print.” Tanya Smith said, “I enjoyed being on The Sentinel staff because it gave me the chance to meet people.”

Down and out at Samuell High

Down and Out at Samuell High was the theme for the 1985-1986 senior pub.

The fifty-four members on the pub staff were required to do many different jobs in order to make the senior pub a success. Karen Hansen said, "I liked being on the pub staff, but it was very hard work."

Typing pages, gathering information from senior classmates, selling ads, and making posters were all requirements of individuals on the pub staff. Lonnie Stevens said, "It was interesting being on the pub staff especially being business manager."

The pub staff planned a get-together at Fudruckers to celebrate the hard work and long hours contributed by everyone. Maria Olivares, editor-in-chief, said, "We had trouble getting the pub started, but in the end it was a success." Ms. Asams, sponsor of the pub staff said, "I was glad to finally see the material in print."

The spirit of us

Taking pictures, identifying pictures, checking the spelling of names on the alpha list, cropping pictures, and proof reading were all responsibilities of members of the TORCH staff. Many hours were spent after school completing pages for deadlines and rewriting copies. Denise Tribe, freshman editor, said, "It was hard to meet all the deadlines, but it was worth it." Tonya Culton, copy editor, said, "Being in TORCH was fun, but it consisted of a lot of work, especially when I had to rewrite copies numerous times."

The year began in July when members of the TORCH staff and sponsor, Ms. Mary K. McCollum, spent a week at camp at SMU. Maria Oliveras said, "I enjoyed going to camp. My favorite part was trying to put a rough draft together." The year ended a week after school was out. This week was spent trying to complete senior pages. Melissa Carol, editor-in-chief, said, "I really enjoyed being in TORCH even though it was a lot of work."

Ms. McCollum said, "It was an interesting year. Most of the staff were hard workers and really came through when I needed them at deadline time. The group was nice, and I enjoyed working with them. Only this group of people really knew how much time and effort went into the production of the yearbook."

Photographer Chris Henderson, was selected as outstanding TORCH member. Without all his hard work, there would not have been a yearbook.

Julie Granberry is a Gumby freak.

THE Spirit of THE GROVE

Buckner and the Pleasant Grove area provided Spartans with many places to shop, eat, and just hang out. Leticia Martinez said, "My favorite place to shop was Love that Store." Shannon Cooley added, "My favorite restaurant was El Chico."

There were numerous businesses and churches in the Grove that supported the Spartans, and in turn the Spartans supported them. These included Natalie School of Dance, St. Augustine Catholic Church, Dot's

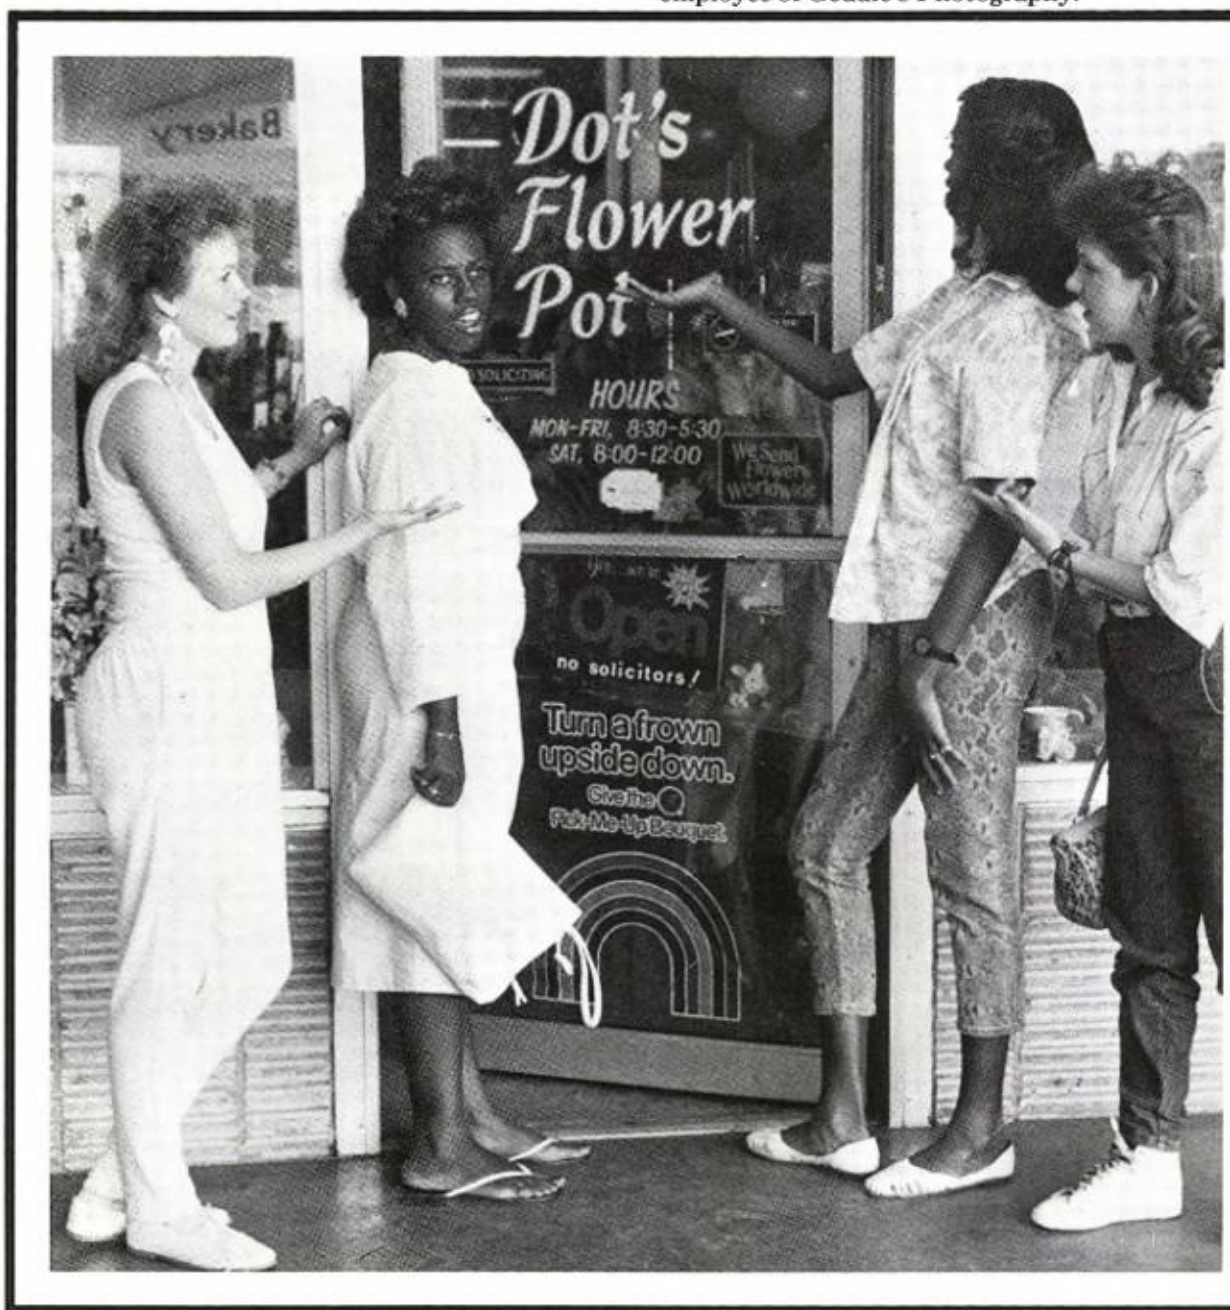

Flower Pot, Joe R. Gorham D.D.S., Geddie's of Dallas, Symns Flower Shop, Carol's Flower Shop, Bethany Baptist Church, Madden Office Products, Buckner Animal Clinic, Jackson Sporting Goods, Williams Concrete Products, Inc., Dallas Title Company, and Dunkin' Donuts. Ta-Quita Dansby said, "I enjoyed eating, shopping, and hanging out in Pleasant Grove because there were a variety of places from which to choose."

Anthony Tabaniag dreams of one day becoming an employee of Geddie's Photography.

Robin Dean looks for school supplies at Madden.

Denise Tribe, Fonda Boyd, Tonya Culton, and Molly Yandell go to Dots to buy flowers for their Mother Day presents.

Mike W. C.,

I looked at you the other day so grown up in your ways and wondered where the time had gone, the hours and the days. How could you grow so quickly? When did you grow so tall? We remember the years when you were small. It seems sometimes we're strangers; the past so far behind; the years when we were all there, a figment of my mind. We can't quite understand it; we often wish for simple times and hours from our past. We love you and will always be here for you. Thank you for all that you have shared and given us. We are very proud of you and all your achievements. It's been a wonderful 18 years. Good Luck and Congratulations!!

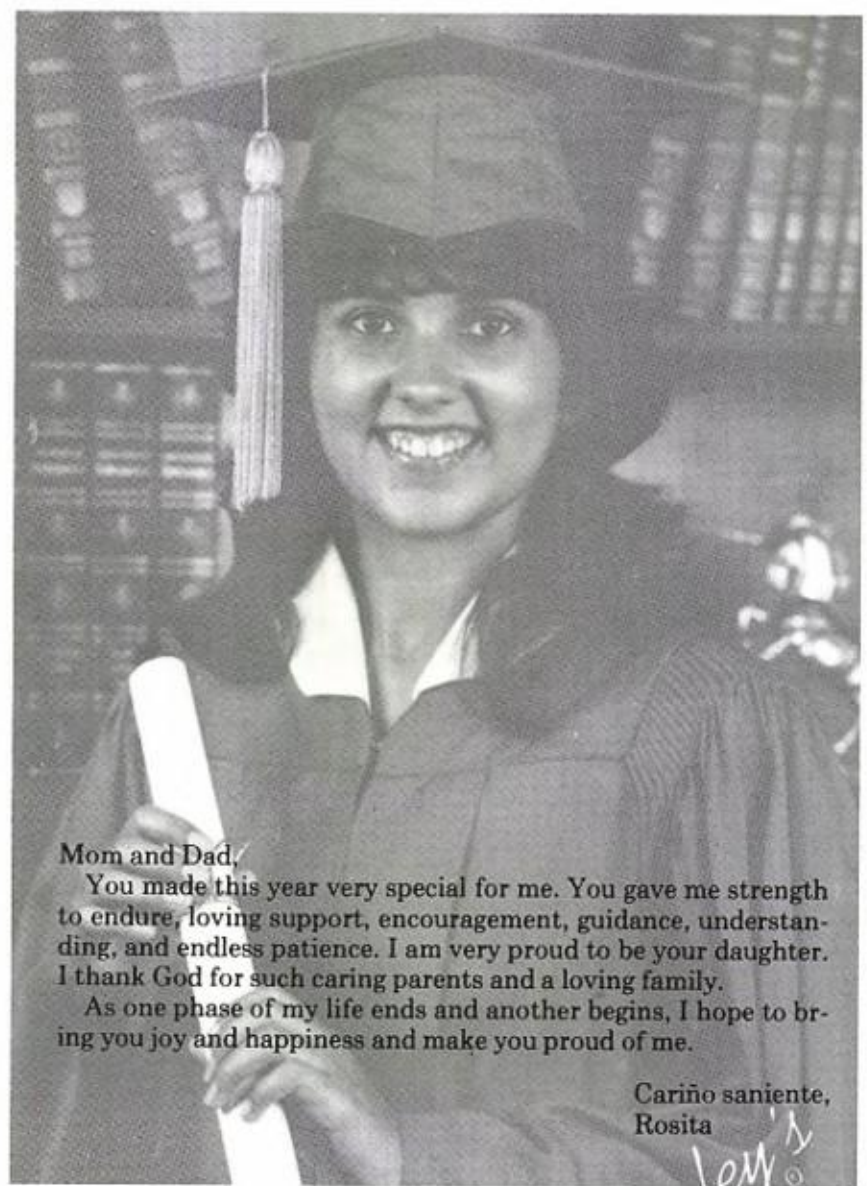

We Love You,
Mom & Dad

M. W. C.,

Good luck to a #1 brother and congratulations!!

Bryan C.

CLASS OF '86

Mom and Dad,

You made this year very special for me. You gave me strength to endure, loving support, encouragement, guidance, understanding, and endless patience. I am very proud to be your daughter. I thank God for such caring parents and a loving family.

As one phase of my life ends and another begins, I hope to bring you joy and happiness and make you proud of me.

Cariño saniente,
Rosita

Chris,

Always remember, things that come easy have little value. The things that you have accomplished show great effort and endurance so they are of great value to you and us. We are proud of what you have done.

Continue to work hard and remember the values you were brought up with. God bless and keep you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Carl

Donald Morrison,

Congratulations! We are very proud of you. May the Lord bless you. We love you.

Mother & Daddy

Christie,

Congratulations to our granddaughter.

We love you,
Grandma & Howard

Amy,

I couldn't have asked for a sweeter sister than you! May you accomplish all your goals and may God be with you every step of the way.

Love,
Your Big Sis,
Christie

Christie,

Thanks for always being around whenever I needed you. We have had some good times and I will never forget them. I am so glad that we have become sisters.

Love you,
Sandy

Cherry,

The time has gone too, too fast. It's hard to believe your school days are behind you and you're all grown up. Just always remember how very proud you have made us and how much we'll always love our "Little Girl."

Love,
Daddy & Momma

Mother & Daddy,

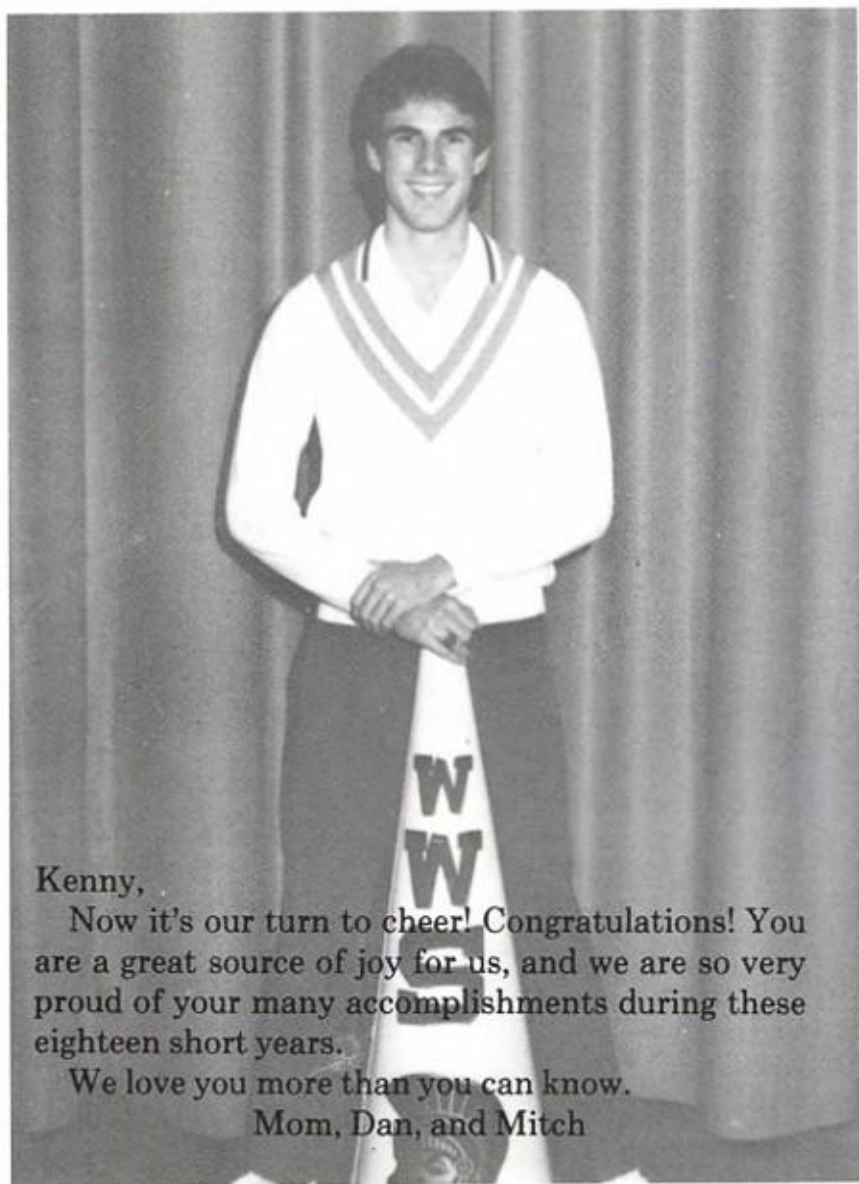

Y'all mean the world to me. I couldn't have done as much as I have without you backing me in everything I did. Thanks for everything.

I Love You,
Sandy

Dear Melissa,

You have given us eighteen years of joy and amazement. We never believed we could raise such an intelligent, beautiful, talented and thoughtful person. Please have as happy a life.

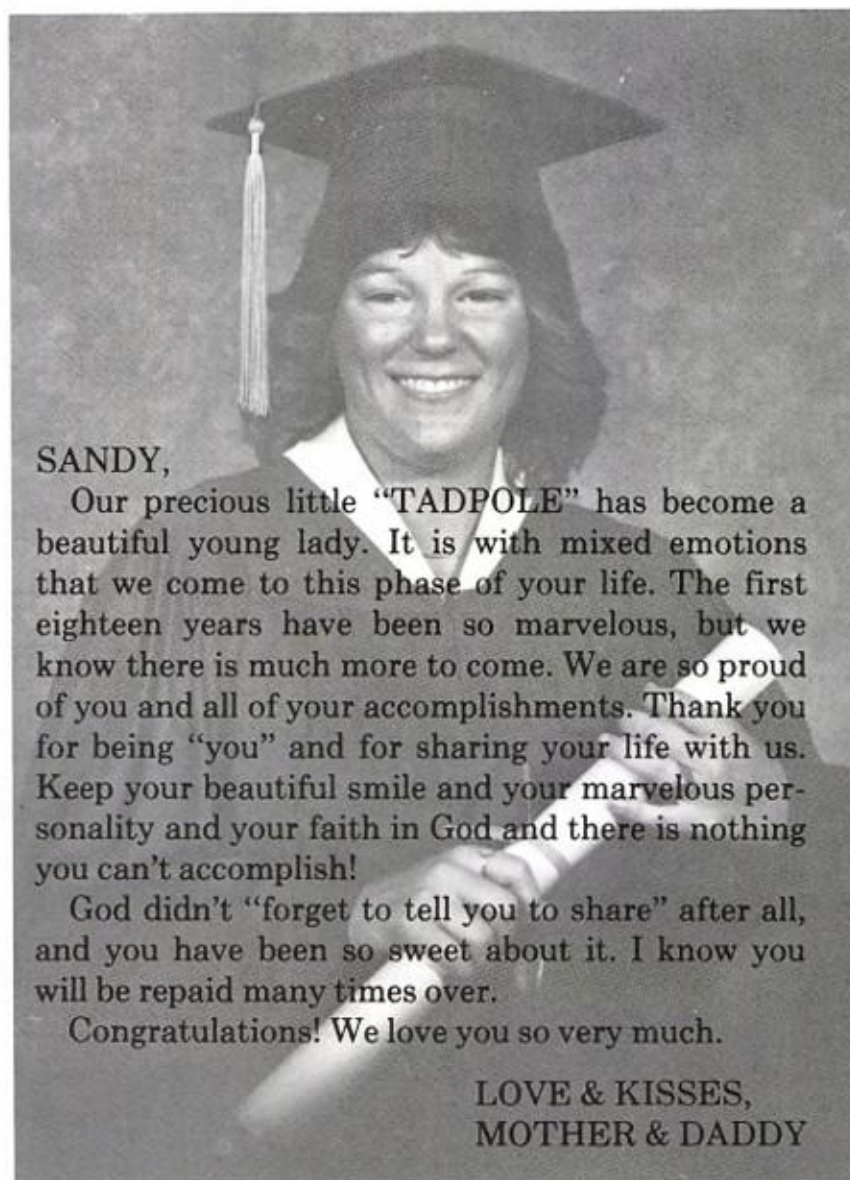

Love,
Mom and Dad

Kenny,

Now it's our turn to cheer! Congratulations! You are a great source of joy for us, and we are so very proud of your many accomplishments during these eighteen short years.

We love you more than you can know.
Mom, Dan, and Mitch

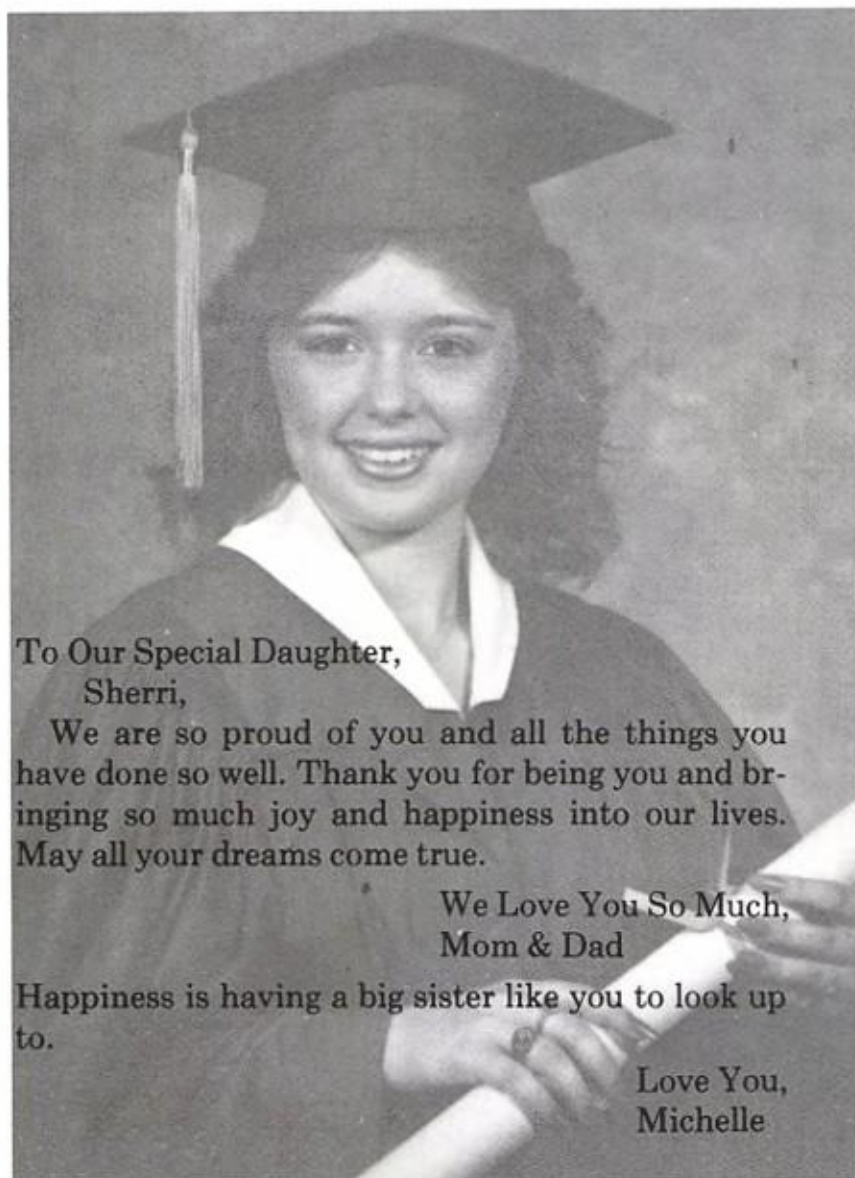

SANDY,

Our precious little "TADPOLE" has become a beautiful young lady. It is with mixed emotions that we come to this phase of your life. The first eighteen years have been so marvelous, but we know there is much more to come. We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments. Thank you for being "you" and for sharing your life with us. Keep your beautiful smile and your marvelous personality and your faith in God and there is nothing you can't accomplish!

God didn't "forget to tell you to share" after all, and you have been so sweet about it. I know you will be repaid many times over.

Congratulations! We love you so very much.

LOVE & KISSES,
MOTHER & DADDY

To Our Special Daughter,
Sherri,

We are so proud of you and all the things you have done so well. Thank you for being you and bringing so much joy and happiness into our lives. May all your dreams come true.

We Love You So Much,
Mom & Dad

Happiness is having a big sister like you to look up to.

Love You,
Michelle

To the 1986 TORCH staff,

Dottie Bellah, Fonda Boyd, Cherry Brown, Melissa Carol, Tonya Culton, Sheree Davis, Vanda Edwards, Cynthia Espinoza, Sandy Gibson, Julie Granberry, Monica Hamilton, Chris Henderson, Susan McAnally, Earl McGibboney, Tonya May, Shaynor Newsome, Maria Olivares, Ricky Phillips, Kenny Rogers, Shannon Shaw, Amy Smelser, Anthony Tabaniag, Joann Tabaniag, Sabrina Thompson, Denise Tribe, John White, and Molly Yandell — what a group. This has been an interesting year. I have grown to enjoy and appreciate each of you for your own special qualities. I can honestly say I have never had a funnier group or a group where the unexpected was expected.

A special thanks to Dottie Bellah, Fonda Boyd, Tonya Culton, Sheree Davis, Vanda Edwards, Cynthia Espinoza, Sandy Gibson, Julie Granberry, Monica Hamilton, Chris Henderson, Susan McAnally, Earl McGibboney, Maria Olivares, Ricky Phillips, Anthony Tabaniag, Sabrina Thompson, Denise Tribe, John White, Molly Yandell, and Melissa Carol, Editor-in-chief, who indexed the last page, wrote the last copy, reprinted the last picture (I hope it is the last), and laid out and proof read the last page. You came through, and I appreciate that.

Remember cleaning 210, working in 202, going to camp at SMU, throwing pictures, eating at Thunder Bumpers and Pizza Inn, working at school June 9th-13th, and all the good times and the bad. I have lots of memories. Thank you.

Love,
MKM

THE Spirit of ENDINGS

As the school year drew to a close, the seniors, underclassmen, and faculty were all busy. They each had things to do.

The seniors had to study for exams and make sure they had all the required credits to graduate. They were also busy with senior activities such as the prom, senior assembly, and senior picnic. Anthony Tabaniag said, "I hated having to study for exams, but it was worth it."

The underclassmen were busy studying for exams and planning their schedule for the upcoming year. They also had to clean out lockers.

Another part of the closing of the school year was saying goodbye. Seniors, underclassmen, and faculty all felt both happy the year was over, but sad to see some of their friends leave. Monica Hamilton said, "I'm glad that the seniors graduated, but I was upset to see them leave."

The teachers also had many things to do. They had to average grades, collect books, check exams, and clean their rooms so that they could be painted after the asbestos removal of the previous year. Ms. Adams said, "It was difficult to try and grade papers and exams, average grades, and clean my room all at once."

Sabrina Thompson and Kevin Grounds dance "Careless Whispers" at the Senior Prom.

Monica Hamilton takes down the bulletin board for the last time.

Looks like Kimbla Roberts made it!

The seniors look for their names on the program as they anxiously wait to receive their diplomas.

Ms. Perez is delighted to know the school year will soon be over.

Pam Titus enjoys reading the last edition of the Sentinel.

Inetta Lott, Mary Henderson, and Maria Olivar admire their graduation robes.

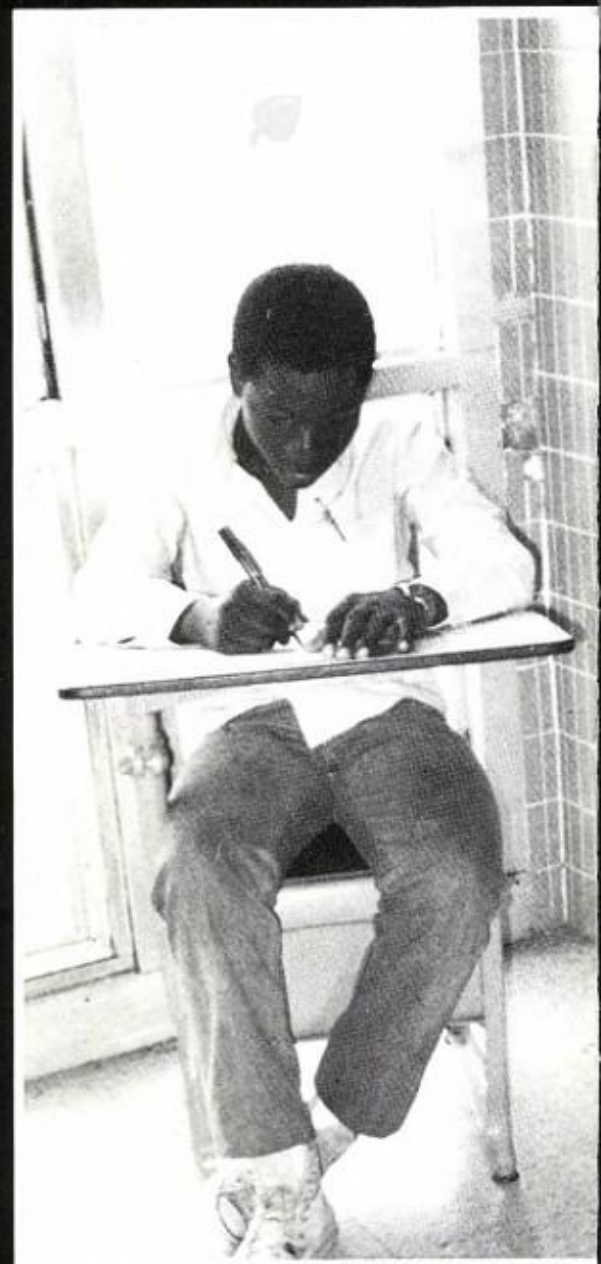

Spirited moments

Many spirited moments were spent at Samuell. They began the first day of school. Diwanaca McCray said, "My most memorable moment was the first day of school." Rodney Brown added, "My most memorable moment was the last day of school."

Some of the spirited moments consisted of the Special Olympics which were held May 28th through May 30th. Many students participated in Hands Across America which was held on May 25th. In Hands Across America, Samuell students and faculty joined hands on Jim Miller and Hunnicut to help the hungry and homeless people. Michelle Lipscomb said, "I enjoyed participating in Hands Across America because it was to help the needy."

Other special moments consisted of baseball and basketball games, track meets, and seniors coming to school after taking exams during the week of May 30th through June 5th. Lakeith Osborne said, "My most memorable moment was playing basketball." Corey Dickerson said, "My most memorable moment was running at track practices and meets." Rosalie York added, "My most memorable moment was my first day in band."

Donnis Boston doesn't enjoy doing makeup work for Ms. Butler in the hall.

Donna Courson, Dana Caylor, and Shell Cooley are ready for the world.

Sherree Davis and Chrsitie Bevill hope graduation is as well as Baccalaureate.

Cherry Brown and Michael Haney arrive at the senior luncheon.

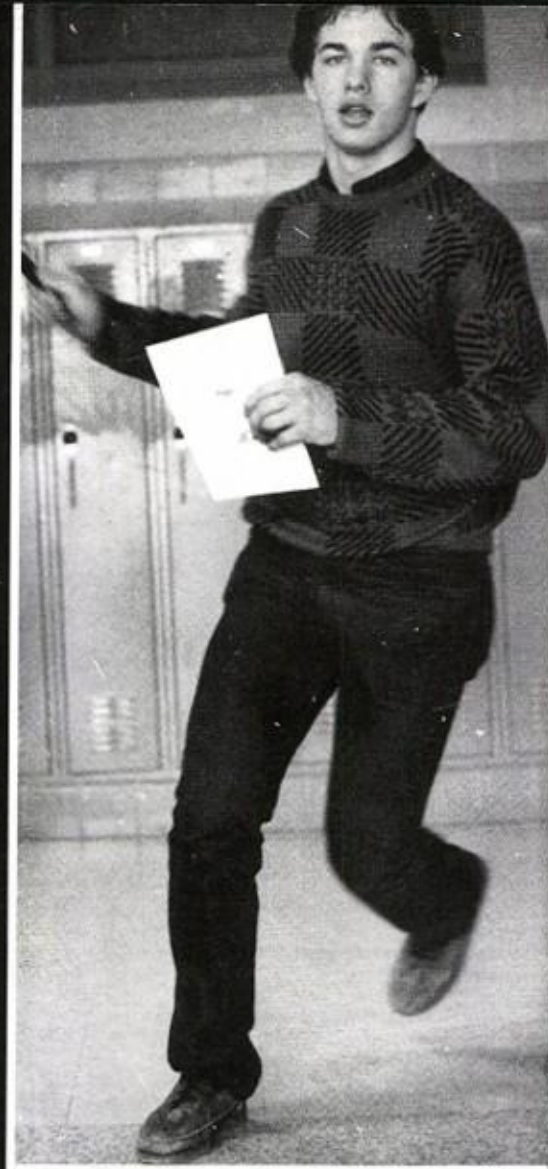

Sherri Crouch holds David Currents hand as he gives blood while Dr. Baca watches.

Spirited farewells

Tears, fears, and cheers were all a part of the last day of school. Students shed tears as they parted with friends. Seniors feared the adult world and what the future might bring. Everyone, seniors, underclassmen, and teachers cheered that they had a two month break from schoolwork. Lisa Lipscomb said, "My saddest moment was seeing my sister and Mary Williams leave Samuell." Jeff Gilbreath said, "My saddest moment was seeing Ron Smith leave my drafting class." Janet Anderson and

Floyce Whitehead added, "Our saddest moment was seeing all the seniors crying after the senior assembly."

Teachers spent the day saying their good-byes to retirees Ms. Clayton, Ms. Jones, Ms. Louis Wright, Ms. Veda Wright, and Ms. Crawford. A reception was held for them on May 28th in the library. Carolyn Christensen said, "My saddest moment was seeing all the teachers that are retiring leave." Ms. McCollum added, "All the retirees will be missed."

On the last day of school Lance Phillips made quick exit.

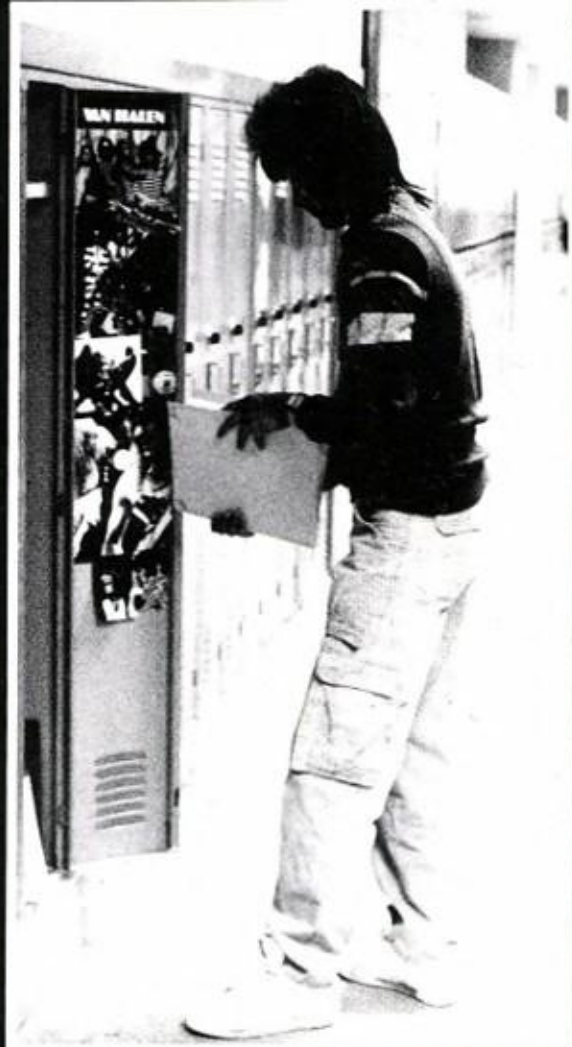

Ms. Hamilton, Ms. Ortiz, and Ms. Gambrell wait for the last PTA meeting to begin.

Dr. Hughey, Rosa Garcia, Sheree Davis, and Joe Dellinger present the "Don't Mess With Texas" bag to the senior class.

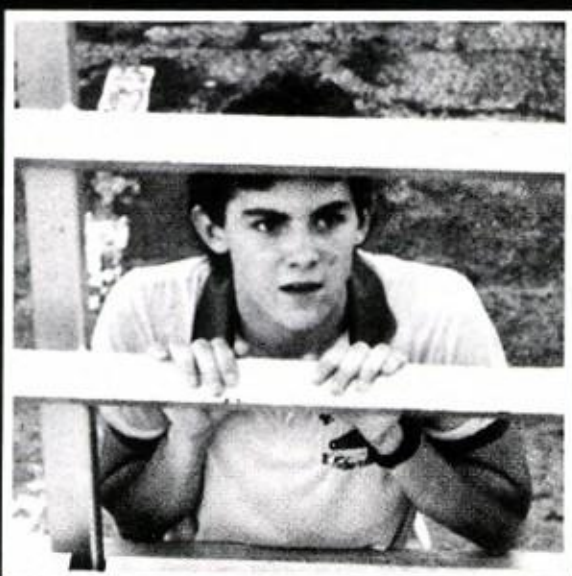

Mark Busby comforts Dottie Bellah after the spring show.

Carlos Castellano cleans out his locker and takes Van Halen home for the summer.

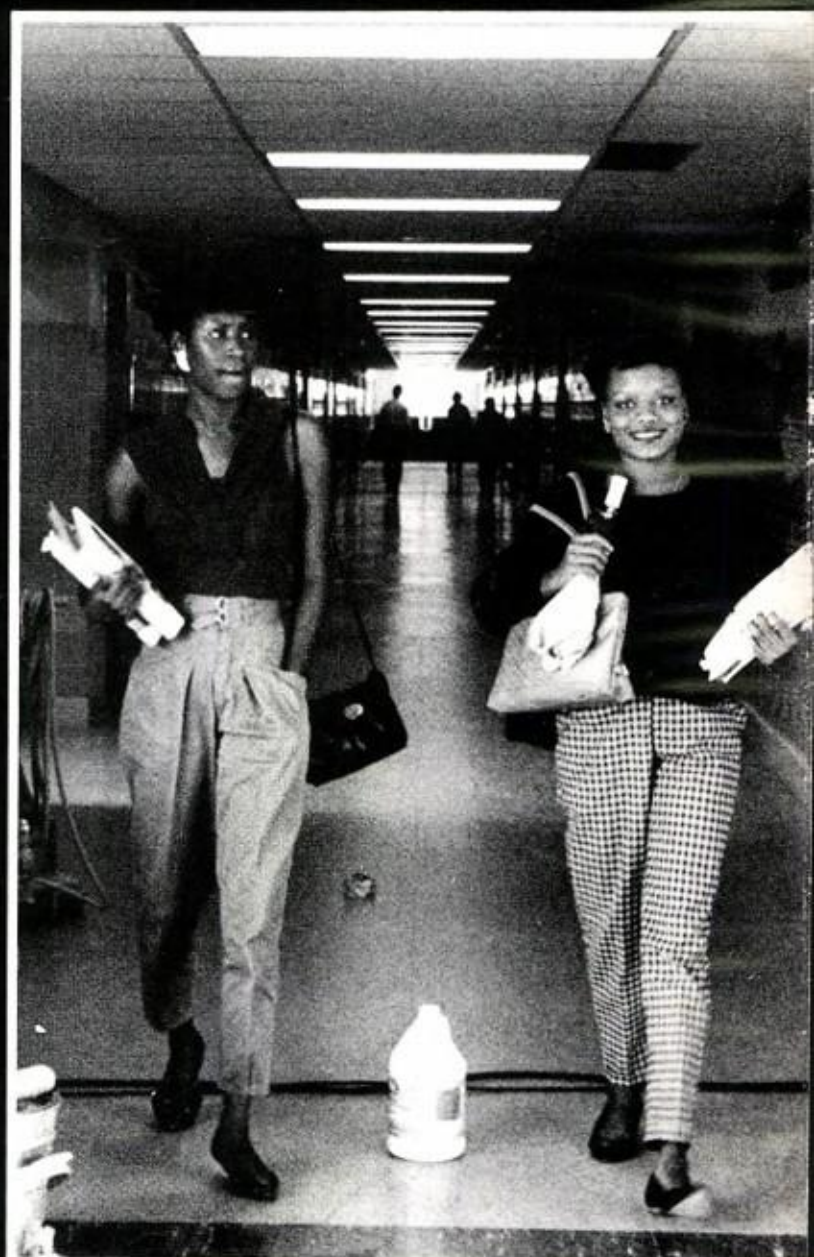

Melissa Avery weighs Clarence Hinkle for the clinics records.

At the Blue/Gold game Billy Robinson asks Ms. Adams which cheer they should do next.

Seniors sing the alma mater at graduation.

Missey Pinnekins and Sonja Bates leave the custodians to clean up.

Spirited memories

Being a part of athletics, cheerleading, drill, TORCH, The Sentinel, choir, band, and other organizations kept the Spartans busy during the 1985-1986 school year. Students also participated in Razz-Ma-Tazz, Oklahoma, Band Show, JESTERS! Show, Starlet Revue, We Are The World, and senior assembly. Steve Briggs said, "My best memory was seeing the Dirty Trix band perform in the senior assembly." Elonda Thomas said, "I will always remember seeing Anthony Richardson emcee the senior assembly."

The 1985-1986 school year will be remembered for many things. Teachers at Samuell passed the TECAT and students passed the Learner Standard Test. Mark Walker said, "I thought it was dumb for the teachers to have to take a test, but I was glad that most of them passed it."

Other memories consisted of favorite teachers, students, and classes. Jeremy Bigham said, "I will not ever forget being in Ms. Pipkins class." Jewel Benjamin added, "I will never forget being in Ms. Davila's class."

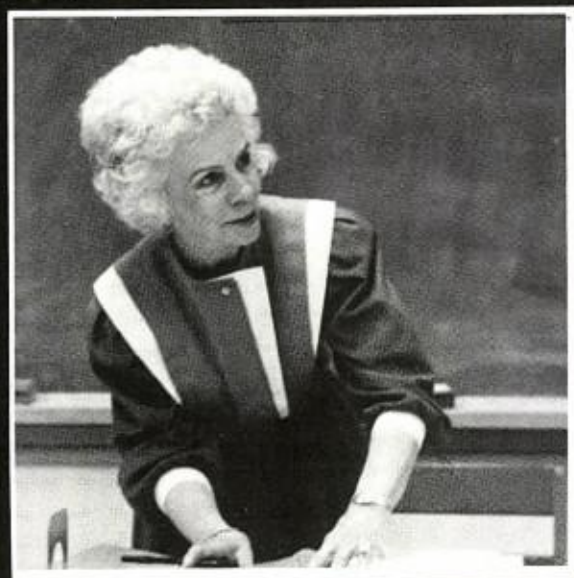

Although the 1985-1986 school year had been a year of adjustments for both the students and faculty, everyone will remember the good and the bad times.

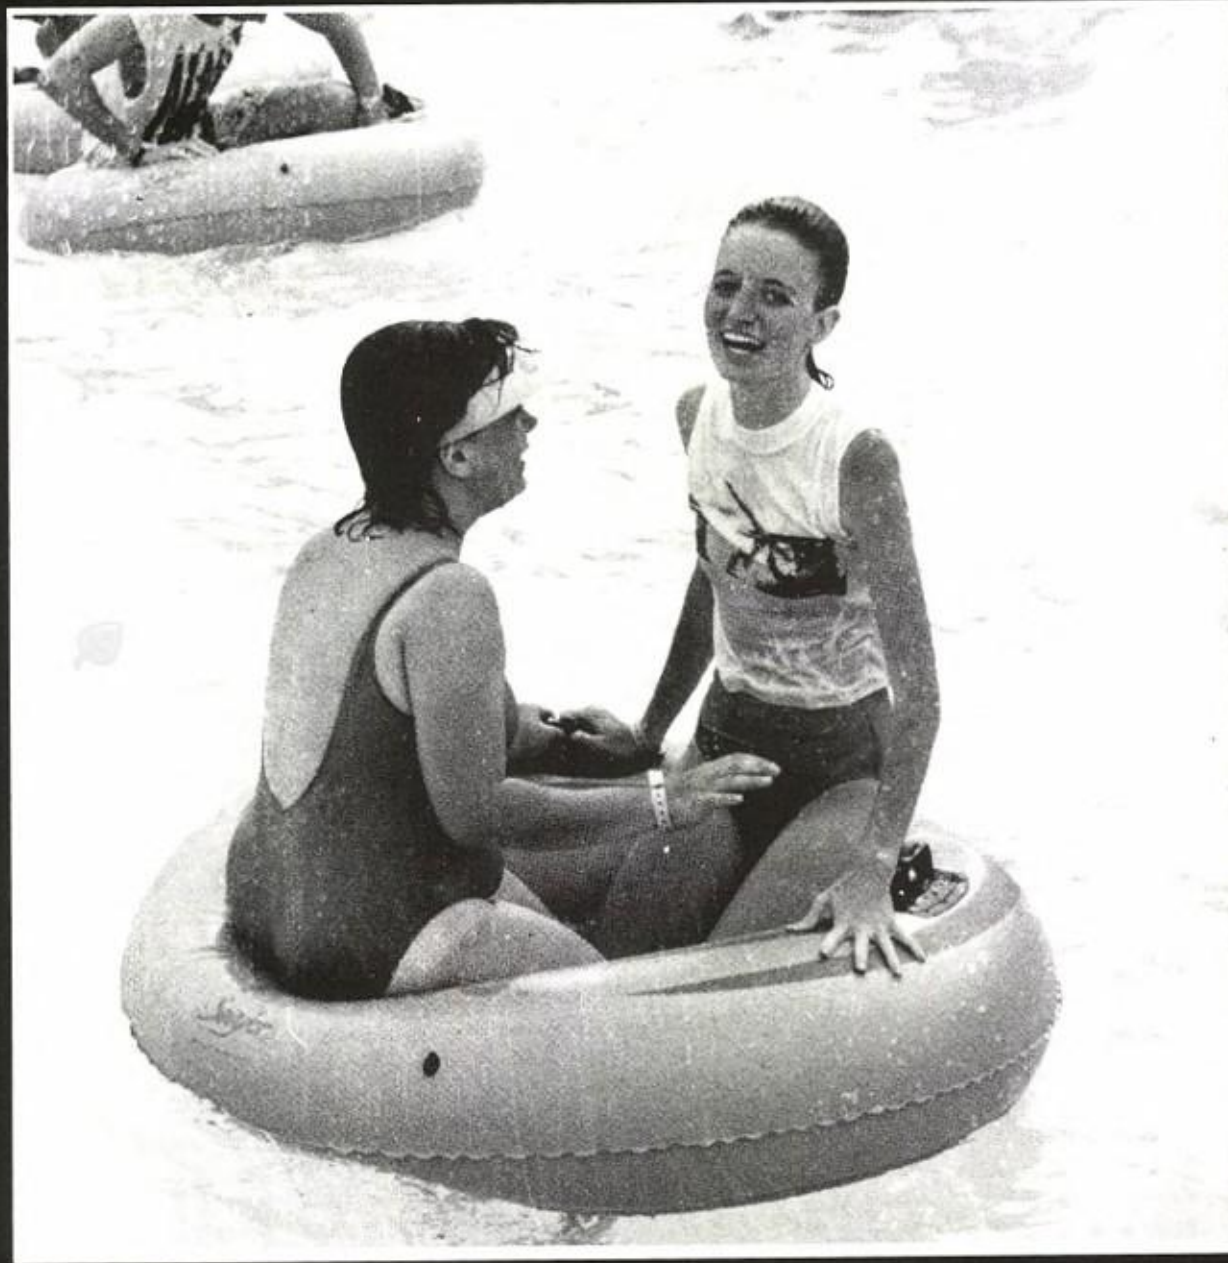

Amy Clement just can't believe school is final over.

Wesley Bain doesn't like having to wear a tie and jacket to the DECA conventions.

Ms. Crawford cleans off her desk for the last time.

Shannon Julsen and Susan McNally wait for the waves at the senior picnic.
